Marybelle Wallace Slain... State Capitol

Los Angeles Family Bereft by Jealousy

Last rites for Marybelle Wallace, ... years of age, who died the victim of a jealous suitor's gun the 16th ... in the State Capitol at Sacramento, will be conducted at 9 a.m. today with requiem high mass from the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, 6657 Sunset Boulevard.

Her funeral will add the last chapter to the tragedy which ended a love affair of several years' standing between herself and Harry Hill, a ... stylist. Hill, angered because she refused his advances, lingered ... the Senate journal room, where Miss Wallace was employed as clerk, until she left for the day he fired three bullets into her body and then committed suicide. Hill was 41 years of age.

Miss Wallace was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wallace of ... North Rampart street. Besides her parents she leaves five sisters, Mrs. Leo McCreary, Mrs. Thomas R. Johnson, Joetha, Harriet and Katherine, and three brothers, Angus, John and Thomas Wallace, Jr.

Interment will be in Calvary cemetery. Pierce Brothers, funeral directors, will be in charge.

BROTHER CLAIMS BODY OF HARRY HILL

SACRAMENTO, April 17. (AP)—The body of Harry Hill, 51 years of age, rejected suitor of Miss Marybelle Wallace, 29, Senate journal clerk, who killed the woman in the State Capitol Friday afternoon and then committed suicide, will be sent to Los Angeles tomorrow for burial. Funeral services were announced today by William Hill, a brother, of Thousand Oaks.

The official investigation into the tragedy which threw the center of the State's government into a turmoil will be concluded tomorrow or Tuesday when Coroner Garlick will open an inquest. Senator Edwin A. Meserve of San Diego and Senator Charles W. Lyon of Los Angeles are among those called to testify.

PREMIER RAISES CRY OF WAR AT SOVIET RALLY

Declares Imperialistic Republics Forcing Struggle Against China; Sixteen Troop Units Called

MOSCOW, April 18. (AP)—War may be "thrust on Russia by imperialist nations," therefore it behooves the soviet union "to prepare actively and meet the threat," Premier Alexis Rykoff told the delegates to the all-union soviet convention which opened here today. He expressed the opinion that "war may come this year or next year, but sooner or later, since jealousy on the part of the imperialists over Russia's success of establishing a true Socialist republic will impel them to provoke a conflict."

Referring to the coming international arms conference the soviet Premier declared it was intended as an effort to limit expenses so that the imperialists might hold a grip on the weaker nations.

With regard to China he asserted the policy of the powers appeared to him as a concerted effort to involve China in war with the soviet union.

GRAVE DISORDERS IN SOUTHERN RUSSIA

BUCHAREST (Rumania) April 18. (AP)—Grave disorders throughout Southern Russia and the Ukraine are reported by refugees arriving at the Bessarabian frontier who, in statements printed in the newspaper Adeverul, describe the situation as alarming. Violent demonstrations have taken place at Kiev, Odessa and Kherson against the bourgeois states, the manifestants shouting "Hands off China."

In the Ukraine the separatists are profiting by the disturbed condition to attempt a movement, and the Cheka (secret-service organization) is reported in full activity.

Sharp clashes between the people and the Red army, advices state, have occurred at Valnicova, Barcaci and Tiraspol, and extensive troop movements toward Kiev and Odessa have been observed.

The soviet authorities have called up sixteen contingents, but the citizens refused to present themselves, many of them hiding in cellars and the forests or attempting to escape into Poland and Rumania.

The Bessarabian frontier is crowded with refugees, most of whom have been driven back by frontier guards.

NEW DECREE FOR CHINA

Powers to Place Time Limit

Answer to First Note on Nanking Outrage Held Unsatisfactory

Kellogg Reported Uncertain as to Next Action; Cruiser Fired On

LONDON, April 18. (AP)—It was authoritatively stated today that new demands on the Cantonese government, which will be more vigorous in tone and possibly include a time limit for compliance, will be made by the five powers which delivered identic notes to the Cantonese government last week as a result of the Nanking disorders of March 24.

It was stated that these new demands will be made as a result of the "unsatisfactory" replies made several days ago to the powers by Eugene Chen, the Cantonese Foreign Minister at Hankow, to the original Nanking demands.

The powers which made the original demands on the Cantonese government, delivering copies of the identic notes both to the Hankow government and to Gen. Chang Kai-Shek, who is now at Nanking, where a new government is reported to have been set up in opposition to that of Hankow, were the United States, Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy.

MINISTERS REPORT

It was stated that the Peking ministers of the five governments involved had reported to their respective governments regarding Chen's replies to the identic protests demanding an apology and reparation for the Nanking outrages.

It also was declared that the ministers were in complete agreement that Chen's answer, proposing the creation of an international commission to determine responsibility for the Nanking incident, was insufficient and likely to cause procrastination and possible discord among the powers.

KELLOGG DELAYS IN DEFINITE STEPS

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Despite intimations in Paris and London of a five-power agreement to send another and more sharply-worded note to the Hankow government on the Nanking outrages had been reached, Secretary Kellogg was still undecided tonight as to the next step so far as the United States is concerned.

The Secretary began personal consideration of the reply made by Eugene Chen, Hankow Foreign Minister, and recommendations as to an answer transmitted by Minister MacMurray at Peking, when he returned to his desk this morning from a brief Easter vacation. The Secretary himself was authority for the statement that he had reached no decision.

CRUISERS FIRED ON

While word was going out from the State Department, additional reports came to the Navy from Admiral Williams, commanding American forces in Chinese waters, that the American destroyer Ford and the cruiser Cincinnati had been fired upon on the Yangtse River. The Cincinnati returned the fire, silencing the Chinese guns. No casualities were reported.

The London and Paris reports of an additional and more strongly-worded note are believed to refer to the diplomats in Peking and to imply that Minister MacMurray and his colleagues there are in agreement that a sharp note should be sent. There was no official intimation in Washington, however, as to recommendations MacMurray may have submitted.

MODERATION WINS

At the time of the formulation of the first identic notes demanding reparations for the Nanking outrages, there were indications that the Washington government was not prepared to take as drastic action as the Peking diplomats may have suggested. In the end, the more moderate course favored in Washington apparently won the support of all the other governments concerned. Whether Secretary Kellogg is again inclined to attempt further negotiation with the Hankow authorities rather than to resort to something in the nature of an ultimatum to enforce compliance with the Nanking demands, is not known.

In any event, until Washington officials know with reasonable accuracy what the most recent Chinese political upheaval may signify, there may be a tendency to delay any reply to the Chen communication.

FOOD PRICES HERE SHOW SLIGHT DROP

Los Angeles in Fourth Place in Return to Prewar Costs Level

WASHINGTON, April 18. (Exclusive)—The cost of living in Los Angeles gauged by the average family expenditure for food now is but 42 per cent above the average for 1913, taken as the prewar year, according to the United States Department of Labor. In only three cities, Salt Lake City, Portland and Denver, are food prices of today nearer prewar levels than in Los Angeles.

Chicago food costs are 65 per cent above prewar; Washington and Detroit 60 per cent, New York 57 per cent and San Francisco 50 per cent. These figures are all based on returns made to the Department of Labor.

According to the department the cost of living in Los Angeles on March 15 was 1 per cent lower than on the same date last year, and food prices the middle of last month were 2 per cent lower than on February 15.

Navy Confirms New Airplane Altitude Record

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—The opinion of the Navy Department that Lieut. George R. Henderson established a new altitude record for seaplanes carrying a load of 500 kilograms (1102 pounds) was confirmed today by an official check of the ship's instruments by the bureau of standards.

Henderson, who made the flight last Thursday, soared 22,178 feet above the earth, passing the previous high figure of 20,300 feet, established by A. Passaleva, an Italian aviator, in December, 1926. The Italian's record will hold, however, until Henderson's flight has been approved by the aeronautique internationale.

Clarence Dillon Confined With Illness Attack

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Clarence Dillon, head of Dillon, Read & Co., stock brokers, has been confined to his home for three days suffering from an attack of aural vertigo, it was learned today.

Mr. Dillon, who has been active in past two weeks in the Goodyear stockholders' suit for $15,000,000, was stricken Saturday and rushed to his home in an ambulance. His condition is not serious, his physicians said.

RETIRED BANKER DIES

BERKELEY, April 18. (AP)—George P. Baxter, 63 years of age, retired banker of Sebastapol and Berkeley, died today in the University of California Hospital following a brief illness. Baxter was widely known in financial circles in California, having prior to his retirement served as president of the Berkeley National Bank.

Will Rogers Remarks:

CLEVELAND, April 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If you want to read one of the only real straightforward statements ever issued by a politician read Al Smith's. He explains that if elected President all Protestants would not be exterminated, that even a few of the present Senators would be retained, including Tom Heflin, that the Knights of Columbus would not replace the Boy Scouts and the Kiwanis, that mass would not replace golf on Sunday morning, that those that were fortunate enough to have meat could eat it on Friday. It's no compliment to a nation's intelligence when these things have to be explained.

TANAKA TO BE PREMIER FOR JAPAN

Head of Seiyukai Party Accepts Position Vocated by Wakatsuki

TOKIO, April 18. (AP)—Baron Tanaka, head of the Seiyukai Party, has accepted the post of Premier to succeed Premier Wakatsuki, resigned.

Baron Tanaka served as Minister of War in the Hara, Takahashi and Yamamoto cabinets. He was born in 1863, the third son of a humble servant of the feudal lord Mori. The feudal system was abolished not long after Giuchi Tahaka was born. After receiving a meager education in a private school, he entered the military school and eventually rose to the rank of lieutenant-general and member of the general staff. He has been leader of the Seiyukai since 1925. The Seiyukai was created by the late Prince Ito in 1900.

At times this party has had a strong influence in political affairs in Japan, but its parliamentary strength had its ebb and flow, and when Tanaka assumed the presidency of the organization, it was not so flourishing as under the leadership of Hara. Lately, however, it has gained strength.

SOUTH CHILE VOLCANOES IN ERUPTION

Slight Quakes Recorded Repeatedly Since Ruinous Tremor of Thursday

SANTIAGO (Chile) April 18. (AP)—El Salto Observatory, near here, announced today that several volcanoes in Southern Chile have become active.

Large columns of smoke and steam are issuing from the Chilean Volcano, while the Llama is in violent eruption spouting lava and ashes. Similar activity by the Calbuco Volcano is expected any time, says the observatory statement.

Slight earth tremors have been registered on the observatory's seismographs repeatedly since last Thursday's quake, which brought death and ruin in the Chilean capital.

The city authorities have ordered a commission of engineers to inspect buildings throughout the city which have been seriously damaged by the shock.

Due to the possibility of collapsing walls in several buildings in the center of Santiago, street-car and other traffic has been diverted.

Thompson Takes Office Vowing Crimeless City

CHICAGO, April 18. (AP)—William Hale (Big Bill) Thompson tonight was formally inducted into office as Mayor of Chicago for the third time before the largest throng ever crowded into the Council chamber in the City Hall.

Mr. Thompson took the oath of office and furnished bond a week ago and has been serving as Mayor since last Tuesday, but the formal ceremonies were designated by City Council order for tonight.

Crime will be driven out of Chicago in ninety days, he promised, and policemen will be put to work catching criminals instead of snooping about the homes of citizens in search of liquor.

HUGE ARMY BATTLES RISING FLOOD IN SEVEN STATES

Rivers Conquer Arkansas Levees; Thousands of Homeless Rush to Higher Ground

[By the Associated Press]

The ominous rise of the Mississippi and its tributaries surged tonight in a steadily increasing threat to the great delta valley as its inhabitants fought valiantly to stem the relentless overflow which already has wrought immeasurable havoc in parts of seven States. With at least a dozen persons believed dead, thousands homeless, and damage to the fertile lands, crops, live stock and homes mounting into millions, the river States found little encouragement in a forecast of more rain on the upper reaches of the Mississippi, promising additional heights to record crests lashing at the levees all along the stream.

Hourly reports told of man-made barriers breaking under the pressure of boiling currents, sending swirling overflows into thousands of acres of bottom lands while relieving the strain at other points.

GUARDS ON DUTY

As volunteer and conscript worked side by side to stave off the mighty tides, National Guardsmen and private watchmen patrolled the levees in many localities to prevent sabotage by residents seeking to protect their sides of streams at the expense of the others.

Summed up tonight, developments during the past twenty-four hours showed the flood situation as follows:

Levees broken at a score or more points along White, Arkansas and St. Francis rivers in Arkansas, where greatest distress and most extensive ruin noted. Fort Smith water supply cut off and shortage feared. Hundreds of homes entered by flood waters in North Little Rock. Towns of England, Altheimer, Keo and Knowlton threatened.

Many have taken refuge on the levee tops, the only dry spot in sight for miles in numerous areas.

Refugee camps crowded in Arkansas, Missouri and Kentucky. Red Cross estimates at least 25,000 driven from their homes by flood water.

Yazoo delta threatened as Mississippi lapped at tops of levees along front of several hundred miles in Mississippi.

Breaks in levees between St. Louis and Cairo, Ill., checked rising Mississippi.

Still higher stages predicted by Memphis Weather Bureau as upstream flood waters move southward. Washington forecast more rains in parts of Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Levee above New Orleans reported in good condition by Federal engineers.

FLOOD WATERS FOUND INCESSANTLY AT BARRIERS

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) April 18. (AP)—Heavy with the flood waters of two-fifths of the total area of continental United States, the Mississippi River and its tributaries tonight hammered incessantly at the levees man has built to reclaim hundreds of square miles of fertile soil.

Throughout their length, man and machine continued to pile on sandbags and construct emergency revetments on the dikes to protect the flood plains extending at an average width of fifty miles from the river ridge built by deposits through the centuries.

Widespread distress and extensive ruin mark the places where the river has overcome its artificial bounds and laid claim to uncounted thousands of acres of land.

25,000 HOMELESS

Spreading widely over Missouri, Arkansas and Mississippi, with lesser areas inundated in Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee and Louisiana, the flood has driven an estimated 25,000 persons from their homes and wrought material ruin expected to count into the millions of dollars.

Upward of a dozen lives have been lost in the unequal struggle of man against force.

Most disheartening to the refugees atop levees or in camps that dot the valley are the upward revisions of flood stages issued by the Weather Bureau. At Fort Smith, Ark., where the Arkansas enters the State of her name, new rises were regis-

MAIL CARGO TO CHICAGO IN ONE DAY

Coast-to-Lakes 24-Hour Service May be Result of Record-Breaking Run

CHICAGO, April 18. (AP)—Twenty-four-hour air mail service between Los Angeles and Chicago was predicted by postal officials today when a cargo of mail arrived in a record-breaking run of twenty-one hours and fifty minutes from Los Angeles.

The cargo consisted of 1169 pounds of mail and arrived at the Maywood Field at 5:20 a.m. central standard time.

New York-Chicago air mail has been ahead of time or on time for the last ten days, officials said.

Rail Company President and Attorney Fight

FRESNO, April 18. (AP)—Vicious blows were struck by Attorney M. G. Callaher and W. E. Travis, president of the California Transit Company, today when courtroom differences were carried into a Courthouse corridor during a recess in the trial of a $104,430.68 damage suit brought by C. H. Alexander against J. C. and Anna J. Walling.

The first blow was struck by Callaher when Travis was heard to call him "a liar" concerning a difference which arose in the courtroom while Walling was being examined by the attorney at the opening of the bitterly fought trial.

Both clinched after the first blow and delivered a series of short-arm punches before five spectators, including a deputy sheriff, could separate the pair. Even when they were parted, the pair attempted to free themselves from their captors so that they could renew fight.

Madden Urges Another Term for President

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—President Coolidge was indorsed for another term today by Chairman Madden of the House Appropriations Committee, who called at the White House.

"What's the use wasting time looking for another candidate?" Madden said. "Mr. Coolidge has done better than any other President in my recollection."

He said, however, that the possible candidacy of Mr. Coolidge was not discussed at his conference today.

ELEPHANTS KILL WOMAN

Trio in Newark Theater Stampede on Streets and Produce Wild Reign of Terror

NEW YORK, April 18. (Exclusive)—The sound of an automobile engine this afternoon lashed three well-trained elephants into panic as they were being driven into Procter's Palace Theater in Newark. They stampeded, trampling a woman shopper to death, injuring a man and communicating their terror to the shopping district of the city.

It was less than fifteen minutes after they had turned from the door of the theater and ran blindly into a crowd of pedestrians before their three trainers, pursuing them through the streets, cornered and calmed them.

In that brief time the business section was terrorized. Men, women and children ran to stores for safety. Police reserves were called out from four precincts and all traffic for blocks along Market street was jammed.

The animals, part of a vaudeville act playing in Procter's Theater, were exhibited in the theater lobby during the early afternoon before the matinee. Near the stage entrance stood a coupe. Its motor was running. The leader of the elephants became uneasy as he was led toward the car and he balked in front of it. The trainers turned the animals around and led them back to Washington street. Then they led them up to the car again.

The leader shied again and, suddenly trumpeting, wheeled, jerked the elephant hook from the trainer's hand and rushed past the other two elephants. They also broke and followed him.

A man and a woman were passing the corner of Campbell Court and Washington street as the elephants reached the corner. The leader flung both of them to the street and all three animals trampled over the woman. Her head and chest were crushed.

The man, Henry Manhoff, 33 years of age, was brushed to one side and though he was bruised he managed to scramble out of the way and the elephants ran by him.

Traffic Patrolman Ryder, on duty at Washington and Market streets saw the animals dash through a crowd near the corner and run down Market street. He called an ambulance and police reserves.

BRIEFS FILED IN FORD TAX CASE

Voluminous Data Delivered to Appeals Board

Action Taken Preliminary to Oral Argument

Government Stand on Roper Valuation Attacked

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Another step in the government's effort to collect $30,000,000 in additional taxes from former Ford minority stockholders, was reached today, when voluminous briefs and arguments were filed with the Board of Tax Appeals by the government and by Senator Couzens, the Dodge heirs and others who sold out to Henry Ford in 1919.

Filing of briefs is preliminary to oral argument of the case, which arises out of the government's reassessment downward of Ford stock as of March 1, 1913, as against the valuation of $9489 pronounced by the Bureau of Internal Revenue when the transfer of the stock to Mr. Ford took place.

CONTENTION DISPUTED

Counsel for Senator Couzens and the other petitioners, took issue with the government's contention that the $9489 Roper valuation was grossly excessive. They also disputed that Commissioner Roper's action did not bind the government to use of that figure as basis for computing the gains of such stockholders as might sell their holdings, as was maintained in the government brief.

"The facts in this record overwhelmingly establish that the Roper valuation was conservative and sound, and that the commissioner had ample grounds upon which in the proper exercise of his administrative discretion, he might have found a value up to $12,500 per share, as of March 1, 1913," the petitioners' brief declared.

PRESENT VALUATION

No presumption arises in favor of a valuation placed by the present commissioner, it was asserted, and since both he and his predecessor had approved the figure set by Commissioner Roper, it cannot now be questioned.

Inasmuch as the latter valuation is presumptively correct, having been so recognized and there was no evidence introduced at the hearing of gross error, the board is asked to regard reopening the question as in conflict with Treasury orders which render it a closed question.

Redwood Area Sends Caravan to Southland

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (Exclusive)—Representatives of eight northern counties which comprise the "Redwood Empire" outlined plans at a meeting here today to tell the rest of the world about the great forests within their domain and then started out to inform Southern California by means of a motor caravan which will spend six days on a junket south of the Tehachapi.

As part of the program, James N. Gillett, former Governor of California, pleaded for measures which will protect the famed Redwoods from extermination.

"AMERICANS" NEGROES

Paris Applies Title to Dusky-Skinned Favorites of Night-Club Life

PARIS, April 18. (AP)—The two Americans most in the public eye of Paris at present are negroes.

One is the limber-legged dancer Josephine Baker, and the other is a boxer, Al Brown. Not a day goes by but one of them is the subject of a sketch, article or funny story in some newspaper or magazine. Neither the White House spokesman nor Senator Borah fills half so many columns of the French press.

Brown, originally from Panama, expects to return to America as soon as he has knocked out a few more ambitious boxers on this side of the water. Jazz-mad Josephine is making so many francs, what with being the star of the Folies Bergere and the owner of the most chic "night box" in Montmartre, that she hasn't any idea of when she will go back to St. Louis.

PLANES ON PAYMENTS

British Dealers Apply Installment Idea to Air-Flivver Purchase

LONDON, April 18. (AP)—Enterprising airplane dealers have entered the installment-plan field, alongside furniture houses and real-estate agents.

In London, under the new order of affairs, two-seater Moths, fully equipped, may now be purchased for £230 down (roughly $1150) and twenty-four monthly payments of £24 15s.

The installment-plan ship has an eighty-horsepower engine of the latest type and can do 100 miles an hour. A prospective purchaser may inspect "samples" in the downtown shops, pay down his cash, go to Stag Lane airdrome, in Edgeware Road, on the outskirts of London, and flit away in his new Moth with all the pride of the shopper who gets what he wants when he wants it.

COP "BAWLS OUT" KING

London Bobby, Annoyed by Misuse of Royal Insignia, Stops Wrong Car

LONDON, April 18. (AP)—Plebean automobile owners have discovered that the two bright blue flambeaux with which King George's automobiles are fitted enable His Majesty to get through the thickest traffic jams as easily as a fire truck. As a result the metropolitan police are kept jumping by the appearance of a multitude of cars similarly fitted.

It is being whispered that one police constable, angry at being fooled into standing at attention so often while the "king" passed, decided to stop the next car so fitted and give the owner a good "bawling out." But he picked the wrong car. It was the King's.

MRS. COOLIDGE IN EGG FETE

Mothers Lost and Weeping Children Who Attend Annual Easter Observance on White House Lawn

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Playing hostess to Washington children at the annual egg-rolling festival on the White House grounds gave Mrs. Coolidge a busy but happy day. Twice today she walked through the grounds, mingling with the throng of youngsters who crowded about her, and finally she mothered more than a dozen lost little ones who wept big tears under the care of a policeman in one corner of the grounds.

Learning of the disaster which had befallen some of the little ones Mrs. Coolidge went to the place for lost children. While police held the crowd away she picked them up one by one and before long each had been returned to a grateful and oftentimes crying mother.

The comforting which Mrs. Coolidge gave the lost youngsters helped in some instances but several frightened ones continued to cry even after she took them in her arms. Close of day found Mrs. Coolidge almost as weary as most of the children.

On both trips through the grounds, Mrs. Coolidge was almost mobbed by the eager children and mothers. On her morning visit she took along Rebecca, pet raccoon which lives at the White House. She was forced to carry Rebecca, who squirmed about restlessly as camera men blocked the way in front and children milled around on all sides. Finally Rebecca buried her head under Mrs. Coolidge's arm.

The President waved a greeting to the children at noon from the balcony of the White House overlooking the grounds.

Police estimated that almost 40,000 persons, most of them children, again passed into the grounds, equalling last year's record.

TARGET OF COUNTESS RECOVERS FROM WOUND

PARIS, April 18. (AP)—Raymond De Trafford, who was shot three weeks ago by Countess de Janze, formerly Alice Silverthorne, of Chicago, had recovered sufficiently today to enable him to be taken to London by airplane. He is understood to have told the authorities that he did not wish to take any action against the Countess, but that he held himself at their disposition to return to Paris if his testimony was needed. Countess de Janze, who turned the gun on herself, is still in the hospital.

BICYCLE THEFT HALTS TRIP TO SICK MOTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (Exclusive)—"Omaha" Joe Morielias bicycled to San Francisco to learn the whereabouts of his mother, reported ill. With the aid of police here he located his mother in San Diego, but when he walked out of the Hall of Justice to start pedaling his way south he discovered that someone had stolen the bicycle.

Anti-Sedition Laws Adapted by Portuguese

LONDON, April 18. (AP)—Measures to insure repression of reports such as have been spread recently "in an attempt to disturb the peace of the country" were discussed at an extraordinary ministerial council today. Under the measures persons spreading false reports or distributing subversive propaganda will be subject to summary judgment and heavy fines. Two persons suspected of conspiracy were arrested this morning.

Rumors that all was not well within the Portuguese government prompted the authorities to issue an official statement Saturday saying that absolute solidarity existed among the members of the government for the maintenance of order, and that the republic had the unconditional support of the army.

Oregon Truck Regulation on Roads Upheld

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—The Oregon law of 1921 under which the State Highway Commission restricted use of certain highways by solid-tire trucks and reduced to 16,500 pounds the loads they would be permitted to carry at certain seasons was sustained today by the Supreme Court.

SENATE INQUIRY DECISION PENDS

Legality of Vare-Contest Committee Argued

Defense Contends Congress Let Issue Die

Case Before Court on Move to Obtain Ballots

PHILADELPHIA, April 18. (AP)—The question whether the Senate special committee investigating the election contest brought by William B. Wilson, Democrat, against Senator-elect William S. Vare, Republican, is still legally in existence was argued in the United States District Court today.

A decision will not be forthcoming for more than ten days, as Judge J. Whitaker Thompson, who heard the case, allowed the committee five days to file a brief, and granted another five days for the filing of an answer.

The question came before the court on the petition of the committee for an order demanding that Delaware county authorities in possession of the ballot boxes containing the ballots cast at the Senatorial election last November turn them over to the committee.

The defendants in the case filed an answer denying the right of the committee to demand the ballots and other records on the ground that the committee does not legally exist. Congress having failed to pass a resolution to continue it. They also questioned the jurisdiction of the court.

While Jerry C. South, special representative of the committee, appeared before the court as its accredited attorney, Senator King of Utah, who was accompanied by Senator La Follette, both members of the committee, took a leading part in the argument.

Senator King fought every contention that the committee was legally nonexistent.

HOME FOR INDIGENTS REJECTED

Florida Town Declines Proposal of Moose Order to Build Refuge for Aged

ORANGE PARK (Fla.) April 18. (AP) Orange Park has turned down the proposal of the Loyal Order of Moose to establish a national home for the aged and indigent here, and the City Commission is considering sponsoring legislation "to prevent Florida from becoming the dumping ground of the indigent of the United States."

Plans of the Moose order home were announced at the annual convention here recently. The announcement stated that several other national organizations and a few States might co-operate in the establishment of a central institution.

Resolutions adopted by the City Commission declare, among other things, that establishment of such a home as contemplated would have a "depressing influence on the community.

"The influx of so many occupants," the resolutions continue, "might quickly give to said order such a majority of voters that the present residents would be deprived of any voice in the government of their town and might be placed under the control of an irresponsible flock of voters having no interest in the welfare of the town."

Howard Jones Lines Up 1927 Trojan Grid Team

NEW FACES ON U.S.C. ELEVEN

Galloway, Ward, McMahon Promising Linemen

Big Fellows to Plug Holes Left by Loss of Vets

Bert Heiser, Charley Boren on Injured List

BY BRAVEN DYER

Howard Jones yesterday drew the rough draft of his 1927 Trojan football machine. The occasion was the resumption of spring practice after a week's layoff, more than five U.S.C. elevens parading up and down Bovard Field.

JOHN FOX

The first team, or at least we call it the first team because it had the most veterans, lined up with several new faces thereon. John Fox, understudy to Jeff Cravath last year and also used as a tackle, was at center. Flanking the San Diego Jewish boy were Alvin Schaub and Galloway. The former, it will be remembered, played running guard during much of the 1926 season, holding down that berth until Brice Taylor came along and won back his position.

GALLOWAY HITS HARD

Galloway is the hard-hitting chap who raised such havoc with the varsity while performing for the Spartans last fall. The biggest thing in his favor is a terrific charge. It was this factor which first drew at-

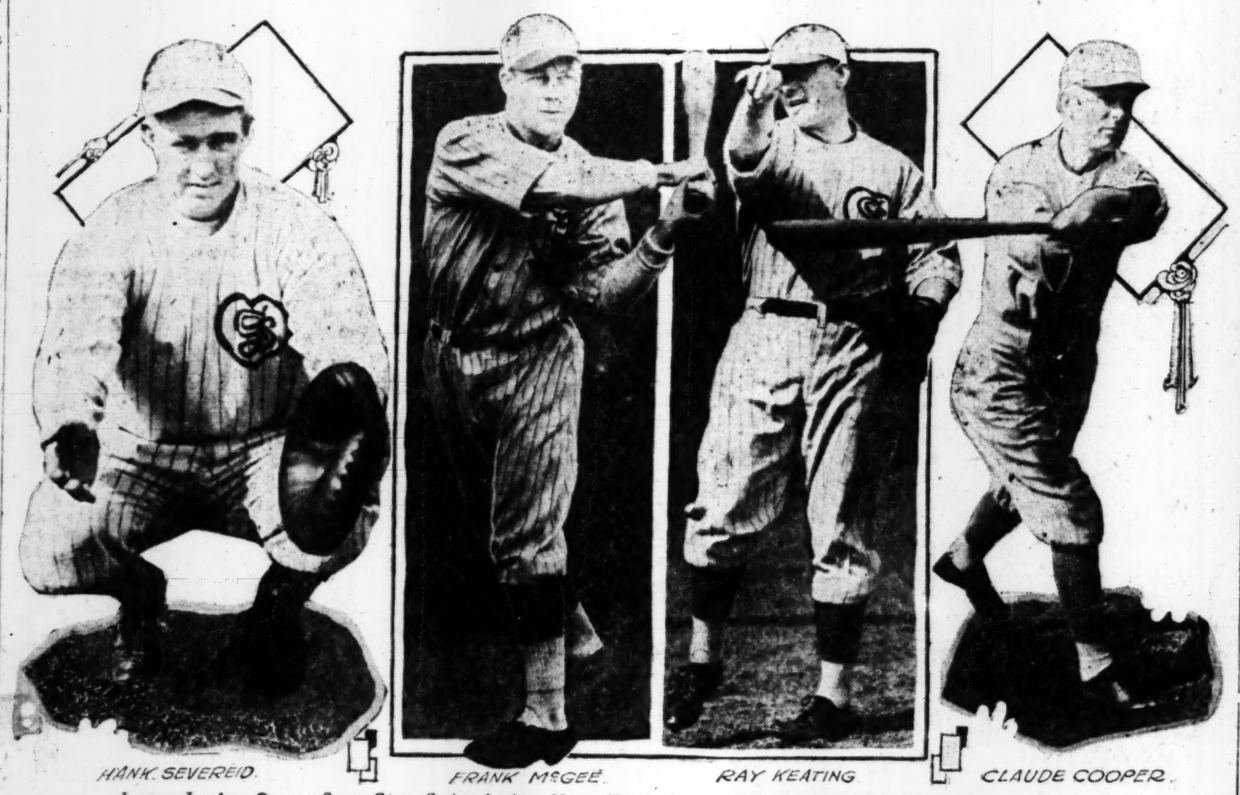
They Make Sacramento Look Like a Real Baseball Team



HANK SEVEREID. FRANK McGEE. RAY KEATING CLAUDE COOPER.

League Leaders Open a Seven-Game Series Against Marty Krug's Angels at Wrigley Field This Afternoon

The slugging of Messrs. Hank Severeid, Frank McGee and Claude Cooper explains in large measure the rejuvenation displayed by the Senators this year. Severeid was in the big leagues fifteen years and caught every game for New York in the world series last fall. McGee is another newcomer. He sprang up in the Three-Eye League. Washington bought him last year. He is stationed at the first sack. Cooper is the Senatorial lead-off man. Ray Keating has gotten off to a swell start this year, winning all three games pitched.

SOLONS IN LOCAL DEBUT

League-Leading Sacramento Nine to Engage Angels in Opening Game of Series This Afternoon

Sacramento's entry for the Coast League pennant this season, which opens a seven-game series with the Angels this afternoon, is a well-balanced team displaying a world of speed with an improved punch over last season. Lewis Moreing's Senators show more new talent than most of the fans and experts realize as there are something like eight new and experienced players on the club.

Sacramento leaped to the front by winning eight consecutive games through vast improvement in all departments over 1926. There has been a lack of wallop with the Solons for many years, but in this canter Buddy Ryan has an aggregation with punch enough to hold themselves about the top throughout the heat.

The most picturesque and noteworthy addition is Hank Severeid. Hank was in the majors fifteen years and came to Sacramento through Moreing selling Mervyn Shea to Detroit. With big Art Koehler, who was voted the best catcher in the league during 1926, to work with Hank, Sacramento is showing a major-league catching staff.

Frank McGee is a newcomer at first base. He came from Peoria of the Three Eye League, managed by Bill Rodgers, former Sacramento leader. McGee is replacing Wilbur Davis and is a big boost over the former.

Johnny Monroe is again at second and Johnny was not only the league's

HOLLYWOOD HIT HARD BY RELAY RULE

Romans' C.I.F. Chances Also Ruined by Failure to Place in City Trackfest

Whatever chances Hollywood and L. A. High, winner and runner-up, respectively of the city meet championship, had of copping off the Southern California trackfest title were severely set back by the definite announcement that neither school would be allowed to enter a four-man half-mile relay team in the C.I.F. trials at the Coliseum Saturday afternoon.

JOHN TALBOT

Since it is a ruling that only the first four to finish in each event in the city meet be permitted to compete in the Southern California meet, and both Hollywood and the Romans failed to finish it seems that there is nothing to do about it. Hollywood is particularly hard hit, since Coach Bill Paige's Footbillers would have one of the fastest four-man half-mile teams in Southern California, and an excellent chance of taking either first or second place.

Last year Hollywood hung up a new world's prep record of 1m. 29.9s. for the two laps, and is claimed to have even a faster quartet this year. Capt. John Talbot, a lanky 440 man, is the lone member of the record-breaking team back this year, but Coach Paige has two men better than him in Wayne Elwood and Allan Kelly.

L. A. High, while not having a flock of exceptional 220 men, could be figured to place with Sellars

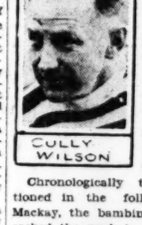
BLACK HAWKS BEAT OILERS

Chicago Sextet Trims Richfield Ice Hockeyites at Winter Garden Rink by 6 to 4 Score

Off again after losing to the Maroons, the Black Hawks defeated the Richfield puckmen, 6 to 4, at the Winter Garden last night.

A pair of the Chicago satellites, Mickey Mackay and "Rabbit" McVeigh, flashed over the ice to star for the winners. Mackay was in the way of the Richfield players all evening and scored three of the Black Hawk goals for good measure. McVeigh's stick work was much in evidence and his assists featured. Abbey Newell and Coupez turned in a neat evening for the Oilers.



CULLY WILSON

Chronologically the boys functioned in the following manner: Mackay, the bambino of ice hockey, socked the puck in the net to score for the Blackhawks after 5 minutes, 7 seconds of play. He was neatly assisted by McVeigh. Smith annexed the following goal for the Oilers, unassisted, to tie the score. Dick Irwin took a pass from Trapp to put the Chicago boys out in front again, but Lawrence evened the count, 2-all, when he hooked a rebound into the net.

There was considerable action in the initial period. Mackay and Wilson were both off the ice when Lawrence scored, leaving the Blackhawks but four men. Creswell of the Richfield outfit was also penalized along with Lawrence. Creswell drew his rest for mixing with Trapp.

The second period was all for the Windy City pucksters. Although it was ten minutes before a score was registered, the Blackhawks were functioning with extreme smoothness and McVeigh scored unassisted to put the Blackhawks in the lead again.

FATE OF MARY K. BROWNE AS AMATEUR HANGS IN BALANCE

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—The fate of Mary K. Browne, an amateur golfer, will be committed tomorrow to a jury of thirteen, the executive committee of the United States Golf Association, meeting here in annual session.

For the first time in the history of the organization, they will decide whether renunciation of a player's amateur status in tennis automatically bars that player in golf. The decision if favorable to Miss Browne, will establish a links precedent, and indications tonight were that she would not be ruled out by the officials.

MARY BROWNE

For several months there has been a division of opinion among the committeemen as to whether Miss Browne's acceptance of $30,000 for turning tennis professional constituted a "detriment to the best interests" of golf. Sentiment today, however, appeared to have rallied strongly to Miss Browne, whose record as a sportswoman of high caliber has made her one of the most popular figures in international sports for more than a decade.

Herbert H. Ramsay, secretary of the association, said today that the status committee, of which he is chairman, is divided in its views on her case. He said that a decision probably would not be forthcoming until Wednesday.

PITTSBURGH PIRATE HOCKEY TEAM HERE FOR ICE BATTLE

Looking as fit as the proverbial fiddle, members of the Pittsburgh Pirates ice hockey team, regarded as the fastest crew in the National Hockey League, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon over the Santa Fe, to prepare for the single game they will play against the Chicago Black Hawks at the Winter Garden Thursday night.

Headed by Assistant Manager Frank Campbell, who has charge of the boys pending the coming of Ode Ckeghorn on Wednesday, the Pirates were taken to a Hollywood hostelry, going on the ice late in the afternoon for a spirited workout, the first skating the men had done since leaving Pittsburgh four days ago.

High Wind Ruins Scores of Title Contestants

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (AP)—Willie Hunter of the Brentwood Country Club, Los Angeles, successfully defended his title of California State open golf champion by defeating Harold Sampson, of the Burlingame Country Club by two strokes in the 18-hole play-off match at the California Golf Club today. Hunter's score for the eighteen holes was 80 and Sampson's 82.

Willie Hunter

Hunter took the lead on the first hole with a par 5 against a 6 taken by Sampson. The latter evened it up on the next hole with a birdie 3 against the 5 taken by Hunter.

Sampson took the lead on the third hole with a birdie 2 after Hunter had sunk a long putt for a par 3. The next three holes were halved in par figures. Hunter reduced Sampson's lead on the seventh with a par 3, Sampson taking his 4.

On the eighth hole Hunter took a par 4 and Sampson took a 5. They each took 6 on the par 4 ninth hole.

The two were tied at the end of the nine holes with scores of 39, three over par for the course. Sampson made his first slip on the eleventh when he took three putts for a 6 after overpitching his second to a trap. Hunter was down in 4, taking a one-stroke lead.

Hunter was on the twelfth with a par 3 while Sampson, also on in 3, took two putts for a 5.

During the remainder of the eighteen holes they see-sawed back and forth, ending with Hunter leading by two strokes.

A high wind bothered both contestants.

The medal scores were:
Hunter—39—41—80.
Sampson—39—43—82.

Hunter and Sampson tied yesterday in the championship finals, each with a score of 302.

BOSTON BOUNCED

BOSTON, April 18. (AP)—The Giants had to go eleven innings today to subdue the Braves, 11 to 10, although at one time the New Yorkers were leading by 8 to 1. A six-run rally in the seventh enabled the Braves to tie the count. The Giants went ahead in the ninth and tenth by scoring a run only to see Boston tie it in turn. Doubles by Hornsby and Farrell brought in the deciding run. Five twirlers were used by Boston.

PIRATES COP

CHICAGO, April 18. (AP)—Lee Meadows let Chicago down with four scattered hits today while Pittsburgh scattered Tony Kaufmann off the mound when he wavered behind Stephenson's erratic playing, and the Pirates easily took the third game of the series, 9 to 1. Hartnett's home run gave Chicago their only tally.

WALKER GETS HUGE BID FOR DUNDEE GO

BALTIMORE, April 18. (AP)—An offer of a $200,000 purse for a middleweight championship fight here between Mickey Walker, present titleholder, and Joe Dundee of Baltimore was wired yesterday to Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, by Benny Franklin, president, Olympia Athletic Club. The offer is contingent, however, upon Dundee's capturing the welterweight title in his battle with Pete Latzo scheduled for June 3, next, at the Polo Grounds, New York.

TRIPLE STAR WRESTLING CARD ARRANGED BY DARO

Nick Lutze, the sensational young Chicago wrestler, who is after another chance at Champion Joe Stecher and his title, wired his acceptance for a bout with Tommy Draak in the triple main-event wrestling show Promoter Lou Daro has arranged for the Olympic next Wednesday night, the 27th inst. This match is expected to be better than the one in which Jones and Draak engaged in last week when the latter was defeated.

Walter Miller

Another battle on the card, which should prove popular with the local fans, will be the one between Walter Miller, the wrestling coach of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and holder of the middleweight and light-heavyweight championships of Australia, and Ben Ruben of Chicago. These two will also meet in a best-two out of three fall, two-hour-time limit battle, and it should be a fight of championship caliber. Daro sought Johnny Meyers, world's middleweight champion, as Miller's opponent, but that titled personage, evidently still remembering the battle the club coach gave him several years ago, informed the local promoter he would meet Miller, but at catch weights. He refused to put his crown at stake.

The opening event should be as good as either of the other two bouts. It will bring together a pair of the fastest men in the mat game today, and a match for any of the heavyweights, including the champion. They are Bill Demetral of Chicago and Charley Hanson of Omaha.

DARO SUES FOR FORFEIT MONEY

Suit for $5000 asserted to be due for forfeiture of a wrestling match by Ed (Strangler) Lewis with Joe Stecher, was filed in Superior Court yesterday by Lou Daro, Los Angeles wrestling promoter.

Daro charged that Lewis and Stecher each posted $5000 with the State Boxing Commission as a guarantee of their good faith. Later, Daro asserts, Lewis caused the match to be postponed, saying that he had a sprained wrist. Then on August 23, 1926, Lewis failed to appear for the match, according to Daro.

The suit names W. P. (Seth) Strelinger, head of the State Boxing Commission, and its other members as defendants and asks for forfeiture of the $5000 said to have been deposited by Lewis. George and Irving S. Baltimore are acting as Daro's attorneys.

Stars Capture Third in Row From Beavers

PORTLAND, April 18. (AP)—Hollywood took advantage of the breaks today and the Stars won their third straight game, 8 to 7, although Portland took the series, four games to three. Gooch put the Stars in the lead in the first inning with a homer. French, who relieved Hughes in the fourth, pitched wonderful ball for the Beavers, but lost in the ninth when, with the Beavers one run ahead, Bagwell fell down fielding Sweeney's short fly to right. It went as a triple and two runs scored with two out. Score:

JONES LINES UP U.S.C. TEAM

tention to him last year for he broke up varsity plays with monotonous regularity.

Jesse Hibbs was at one tackle, naturally, while on the other side of the line Jones placed John Ward, an Irishman whose face tells you his nationality the minute you lamp him. Ward is the heavyweight boxing champion of U.S.C. and looks capable of holding his own in any company with or without the gloves on. John's disposition is such that somebody is going to have trouble dislodging him from that tackle post. He played on the frosh last year.

The end berths were occupied by Jim Moser, a good sub last year, and Lowry McCaslin, another sub who didn't see much service in 1926.

The new face in the backfield belonged to Harry Edelson, hard-hitting and fast-traveling member of the frosh last season. Harry is not very big but he knows how to use what weight he has. Yesterday he played fullback. Don Williams and Howard Elliott alternated at quarter, Lloyd Thomas was at his usual outside halfback post and Harold Wheeler performed at the inside halfback job. Capt. Morley Drury, attired in those white pants which make him so conspicuous, worked with this outfit. Elliott, by the way, looks great and seems ripe for a wonderful season.

HEISER LAID UP

In glancing over this line-up it will be noted that one or two faces are missing. Bert Heiser, backfield battering ram of last year, was there, but attired in civilian clothes. Bert threw his knee out of joint last week and the member is still weak. Plans for making him over into a guard are therefore at a standstill until the injured member mends.

Another civilian present was Charley Boren. The doctors have been busy rebuilding Charley so that he can play end in the fall. After working out during the first week of practice doctors informed him that he should pass up rough work until the fall. His knee was operated upon New Year's and those in charge want it to get throroughly strong before being subjected to rough usage.

Ward, Galloway and a huge sophomore named McMahon were the big noises in an hour of exclusive line work preceding the formation of teams. Jones later had the latter at center, but it is expected that he will eventually be either a guard or tackle.

Scrimmage later in the week will probably bring about several changes as there are plenty of other good men ready for action and six like berths appear to be wide open.

PAULINO VOLUNTEERS TO BATTLE SHARKEY

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Paulino Uzcudun, sole survivor among the foreign aspirants for Gene Tunney's heavyweight scepter, volunteered today to replace Jimmy Maloney gainst Jack Sharkey if legal obstacles prevent the Boston battler's clash at the Yankee Stadium May 19.

Uzcudun also has a fifteen-round engagement with Jack Delaney in Tex Rickard's elimination series at the stadium June 22.

HOLLYWOOD HIT BY RELAY RULE

Smith and Frank Lombardi, both capable of running a fast furlong.

With the Foothillers and L. A. High out, Coach Rayhurst's Glendale Dynamiters are further strengthened in their bid for the championship. It now looks like Glendale would win hands down, unless Sandy Wehner, Bear and Lombardi seriously cut into the point column in the sprints, where the Dynamiters figure to pick up enough points to win the meet.

SENATORS IN LOCAL DEBUT

leading sacrifice hitter last season, but also voted as the best second-sacker of the league by twenty-five scribes. Ray French and Jimmy McLaughlin take care of the left side of the infield.

Outside of Merlin Kopp, Sacramento is showing an entirely new outfield. Ray Rohwer, who came to the club last season in a trade for Pitcher Bill Hughes, is adding much of the needed power to the Senators. He is not usually a springtime batter, but has started this season hammering the pill in murderous fashion. Claude Cooper, former Oak, was out of baseball all of last season and Lewis Moreing picked him up as a free agent. Cooper has really made the Sacramentans. He started the season playing as good baseball as any time when he was regarded as one of the greatest fly catchers of the loop. Cooper is leading off for the Solons. Kopp has fully recovered from a serious injury sustained in Los Angeles in 1926, and is just as fast as ever.

STAR ROBIN HURLER SENT TO HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, April 18.—Jess Petty, star southpaw pitcher of the Brooklyn Robins, was suddenly stricken with an attack of appendicitis today and was rushed to Skene Sanatorium, Brooklyn, where it was first planned to operate upon the hurler at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. However, a change for the better in the player's condition caused the physicians to postpone the operation and it was declared tonight there was a chance no immediate operation would be necessary.

ATHLETICS LOSE

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Steady pitching by Thurston, with good support in the field, enabled Washington to take the third game of the series from the Athletics today, 4 to 0.

All of the national runs were scored in the first inning after two were out. Walberg, the Athletic hurler, let in one run when, with the bases filled, he failed to touch the bag while covering first.

Bluege got his first hit of the season with the bases loaded in the first inning, knocking in two runs. Score:

ST. LOUIS WINS

ST. LOUIS, April 18. (AP)—Walter Gerber, St. Louis Brown shortstop, had three errors chalked up against him, but his single in the eighth inning brought in the final run which enabled the Browns to defeat the Chicago White Sox in the third game of the series today, 5 to 4. Home runs by Schang and Gaston drove in the other Brown runs.

Blankenship, Chicago, drove in all four of his team's runs with a double in the fifth and a home run in the seventh. The score:

CLEVELAND COPS

CLEVELAND, April 18. (AP)—Cleveland evened the series with Detroit today by winning, 3 to 2, in a pitchers' battle between Levsen and Holloway. Cleveland took the lead in the eighth but Levsen weakened in the ninth after he had allowed three hits and Detroit had scored one run with two out and two on base. Buckeye went to the box and nipped the rally. Score:

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER
BILL HENRY

THE NEWS that Wide, the star Swedish distance runner, is to compete against the local help in the Coliseum next month, will be greeted with whoops of glee by all concerned not only because it will give local folks a chance to see the great foreigner in action, but because it will also provide an opportunity to see our local stars do their stuff. Wide against Lunney, Carter, Unrich, Scovel and Meyer at any distance between one and two miles would provide a fracas worth going miles to see. Not a few fans would be willing to gamble a little bit that some of the locals would give the Scandinavian flash the run of his young life.

And while they are figuring out a program for that day it might be worth while to put on one of those one-step marathons such as is to be held this week between the Venice Pier and the El Patio ballroom. They claim that nearly 400 couples will start in the race and any night out in the vicinity of the El Patio you are liable to look out in the street and see what appears to be a terrific fight between a couple of people, only to have it develop on closer inspection that the participants are a couple of one-step marathoners having a little workout before the big affair.

The ruling which prevents L. A. High and Hollywood relay teams from participating in the Southern California championships because they failed to place in the city meet, is carrying a good ruling a whole lot too far. If our memory is correct, Bob Lee, about four years ago, finished second or third in a city meet 100-yard dash, but none of the judges picked him although all were agreed that he must have placed third at worst. So they made an exception in his case and let him run in the big meet. They ought to be smart enough to do the same thing with L. A. and Hollywood in view of their admitted ability to whip most of the contenders.

Percy Niersbach appears to have been wasting his time all of these years running the half-mile. His time of 49.6s. over the quarter is much better than anything he ever did in the half, good as he was and is at the longer distance. Our guess is that Niersbach can beat 49s. flat.

section the going for the Whittier boy is generally choppy. Thomas has boxed light-heavies in most of his scraps. In twenty-five battles he has knocked out over half of them.

Colima has a spotted record—yet if he were fighting Mickey Walker instead of Thomas tonight the betting would be so close it would be a tossup, probably. Every time Colima has been whipped there has been a very fair reason—or alibi if you like—for same.

When Leo Lomski knocked Colima out the Mexican claimed a short count. Against Eddie Huffman Colima was forced to weigh too heavy, against Ace Hudkins he was compelled to scale too light. When Ted Moore stopped the Mexican there was no question but what the Englishman had previously fouled Bert. When Jack Willis kayoed Bert he had been suffering from auto-poisoning due to ulcerated teeth. Even when Mickey Walker stopped Colima the Whittier boy went into the ring with a cut eye—sufficient to have kept most any other boxer from going through with the match. Some may call these alibis—but they weigh heavier than this in the minds of fans.

Benny Dotson and Jimmy Fox box ten rounds on the same card. They are feathers. Both are interesting boxers and very good hitters. Fox and Dotson boxed a six-round bout a few weeks ago that came near stealing the show. Dotson received the decision. Fox is a Jewish boy who is making a short cut to being a main eventer due to his pleasing style.

Ernie Owens meets Vic Alexander in the special event. They are boxing as heavyweights. Clyde Colvin and Walter Hoffman open the show in a four-round bout. They will weigh 185.

TAXLOR KAYOES NATIONALISTA

brown fellow to cave in. When he crumpled about the middle of the fifth round it was not from the result of a particular punch at that juncture of the fight, but from the steady bombardment to the midriff which he had received in previous rounds.

Nationalista made a furious fight of it in the first round and won the session by a nice margin. He clipped Bud on the chin with a right which brought the blood and spun the champion.

In the second round Taylor went to work with a will and his double shot—a left to the stomach followed by a quick left to the head — scored several times and Nationalista was wobbly at the bell.

Thereafter the result was never in doubt, the Filipino gradually growing weaker from the rain of blows but gamely rallying to the attack time and again.

Taylor weighed 120 1-4 pounds and Nationalista, 119. Freddie Gilmore refereed.

After playing with Chevalier, a 209-pound black boy from Oakland, like a cat with a mouse for three rounds, Godfrey cut loose in the fourth round and smashed his foe to the floor with a barrage of head and body punches.

Down for the count of nine, Chevalier arose, only to be pushed away by Godfrey's right. George then swung a wicked left hook square on the Oaklander's beezer, and it was all over. Chevalier was still down at "ten," and Godfrey had to help his erstwhile opponent to his corner. Harry Lee worked this bout.

A RIOT

Jimmy Laventhal won a six-rounder from Otey Spencer, a middleweight edition of Godfrey, but the real feature of the prelims was the funny bout between Jess Stafford and Stanley Thompson.

These birds, a pair of light-heavyweights as loose-jointed and skillful as a couple of truck drivers, staged a great fracas.

CHICAGO HAWKS CRUSH OILERS

Mackay then donated another tally to the score, and Fraser closed the period by sinking the puck on an assist from Trapp.

Coupes scored the first tally in the third period on a pass from Newell, but Mackay's goal for the Black Hawks shortly after put the game on ice for the visitors. Pool sank the puck for the final marker of the game.

LAKESIDE PLAY OPENS MONDAY

Annual Club Invitational to Draw Golf Stars

Interfamily Affair Next Local Innovation

Mrs. F. S. Hardin Now Champ at Los Angeles

BY BILL WISE

Eddie Browne's Lakeside Invitation will open in a flock of flying divots when the first day qualifying field gets under way next Monday morning. With thirty-two entrants slated to land in the champion s h i p flight — and in a golfing endeavor to convenience the greatest number of local amateurs, contestants will be permitted to qualify eighteen holes, either next Monday or Tuesday.

GEORGE VON ELM

Match play in all flights will start Wednesday, one week from tomorrow and a two-ball mixed foursome tourney, one week from next Sunday, will conclude what promises to be the greatest invitational on the local schedule.

With George Von Elm and Dr. Paul Hunter, winner and runners-up respectively in the Southern Amateur championship two weeks ago, signed to play in the Lakeside affair, the competition promises to become an informal repetition of the titular affair that was staged over the north course of the Los Angeles Country Club.

The Southern Amateur was originally scheduled for Lakeside but rain damage several months ago necessitated a change. The match play in the coming invitational will be even better than the competition staged in the Southern Amateur.

CELEBRITIES AT EL CABALLERO

El Caballero, in the best shape ever, drew a very heavy play over the week-end and numerous celebrities were included in the visiting field. Mack Sennett of comedy fame, has selected more approved feminine beauties than even the fast choosing Florenz Ziegfeld, but Mack is better at examining prospective bathing beauties than with a golf club in his hand. At that, the celluloid celebrity enjoyed several fair rounds—finishing withing a few strokes of Jim Donahue.

J. Brown of Chicago, the same "James Brown" many times accused of controlling the national cattle-buying market during his more than thirty years with Armour, has become "Jimmie" Brown in California. With his daughter, Miss Isabel Prince, popular Chicago debutante, Brown tackled El Caballero yesterday and proclaimed the layout the greatest he had seen in the West. Born and raised in the cattle trade, the distinguished golfer let his game suffer while he speculated as to the herd weight of scores of prize cattle on the Adohr stock farm that adjoins El Caballero.

FAMILY STARS PLAY WEEKLY

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Browne and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Redding, members of both El Caballero and Lakeside, stage a best ball foursome match each Sunday and the competition is close enough to help the golf of all participants. As a result of the weekly clashes, Browne has hit upon the idea of a two-ball mixed foursome tournament for married teams—the first similar affair in local history. The idea should meet with considerable encouragement in many quarters for scores of local masculine golfers rightfully boast of legal companions who likewise swing championship clubs.

MOTION PICTURE PLAY NEXT MONTH

The tournament for golfers associated with the motion-picture industry, to be staged at El Caballero, May 15, received a great boost yesterday, when Brandon Hurst secured the entries of George Marshall, Frank Borzage, George Melford, Eddie Sutherland and Wesley Ruggles, five of the most popular directors in the celluloid colony. The affair will be arranged in divisions, all entrants contesting in classes conforming with their cinema connections.

POSTPONE WOMEN'S TEAM MATCH PLAY

Auxiliary team matches, scheduled for Thursday, have been set back until May 5, Mrs. G. M. Midgley, chairman, announced yesterday. Many local women golfers, members of competing teams, will take part in the State championship opening at the San Francisco Golf and Country Club next Monday, and will leave for the Bay City within the next few days.

WOMEN BUSY AT LAKESIDE

Mrs. W. S. Stanley, Mrs. W. P. Lohman, Mrs. L. G. Collison, Mrs. Bruce Bundy and Mrs. G. R. Dexter won beautiful trophies donated by Jack Gardner and Louise Dresser Gardner in a special tournament for women golf members of Lakeside, last week.

Williard George has donated a whole flock of prizes for a caddy's tourney and the club bag tiers are busy with match play that will not be concluded for several weeks. Lakeside juniors ran out on Freddie Tongue, Caddy Master. Freddie had arranged a very attractive event for youngsters but fewer than six appeared to compete and the affair was postponed indefinitely.

MRS. HARDIN NOW BEVERLY CHAMP

Mrs. F. S. Mardin, California, muchly famous and justly beloved "Golfing Grandmother," defeated Mrs. Anne Wolverton in a sensational finals match for the women's club championship at the Los Angeles Country Club, last week. Mrs. Hardin held the representative title two years ago but won through a much faster field to the present crown. Mrs. Wolverton, 5 down and 6 to go, evened the match after a spectacular drive, but the new champ won the final hole—and the championship.

PRESIDENT'S CUP PLAY AT OAKMONT

First round matches in the annual President's Cup tournament for Oakmont members were staged last week.

HOOD BOOSTS BAT AVERAGE

Frank O'Doul Still Tops Heavy-Lumber Toters in Coast Loop; Severeid Ranks Second

The heavy-hitting clubs of the Coast League clash at Wrigley Field this week. Sacramento is hitting .316 and Los Angeles .302.

Wallie Hood, Los Angeles player, boosted his batting average a cool 100 points in the series with Oakland last week. He is now listed third among all the batters of the league, with a mark of .409.

Frank O'Doul, San Francisco outfielder, tops all batters with a mark of .487 for twenty games. O'Doul went hitless in the second game Sunday after securing one or more safe hits for nineteen successive games. O'Doul is also the leading run getter with twenty to his credit. August Suhr, also of San Francisco, has scored nineteen runs, although his batting average is below .350.

Hank Severeid, Sacramento catcher, as second in the averages with a mark of .442. Wallie Hood, Los Angeles, is third with .409. William Rodda of the Missions is fourth with .406. Purdy, Seattle, is fifth with .398.

Leading batters of the other clubs are: Elmer Smith, Portland, .357; "Buzz" Arlett, Oakland, .353, and John Kerr, Hollywood, .325.

O'Doul, San Francisco; Brasill, Los Angeles; Smith, Portland; Arlett, Oakland, and Frederick, Hollywood, are tied in home runs, each with four. Purdy, Seattle, leads in stolen bases with five.

MANDELL MAY MEET PHIL McGRAW IN GO

CHICAGO, April 18. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, who has been "on tour" since he won the world's lightweight boxing championship here last spring from Rocky Kansas, may defend his crown on July 4 against Phil McGraw at Detroit. Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan promoter, who is seeking to establish himself at Detroit, has offered satisfactory inducements, Eddie Kane, Mandell's manager, said.

...An entirely new kind of racket inspired by champions

AMERICAN skill in tennis has made a new type of racket necessary. Champions said there was no fast enough for it as long as it is played today. They asked Spalding to attempt a faster racket—one suited to the modern, lightning-fast, drive game.

Testing started to work. 500 experimental rackets were tried out. A group of famous stars judged them one by one, added them, offered helpful suggestions. Then came the racket that won their unanimous and enthusiastic approval—the one with which they won many of last year's important tennis events. We named that bat "Top-Flite".

Now it is offered to you. The fastest tennis racket ever made. Very light—yet in perfect balance. Smaller head, which gives tighter stringing. Kro-Bat construction to give it extra strength for many restringings. Open throat, which gives it a greater sweet spot flexibility. Top-Flite will help you play your best tennis. There is one here that will suit you exactly. Try one and find it. Price $15.

TEACHING THE YOUNG IDEA

Bandit Papa: Always dot yer I's, Kid.

Innocents Abroad

"It doesn't look a bit like rain, so why bother to put up the tent?"

"I don't believe that is poison ivy. Poison ivy ought to look more dangerous than that."

"Yes, if I lean out a little farther, I can just reach that water lily."

"Really, it doesn't take long to get a tan. I'm going to stay under the sun all day, and I bet I get a good one."

"Oh, never mind bringing along water. We'll find a good spring or well or something."

"Nonsense. You can tell mushrooms from toadstools by the flavor."

"They say he can always take a joke. Watch me put ants in his bedding."

"Oh, those 'No Trespassing' signs mean tramps. The farmer won't object if we shoot a few squirrels."

"I'm not afraid of that bull. You can't believe all you read in the comic sections."

"Yes, if we take an expensive new car out into the wilds, we'll be worrying about it all the time. We'll take the old Ford and just enjoy ourselves."

HUNT IMPOSES WILL ON STATE

Arizona House Upholds Veto of Highway Bill

Opponents Unable to Block Governor's Machine

Special Election Proposed to End Deadlock

PHOENIX, April 18. (Exclusive)—Backed by his few and faithful legislative henchmen, Gov. Hunt appears to have beaten the Democratic majority in its effort to deprive him of his principal political engine—the Highway Department. By a vote of 34 to 18, less than the needed three-fourths, the House today failed to pass the Highway Commission bill over the executive veto. Members Abell and Francis went over to the Governor and the opposition was shown to have gained nothing by the recess in which they had hoped to stimulate an overpowering public sentiment against executive control of the highway funds.

THREE-HORNED DILEMMA

Now the majority has the choice of three actions: To pass a bill that would only increase the Governor's power by permitting him full authority to appoint his own Highway Commission without legislative interference, giving him still more offices to fill; to strip the emergency clause from the vetoed bill and re-enact it, with assurance that the referendum would be invoked against it, allowing present conditions to last for nearly two years; or to fail to enact any highway legislation, in which event the Attorney-General is reported to have given an oral opinion that there will then be created an emergency that would permit the Governor to administer the highways almost at will under the old law. So the majority, bitter against the executive, appears tied to his chariot wheel.

The Governor's veto of a bill abolishing the auto-license registration law was overridden in the House, but failed in the Senate by the switch of Akers of Maricopa. In the Senate a veto of Sutter's bill abolishing the Huachuca Mountain game reserve was overridden.

ELECTION SUGGESTED

Appreciating that the present quarrel is purely within his party, Chairman Louis B. Whitney of the Democratic State Committee has suggested to the Governor and the presiding officers of the two houses that within sixty days an election be called that the voters may express preference of one of two highway bills, one to be offered by the Governor and the other by the legislative majority, and that the $650,000 Highway Department deficiency be covered by a special measure.

Whitney, who has been accepted as a member of the Governor's faction, declares that, "if some compromise is not reached and at a very early date our party will become disintegrated, as the people will hold it responsible for failing to enact good sound legislation relating to financing, building and maintaining the State highways."

He admits that his solution is an expensive one, but declares it hardly as expensive as allowing the present situation to endure.

COURT WONDERS IF FINE CAN BE COLLECTED FROM CORPSE

BENTON HARBOR (Mich.) April 18. (AP)—Can a fine be collected from a dead man?

Charles F. Ruthenberg, radical leader, died while an appeal to the Federal Supreme Court was pending from his conviction under the Michigan antisyndicalism statute. A Michigan court had ruled that he must pay a $5000 fine and serve three to ten years in prison.

His $7500 bond is held by the court, and Prosecutor Bookwalter of Berrien county contends that the fine should be collected from it, although death has freed Ruthenberg from the prison term.

Ruthenberg's death before the high court could act upon his appeal leaves undecided the constitutionality of the Michigan law defining criminal syndicalism.

Of twenty-one asserted Communists arrested in a raid on a meeting in the Michigan dunes in 1922, only Ruthenberg and William Z. Foster were tried. The Foster jury disagreed. All of those arrested put up Liberty Bonds for bail, and the interest on this $56,500 in surety is still being paid to the owners of the bonds.

FORGERY IN BRADY CASE REPORTED

Expert Gives Statement After Examining One of Documents in Inquiry

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (AP)—Edward O. Heinrich, Berkeley criminologist, reported today to the San Francisco Bar Association committee investigating Dist.-Atty. Brady's office that one of the documents concerned in the inquiry is a forgery.

Heinrich was engaged by the bar committee to make a microscopic examination of certain records. Among the records was a receipt for $644.20 supposedly signed by Mrs. Emma A. Duffey when she received pay for boarding two witnesses during the trial of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle five years ago. Mrs. Duffey contended that she received only $200 instead of the $644.20 shown by the receipt. Her contention is supported by the flat statement of the expert, who says the signature on the receipt is not Mrs. Duffey's.

On being told of Heinrich's report, Brady declared that he sent Mrs. Duffey the money by her son, then a clerk in the District Attorney's office. He said he knew nothing of whether Mrs. Duffey signed the receipt or not.

"It is a significant thing, isn't it, that if she didn't get all the money, she has waited five years to make any complaint about it?" Brady remarked.

Government of Egypt Said to Have Resigned

LONDON, April 18. (AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cairo says that the Egyptian government has resigned.

The Egyptian ministry was formed on June 6, 1926, with Adly Yeghen Pasha, and was reported to have been constituted on the request of King Fuad on the advice of former Premier Zagloul Pasha, whose party had been successful in the immediately preceding elections. The possibility of Zagloul's taking the Premiership himself had caused a tense situation in Great Britain because of his strong nationalist sympathies.

The Cabinet of Adly Yeghen Pasha was reported to be facing a ministerial crisis last December, the Cairo correspondent of the London Daily Mail saying that it had split regarding the suggestion that the government enter the cotton market in an effort to overcome the slump in cotton.

New York Holds British Queen of Bootleggers

NEW YORK, April 18. (Exclusive) Mme. De Caseras, known in the British press as "Queen of the Bootleggers," arrived in New York today, having been deported from England a week ago, and straightaway bumped into more trouble here. She was detained when the Cunarder Caronia landed and was taken to Ellis Island for questioning.
ernment officials were detaining the renment officials were detaining the "queen" was not made clear.

CUSTOMS PATROL MERGED WITH DRYS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (Exclusive)—Fifteen men who formerly comprised the customs border patrol, but who were left without positions by retrenchments in the prohibition forces today were merged with Administrator Bohner's dry forces on authority from Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews. The agents will take the place of those recently lopped from the bureau by Bohner to make way for the advent of civil service employees.

LEAK IN TANK HOLDS UP FRENCH FLYER

CASABLANCA (Morocco) April 18. (AP)—Capt. Saint-Roman, French aviator, who is undertaking a flight to Buenos Aires, postponed his departure from Casa Blanca today after discovery of a leak in the gasoline tank and other minor damages to the plane. The repairs will require several days. The flight was begun from Berre, near Marseilles, France, Saturday morning.

TAFT'S YALE SPEECH WILL BE BROADCAST

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Chief Justice Taft will be the principal speaker at a "round the world" Yale dinner Wednesday evening. His address will be broadcast by two radio networks aggregating twenty-seven stations, from the Carlton Hotel here.

TRACTOR DRIVER DROWNS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (AP)—Michael J. Bowman, 22 years of age, was reported drowned today when a 2600-pound tractor went off a wharf on the water front here and sank in twenty feet of water. The body had not been recovered late tonight. Bowman was towing freight trucks on the docks when the accident happened.

CONTEST OF WILL AID TO UNIVERSITY

Court Rules $250,000 of Millionaire's Estate be Paid to U. of C.

SALEM (Mass.) April 18. (AP)—The University of California today was awarded $250,000 under the will of the late Edward F. Searles, Methuen millionaire recluse, through the finding of Judge Dow that Victor A. Searles, a nephew, had forfeited his claim to the bequest by contesting the will. It was indicated that the decision will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

Arthur T. Walker, executor and chief beneficiary of the will, had asked for a ruling of the Probate Court. The will contained a clause declaring that in event of contest by any heir his bequest would go to the University of California.

Attorneys for Victor A. Searles said that he had made no contest. They state that he had simply opposed the probating of the will to give time for investigation. Victor Searles reached a settlement with Walker so that the former's court action was dropped. Judge Dow, however, ruled that there had been a contest within the meaning of the law and provision of the will.

Gen. Weyler of Spain Freed in De Rivera Plot

MADRID (Spain) April 18. (AP)—Gen. Weyler, Governor-General of Cuba during the Spanish-American War, was freed by the military court today after trial on charges in connection with a plot last June to overthrow the government of Premier Primo De Rivera. Gen. Aguilera, former Minister of War, was sentenced to six months and one day in jail.

Col. Segundo Garcia was sentenced to eight years in prison; Lieut.-Col. Bermudez Castro, six years and one day; Capt. Galan, six years and one day; Capt. Perea and Lieut. Rubio, six years and one day.

Gen. Batet, Commander Dorreo, aide to Gen. Aguilera, and Capt. Hernando were freed.

The majority of civilians also said to have been involved in the June plot were acquitted.

Oregon Towns Celebrate New Railway Service

KLAMATH FALLS (Or.) April 18. (AP)—Portland today joined hands with Klamath Falls in celebrating inauguration of through-passenger service over the new $38,000,000 Southern Pacific Cascade line.

Thirty-one business executives of Portland arrived today on the first southbound limited train over the line—"the Cascade." This train cuts three and a half hours from the running time between Portland and San Francisco. The Cascade line is twenty-three and one-half miles shorter than the route through Roseburg, Medford and Ashland.

Deposed Mexico State Governor Crosses Border

EL PASO (Tex.) April 18. (AP)—Col. Jesus A. Almeida, deposed last week as Governor of the State of Chihuahua, Mex., accompanied by his brothers, C. E. and Estaban Almeida, with Joaquin Valles, secretary to the deposed Governor, crossed into the United States and registered at a hotel at Alpine, Tex., late today, according to information received here.

United States border patrolmen have detained the party pending investigation, it was learned.

'THIRD DEGREE' DENIALS GIVEN

Detectives Called to Stand in Strike Death Trial

Union Suspects' Statements Declared Voluntary

Police Witnesses Testify as Defense Rests

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (Exclusive)—Two police detectives accused of beating Gus Madsen and George Pesce, union carpenters, into admissions that they were members of a gang that fatally attacked C. W. Campbell, nonunion carpenter, denied the accusation from the witness stand in Superior Judge Conlan's court today. They were called as rebuttal witnesses by the prosecution when the defense rested its case.

Madsen and Pesce are on trial for Campbell's murder but deny complicity. Statements said to have been made by them to police, admitting participation in the beating of Campbell, were characterized by them on the witness stand as admissions forced out of them in a police "third degree."

Detective Alex McDaniel and Detective Sergeant Marvin Dowell, both of whom took part in the arrest of Madsen and Pesce, declared from the stand that neither of the defendants was mistreated or roughly handled. The officers said the statements made by Madsen and Pesce were in response to questions put by Detective Sergeant Thomas Hyland, were read back to both men and that both signed without making any corrections or without promise of any immunity.

REBUKE BY COURT

Attorney Nate Coghlan for the defense aroused the ire of Judge Conlan by repeated inferences that the witnesses were not telling the truth. At one point in the proceedings, Coghlan burst out:

"If the officer tries to show that beatings are not administered to persons arrested and brought to this hall (the Hall of Justice) I'll prove that what he says is not true."

Prosecutor Skillin took heated exception to the remark and the general character of Coghlan's tactics on cross-examination and Judge Conlan rebuked the defense attorney. Several other times during the day's sessions clashes between the attorneys brought admonishing remarks from the court.

Detective Dowell was asked directly if a promise of probation had not been offered Pesce in return for a voluntary statement regarding the Campbell beating.

"No such promise was made," replied the officer.

VIOLENCE DENIED

Efforts of the defense to show that the statements were written by Detective Sergeant Hyland and the defendants kicked and cuffed until they signed them, also failed of substantiation in Dowell's testimony. He insisted no violence was used at any time and denied that Hyland dictated the statements.

Previous testimony to the effect that Campbell was buried as McIvan Campbell, rather than C. W. Campbell, for the purpose of injecting a question as to the identity of the slain man, also was referred to by Attorney Coghlan, but no explanation of the questioning was offered.

The defense completed its case this afternoon, with the proviso that one more witness may be called later if considered advisable. Rebuttal testimony rounded out the day's session and will continue tomorrow.

NEW USAGE FOR SANDWICHES

As Substitute for Floss in Mattresses State Raises Objections

SACRAMENTO, April 18. (AP) Sandwiches as a substitute for floss in mattresses was reported by the State Department of Agriculture today as a result of an inspection of a stock of second-hand bed material in Long Beach. The inspection was made by Ray W. Vance, bedding inspector for the division of weights and measures, and the report submitted to Charles F. Hayden, division chief.

Frequently, according to Vance's letter, cheap mattresses have been found to be stuffed with jute, shoddy materials and sweepings from the floors of the factories. Occasionally nails, tacks and cigarettes have found their way into the ticks, but the sandwich is the latest addition to the foreign material list.

FRESNO MAN ON HIGHWAY COMMISSION

M. B. Harris, ex-Member of State Senate, Appointed to Post by Gov. Young

SACRAMENTO, April 18. (AP)—The appointment of M. B. Harris of Fresno as the third member of the State Highway Commission, was announced today by Gov. Young.

Harris is a former State Senator. He was not a candidate for re-election to this session of the Legislature.

Gov. Young summoned Harris to Sacramento without telling him of the desire to appoint him. Harris's appointment completes the commission. The other members are Ralph W. Bull of Eureka and J. B. Baumgartner of Santa Ana.

Reed's Illness Causes Delay in Ford Action

DETROIT, April 18. (AP)—Illness of Senator Reed of Missouri, chief counsel for Henry Ford, caused adjournment today of the $1,000,000 libel suit filed against the motor manufacturer by Aaron Sapiro, Chicago lawyer. The trial probably will be resumed tomorrow.

Senator Reed suffered an attack of acute indigestion early today as he neared Detroit on a train from Washington after a visit to the capital during the Easter holidays.

Senator Reed was able to walk from the train to an automobile He was hurried to a hotel and given medical attention. Associate counsel said the Senator was not dangerously ill and probably would be able to appear in court tomorrow.

Today was to have been the fourteenth day that Senator Reed had faced Sapiro in the wearying task of cross-examination.

Wage Increase Awarded 10,000 Espee Workers

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (AP)—Approximately 10,000 employees of the Southern Pacific Company were granted wage increases ranging from 2 to 7 cents an hour in a decision rendered by a board of arbitration here today.

The decision was made after long conferences by representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Baggage Handlers and Station Employees and Southern Pacific officials.

Grocers who profiteer are now penalized by the Paris police, who prohibit the offenders from displaying their wares on pavements in front of their stores.

al amendment by the people was a mistake," said Jacobson of San Francisco. "The people did not understand what they were voting."

TO PRISON COMMITTEE

Lieut.-Gov. Fitts today announced that Senators Joseph Pedrotti of Los Angeles and Patrick Gray of San Francisco are his appointees to the joint legislative committee created to investigate the feasibility of locating the third State prison in Southern California.

"I chose these men because of their familiarity with the necessities in the case and their interest in prison work. They are well qualified for their duties," said the Lieutenant-Governor.

The commission will report back to the next Legislature. The third prison is expected to relieve the crowded conditions at Folsom and San Quentin and also greatly reduce the expense of transporting prisoners from the southern part of the State. Speaker Levey will make his appointments next week. It is considered likely that the prison will be built upon one of the channel islands.

ARMY NOW SERVED WORMLESS COFFEE

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Presumably our doughboys would not stand for worm-eaten coffee now. The Army has just got out its third cook book since the war between the States. The modern version has nothing like the following in the first post-war book: "The presence of wormholes in coffee should not occasion its rejection, since they generally indicate age, weigh nothing and disappear when the coffee is ground."

BEASTS IN EASTER PARADE

ASBURY PARK (N. J.) April 18. (AP) It must be that to be in style a girl will have to tote some sort of an animal in promenading on the beach this summer. Led in the Asbury Park Easter parade were about half a dozen white rabbits, ten monkeys and oodles of dogs.

RUN MARKS COMPLETION OF NEW LINK

Espee Train Goes from Nogales to Guadalajara Over Mexico City Line

MEXICO CITY, April 18. (Exclusive)—The new direct route between Mexico City and California was "baptized" with the arrival at Guadalajara yesterday of a train from Nogales. This marks the completion of the Southern Pacific link between La Quemada and Nayarit.

On reaching the Salsipuedes viaduct, last link to be completed, the train was divided into two sections, since it was heavily loaded and a few finishing touches remain to be put on the bridge.

The new link will be inaugurated officially May 8, next, probably by President Calles and Gen. Obregon among others.

Station Master Foils Hold-up of Mexico Train

MEXICO CITY, April 18. (AP)—An attempt to hold up a Juarez-Mexico City train by a group of twenty rebels was frustrated by the station master at Berriezbel, between Zacatecas and Aguascalientes, Saturday night. He sent a warning before the telegraph lines were cut. The bandits departed after killing the station master's wife and robbing the station.

The group is believed to be one of several operating in the State of Jalisco, having crossed into Zacatecas to escape the Federal troops.

SENATOR TAYLOR TO BE REMOVED TO HIS HOME

SACRAMENTO, April 18. (AP)—Senator Cadet Taylor of Pomona, injured two weeks ago by an automobile in front of the State Capitol, will be removed to his home in Southern California tomorrow, it was announced at Sutter Hospital tonight. His condition was reported as improving but his hip will be in a cast for two weeks or so.

Assembly Vote Unanimous for Children's Aid

SACRAMENTO, April 18. (AP)—State and county governments will unite in the rehabilitation of physically handicapped children under a bill by Assemblyman Coombs of Napa, which passed the Assembly today by unanimous vote.

The bill carries an appropriation of $45,000 by the State for the support of the work by the State Board of Health. The work is the same as now being carried on by Rotary clubs and Masonic lodges in the State and Mr. Coombs declares that it will operate in perfect harmony with the work now being done by those organizations.

McCORMACK'S EASTER GIFT

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Evidently lots of folks disagree with modest John McCormack, who has said that the best singer today is Edward Johnson. John's Easter concert at Carnegie Hall drew $20,000 net. He got none of it. It all goes to Holy Cross College.

Bill Proposes New Judge in Juvenile Cases

SACRAMENTO, April 18. (AP)—An additional Superior Court judge to try juvenile cases would be provided for San Francisco, Los Angeles and Alameda counties under a bill introduced in the Senate today by Senator Maloney of San Francisco.

TRACTOR OVERCOMES WYOMING SNOWDRIFTS

LANCE CREEK (Wyo.) April 18. (AP) There are up-to-date ways of relieving food shortages in isolated communities. A tractor broke through snowdrifts ten to fifteen feet deep for a distance of thirty miles and pulled a trailer from Lusky with supplies. The trip took nineteen hours.

SCHOOLS SHOW PROGRESS

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Vacuum cleaners are to be used hereafter to erase the day's work on blackboards in the city's schools. Erasers will still be necessary during school hours, but they will be cleansed of chalk dust by vacuum instead of being beaten.

THE ROMANCE OF MODERN BUSINESS!

IN days of old, bold adventuresome knights rode forth to conquer and blazon trails...inspired by fair queens and rugged kings... depending upon force of arms to further their causes...and bringing to the feet of their liege the result of their conquests.

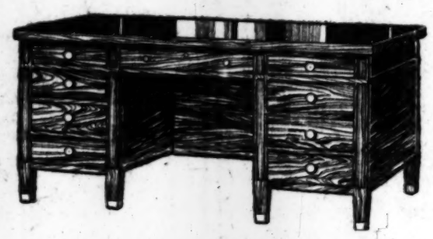
Today our modern knights fare forth in the battlefields of business. They are the real, worthwhile crusaders... not the takers but the makers of empires. They have multiplied wealth, happiness and international goodwill.

They have advanced the good name of their cities and communities far more than the force of arms would ever do...into the remote hamlets and corners of the globe where sword thrusts would never reach.

...And so Miss Los Angeles,

"Queen of the Western Seas"—

SENDS FORTH HER KNIGHTS of BUSINESS TO BUILD HER INDUSTRIAL EMPIRE!



A National Product Made in Los Angeles

American Desks

Remember you are buying a strictly Los Angeles product, which has won its spurs through the combination of unvarying high quality, and the efforts of Los Angeles men.

A dollar spent for American Desks is a dollar put back into Los Angeles payrolls, to build a greater Los Angeles.

Remember the name— Ask for American Desks when you buy.

MISS Los Angeles..."Queen of the Western Seas"...has her ever-increasing army of aggressive crusaders, carrying her fame into far-off lands.

Prominent among these is the American Desk Company, strictly a Los Angeles institution, which was started in a small, unpretentious manner a few years ago by a group of representative Los Angeles business men...and which now occupies a large, modernly equipped factory that ships American Desks all over the United States and to Hawaii.

This firm is ever increasing its field of operations, even as it continually endeavors to improve the quality of its product.

American Desks are the result of 17 years specialization. They have taken numerous First Prizes in open competition, and letters of endorsement are constantly reaching us commending the fine quality built into them. We are exclusive distributors in Los Angeles for this fine local produc-

CHAIN LETTERS AID REED BOOM

Missouri Senator's Friends Start Writing Campaign

"Show-Me" State Reported as 90 Per Cent for Move

Hope to Seize Plum After Convention Deadlock

KANSAS CITY, April 18. (Exclusive)—The chain-letter system is to be employed in Senator James A. Reed's campaign for the Democratic nomination for President.

Ed Glenn of Louisiana, Mo., the Senator's campaign manager in 1922 and regarded as his unofficial manager now, has started the chain of letters. The Senator's friends in Missouri have been asked to write letters to all their relatives and friends in other States asking them "to get busy for Reed."

"At least 90 per cent of Missouri's population is talking Reed for President," Mr. Glenn said. "If a small per cent could go so far for Champ Clark in 1912, it is reasonable to believe that almost all of Missouri could put Senator Reed over in 1928."

The strategy of the Reed campaign if it is to be made, virtually was determined by out-State friends of the Senator, meeting Kansas City Democratic leaders, at the annual Jefferson Day dinner here last week.

Unless the situation should change it is possible the Reed forces would make no effort to launch the Senator's campaign on a big basis. The Senator would be held back in the hope he would not draw fire from the other candidates and therefore could go into the convention in a fine position to attract widespread support in the event of another Smith-McAdoo deadlock.

Just now the Reed forces are counting strongly on six States being for the Senator from the first. Among the States counted on by the Senator's friends are Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas. That the Senator's friends would make an effort to get other surrounding States, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Colorado and Iowa, appeared certain following the conferences last week.

TRAFFIC TIED UP BY BROKEN WATER MAIN

CLEVELAND, April 18. (AP)—Breaking of a water main in a public square today tied up rush-hour traffic, inundated the public square and several blocks to the west, caused thousands of dollars' damage to goods in basements of business houses and forced all traffic off the high level bridge.

WOMAN WRITER OF FICTION ASPHYXIATED

SALT LAKE CITY, April 18. (AP)—Mrs. Lucy M. Blanchard, 58 years of age, widely known writer of fiction, was asphyxiated in her home today. Her body was found on the kitchen floor by her husband. She had been preparing a cake. Among some of her popular books were "Joan's California Summer" and "Chico, the Story of a Homing Pigeon."

KIDNAPERS FREE TRIO WHEN PAID

Chicago Cafe Men Regain Liberty After Ransom of $100,000 is Turned Over

CHICAGO, April 18. (AP)—Jacob Adler and Frank Galello, owners of the Midnight Frolics Cafe, and Tony Albino, their chauffeur, who were kidnaped early Thursday morning, were released late tonight after the ransom demanded by their kidnapers had been paid.

The amount of the ransom paid was not revealed, but it was said to have been $100,000 for the two cafe men, with no ransom demanded for their chauffeur. The men, blindfolded, were released at different places at half-hour intervals. All three were reported in a state of collapse, chiefly through lack of sleep during their activity.

Federal Farm Loan Board to be Reorganized

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Early reorganization of the Federal Farm Loan Board which has been contemplated by the administration was indicated today when it became known that Robert A. Cooper and Edward E. Jones had submitted their resignation as members of the board.

President Coolidge is expected to accept both resignations which will leave three vacancies on the board of six members. Elmer Landes also resigned recently and his place has not been filled.

While the Treasury has complained principally over the financing policies of the board and has desired more authority to supervise this work, it is understood the administration has believed more could be accomplished in the direction of farm relief through different administration.

SCHOOL TO TRAIN WIVES

The first State School for Housewives will open soon at Berlin for the purpose of training young women for the duties of wifehood. The course lasts one year and includes training in cookery, gardening, general hygiene and care of infants. After one year's training graduates are given diplomas which will enable them to take positions as teachers in this line, but those who d sire to teach must have attained a certain average in the grammar school.

The following is a summary of the decree of Hon. Wm. P. James, Judge of the United States District Court, for the Southern District of California, for the Ninth Circuit, entered April 18th, 1927, which decrees as follows:

"That United States Letters Patent No. 1,125,476, granted January 19, 1915, for a System of Illuminating by Luminescent Tubes, are good and valid in law.

"That Georges Claude was the original, first and sole inventor of the System of Illuminating by Luminescent Tubes described and claimed in the said Letters Patent.

"That the plaintiff herein, Electrical Products Corporation, is the lawful owner by sale, grant and transfer . . . of the exclusive right and license to manufacture, use and sell the said invention described in and covered by said Letters Patent No. 1,125,476, in and throughout the States of California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, the City of El Paso, Texas, and the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands.

"That since September 10, 1925, and commencing before the filing of the bill of complaint herein, the said General Sign Company, Frank A. Guernsay, S. W. Hertz, J. J. Madine, and C. L. Langley have conducted a business, within the Southern District of California, of making, using, selling, renting, leasing and servicing illuminating tubes containing neon, and signs and other devices comprising said tubes, and that in the conduct of such business defendants have infringed upon said Letters Patent and particularly Claims 1 and 2 thereof. . . ."

"That plaintiff recover of said defendants General Sign Company, Frank A. Guernsay, S. W. Hertz, J. J. Madine, and C. L. Langley, and each of them, the profits and gains which the said defendants have derived or received by reason of the aforesaid infringement of Claims 1 and 2 of the said Letters Patent, and that plaintiff do recover of said defendants, and each of them, any and all damages which the plaintiff has sustained by reason of said infringement.

"That a perpetual injunction issue out of and under the seal of this Court, directed to the said defendants, General Sign Company, Frank A. Guernsay, S. W. Hertz, J. J. Madine and C. L. Langley, their workmen, agents, attorneys, servants and associates, restraining them, and each of them, from hereafter directly or indirectly committing any of the acts of infringement aforesaid, or from directly or indirectly infringing and from aiding and abetting others in infringing upon Claims 1 and 2 of United States Letters Patent to Georges Claude, No. 1,125,476, patented January 19, 1915."

Q. How does the car owner benefit by the United States Rubber Company's operation of its own Cotton Mills?

A. Cotton Cord is the backbone of every tire. So no tire can be better than the cord used in it—and the quality of United States Tires benefits greatly by these cord mills.

They were established ten years ago solely for the purpose of producing an adequate supply of uniformly high grade tire cord, made strictly according to the specifications laid down for United States Tires.

The establishment and operation of these mills, like every other United States Rubber Company development, leads directly to longer tire life and greater value for the car owner's dollar.

NEUTRAL ZONE ORDER ISSUED

Latimer Forbids Nicaraguan Fighting at Matagalpa

Action Follows Preparations for Threatened Attack

Stimson in Conference With President Diaz

MANAGUA, April 18. (AP)—Rear-Admiral Julian Latimer, commander of the American naval forces in Nicaraguan waters, today ordered the inland city of Matagalpa made a neutral zone.

Fighting within 2000 yards of the boundary of the zone and the presence of armed troops within the area are forbidden.

Admiral Latimer's action was the result of the threat of fighting in Matagalpa, the Liberals having prepared to attack the city and the Conservatives having concentrated on the borders outside the city to meet the attack. The Liberal force in the vicinity of Matagalpa is believed to be a detachment under Gen. Sandoval, which escaped the Conservative encircling movement of recent weeks.

A detachment of 325 marines will remain in Matagalpa, where about 100 Americans and 100 other foreigners reside. Ninety marines are stationed at Ciudaddario near by. Fighting has been reported north of Bacoco, with the Conservatives claiming the advantage.

Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of War, who arrived here yesterday on a mission from President Coolidge to study the true state of affairs in Nicaragua, conferred today with President Adolfo Diaz, the Conservative executive, but did not make public the purpose of his visit.

ARMY MAN LOSES WIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (AP)—Asserting that the reason her husband, Lieut. William R. Sweeney, United States Army, would not take her to his station at Galveston, Tex., was because he had a sweetheart there, Mrs. Dorothy Sweeney of San Francisco appealed to the Superior Court here today for a divorce. She got it.

MIDINETTES REVENGED FOR INSULT BY FRENCH ACADEMY

PARIS, April 18. (AP)—The "midinettes," attractive little working girls of France who were refused a place in the Academie Francaise's ponderous dictionary, are revenged.

On the Saturday afternoon following the Academy's learned decision that midinette was a slang word and as such not admissible in a dictionary of pure French the young women in question marched by the way of the Paris boulevards to the Bridge of the Arts where with shouts they dumped a straw academician into the Seine.

The midinettes were not the only ones to take up the challenge of the "Forty Immortals" of the Academy. French writers have heaped a storm of criticism and mockery upon their heads.

The midinette is dear to the French heart. She got her name from midi, noon in French, because at midday the working girls come out by thousands from the shops and factories. In fine weather they eat their cold lunch, sitting on street and park benches, and then go into small cafes for a glass of coffee, if they can afford it. Parisians smile at the giggles and laughter and forgive the pranks because the girls are so full of life and radiate joy on small pay.

BIDS CALLED FOR ON NAPLES ROAD PAVING

SACRAMENTO, April 18. (AP)—The State Highway Commission today called for bids for the paving of one and a half miles of highway between Naples and Anaheim Bay, Los Angeles and Orange counties. The proposals will be considered at a meeting here May 16.

YOUTHS TAKEN HERE ADMIT SLAYING MAN

KANSAS CITY, April 18. (AP)—Spencer Norton and Ralph Perry, 18-year-old cousins, returned here from Los Angeles today, confessed the kidnaping and murder of A. H. Weidenmann, insurance man, here March 19, R. L. Toyne, chief of detectives, announced.

TWO BAY CITY MEN KNIGHTED BY ITALY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (AP)—Two San Francisco business men were knighted by the King of Italy today. At a luncheon attended by A. P. Giannini of the Bank of Italy and several members of the Italian colony decorations of the Chevalier of the Crown of Italy were conferred upon James J. Fagan, vice-president and general manager of the Crocker First National Bank, and Prentiss Cobb Hale, prominent merchant and official of the Bank of Italy.

The citations were made by Chevalier Luigi Sillitti, Italian Consul-General, in recognition of the work of the two men toward the interests of Italian colonists.

WOMAN DISLOCATES JAW WHILE YAWNING

OAKLAND, April 18. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Weller greeted the day with a wide and prolonged yawn this morning and found she could not close her mouth. She was taken to a hospital, where physicians administered an anaesthetic and reset the jaw. Mrs. Weller said she is through with yawning. This was the fourth time since August she has had a similar experience.

Supreme Court to Review Dry Evidence Cases

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Two prohibition cases, involving the method of obtaining evidence are to be reviewed by the Supreme Court, which announced today that it will listen to the actions of Joseph F. Marron of San Francisco, and Ole Berkeness of Fairbanks, Alaska.

Marron was convicted twice, but contended that the government unlawfully used as evidence private books of account, papers and documents obtained by illegal search and seizure. Berkeness said evidence obtained in a private residence on a search warrant which did not charge intoxicating liquor was being sold was illegal.

RANCH LOSES RIVER RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—The Humboldt Land and Cattle Company, owners of the Horseshoe Ranch on the Humboldt River in Nevada, lost in the Supreme Court today in a controversy with officials of Nevada over their right to use waters of the river for irrigation and other purposes.

Liquid "Dry" Tonic Shampoo Used Without Water

NOW,
A Finger Wave that Lasts

Menth-O-Foam gives you a beautiful, natural looking wave in just a few minutes. Our free instruction booklet shows you just how to set it in. Mail coupon below.

Menth-O-Foam gives you deep, natural looking waves that will fall softly and gracefully about the face. If you have had a permanent wave it will make it last longer and set deeper.

Menth-O-Foam cleanses the hair thoroughly and completely without water and in one-half the usual time. It loosens the dust and oil and carries it away in its thick lather, automatically rinsing and cleaning the hair with each application. When the lather is snow-white the hair is clean. All that is necessary is to squeeze off the foam and rub dry with a towel, setting in the waves with the fingers while the hair is still damp.

Menth-O-Foam leaves absolutely no soap in the hair. Its soap content when applied is less than one-half of one per cent, which is itself thoroughly removed from the hair by the action of the other cleansing agents. Menth-O-Foam can be used anywhere and is convenient and quick—it takes but ten or fifteen minutes from start to finish for the average bobbed head.

TRADE SECRETS LITIGATION ENDS

Supreme Court Dismisses Attack on Commission

Injunction Fight Instituted Seven Years Ago

Fear of Questioning Denied Until Action Begun

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Seven years' litigation in which the inquisitorial powers of the Federal Trade Commission were challenged went into the discard today when the Supreme Court dismissed the injunction proceedings brought by the Claire Furnace Company and twenty-one other corporations in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York, Delaware, New Jersey and Maryland.

In an opinion by Chief Justice Taft, the court held that the companies involved had no right to fear the orders of the commission, which had sought monthly reports concerning details of their business, until the Attorney-General had taken some action against them in the courts. Justice McReynolds dissented.

The litigation, resulting from the commission's effort to obtain information to aid Congress in shaping legislation designed to reduce living costs, was instituted in 1920 in the District of Columbia Supreme Court, which enjoined the commission from proceeding with its program. The companies had contended that the commission had exceeded its authority and insisted they could not be compelled to furnish information, much of it, they held, relating to trade secrets.

On appeal by the government, the court of appeals held the injunction good, and the case reached the United States Supreme Court four years ago.

Appropriation for Improving Canal Sought

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Appropriation of $50,000,000 for construction of additional facilities on the Panama Canal was urged upon President Coolidge today by Chairman Madden of the House Appropriations Committee.

Representative Madden, who took part in the negotiations for construction of the canal, said he told the President that if triplicate locks were installed there, the proposed Nicaraguan canal would not be necessary for years to come. The canal now has duplicate locks.

"Times" Daily Short Story

The Badge of Policeman O'Roon

By O. HENRY

Remsen saw her and knew his fate. He could have flung himself under the very wheels that conveyed her.

ELLSWORTH Remsen, whose old Knickerbocker descent atoned for his modest rating at only ten millions, ate his canned beef gayly by the campfires of the Gentle Riders. The war was a great lark to him, so that he scarcely regretted polo and planked shad.

One of the troopers was a well set up, affable, cool young man, who called himself O'Roon. To this young man Remsen took an especial liking. The two rode side by side during the famous mooted up-hill charge that was disputed so hotly at the time by the Spaniards and afterward by the Democrats.

After the war Remsen came back to his polo and shad. One day a well set up, affable, cool young man disturbed him at his club, and he and O'Roon were soon pounding each other and exchanging opprobrious epithets after the manner of long-lost friends. O'Roon looked seedy and out of luck and perfectly contented. But it seemed that his content was only apparent.

"Get me a job, Remsen," he said. "I've just handed a barber my last shilling."

"No trouble at all," said Remsen. "I know a lot of men who have banks and stores and things downtown. Any particular line you fancy?"

"Yes," said O'Roon, with a look of interest. "I took a walk in your Central Park this morning. I'd like to be one of those bobbies on horseback. That would be about the ticket. Besides, it's the only thing I could do. I can ride a little and the fresh air suits me. Think you could land that for me?"

Remsen was sure that he could. And in a very short time he did. And they who were not above looking at mounted policemen might have seen a well set up, affable, cool young man on a prancing chestnut steed attending to his duties along the driveways of the park.

And now at the extreme risk of wearying old gentlemen who carry leather fob chains, and elderly ladies who—but no! grandmother herself, at thrills at foolish, immortal Romeo—there must be a hint of love at first sight.

It came just as Remsen was strolling into Fifth avenue from his club a few doors away.

A motor car was creeping along foot by foot, impeded by a freshet of vehicles that filled the street. In the car was a chauffeur and an old gentleman with snowy side whiskers and a Scotch plaid cap which could not be worn while automobiling except by a personage. Not even a wine agent would dare do it. But these two were of no consequence—except, perhaps, for the guiding of the machine and the paying for it. At the old gentleman's side sat a young lady more beautiful than pomegranate blossoms, more exquisite than the first-quarter moon viewed at twilight through the tops of oleanders. Remsen saw her and knew his fate. He could have flung himself under the very wheels that conveyed her but he knew that would be the last means of attracting the attention of those who ride in motor cars. Slowly the auto passed, and, if we place the poets above the autoists, carried the heart of Remsen with it. Here was a large city of millions, and many women who at a certain distance appear to resemble pomegranate blossoms. Yet he hoped to see her again; for each one fancies that his romance has its own tutelary guardian and divinity.

Luckily for Remsen's peace of mind there came a diversion in the guise of a reunion of the Gentle Riders of the city. There were not many of them—perhaps a score—and there was wassail and things to eat, and speeches and the Spaniard was bearded again in recapitulation. And when daylight threatened them the survivors prepared to depart. Of some remained upon the battlefield. One of these was Trooper O'Roon, who was not seasoned to potent liquids. His legs declined to fulfil the obligations they had sworn to the police department.

"I'm stewed, Remsen," said O'Roon to his friend. "Why do they build hotels that go round and round like catherine wheels? They'll take away my shield and break me. I can think and talk con-con-consec-sec-secutively, but I s-s-stammer with my feet. I've got to go on duty in three hours. The jig is up, Remsen. The jig is up. I tell you."

"Look at me," said Remsen, who was his smiling self, pointing to his own face; "whom do you see here?"

"Goo, fellow," said O'Roon, dimly. "Goo, old Remsen."

"Not so," said Remsen. "You see Mounted Policeman O'Roon. Look at your face—no; you can't do that without a glass—but look at mine, and think of yours. How much alike are we? As two French table d'hote dinners. With your badge, on your horse, in your uniform, will I charm nurse-maids and prevent the grass from growing under people's feet in the park this day. I will have your badge and your honor, besides having the jolliest lark I've been blessed with since we licked Spain."

Promptly on time the counterfeit presentment of Mounted Policeman O'Roon single-footed into the park on his chestnut steed. In a uniform two men who are unlike will look alike; two who somewhat resemble each other in feature and figure will appear as twin brothers. So Remsen trotted down the bridle paths, enjoying himself hugely, as few real pleasures do ten-millionaires have.

Along the driveway in the early morning spun a victoria drawn by a pair of fiery bays. There was something foreign about the affair, for the Park is rarely used in the morning except by unimportant people who love to be healthy, poor and wise, in the vehicle sat an old gentleman with snowy side-whiskers and a Scotch plaid cap which could not be worn while driving except by a personage. At his side sat the lady of Remsen's heart—the lady who looked like pomegranate blossoms and the Libbous moon.

Remsen met them coming. At the instant of their passing her eyes looked into his, and but for the ever coward's heart of a true lover he could have sworn that she flushed a faint pink. He trotted on for twenty yards, and then wheeled his horse at the sound of runaway hoofs. The bays had bolted.

Remsen sent his chestnut after the victoria like a shot. There was work cut out for the impersonator of Policeman O'Roon. The chestnut ranged alongside the off bay thirty seconds after the chase began, rolled his eye back at Remsen, and said in the only manner open to policemen's horses:

"Well, you duffer, are you going to do your share? You're not O'Roon, but it seems to me if you'd lean to the right you could reach the reins of that foolish slow-running bay—ah! you're all right; O'Roon couldn't have done it more neatly!"

The runaway team was tugged to an inglorious halt by Remsen's tough muscles. The driver released his hands from the wrapped reins, jumped from his seat and stood at the heads of the team. The chestnut, approving his new rider, danced and pranced, reviling equinely the subdued bays. Remsen, lingering, was dimly conscious of a vague, impossible, unnecessary old gentleman in a Scotch cap who talked incessantly about something. And he was acutely conscious of a pair of violet eyes that would have drawn Saint Pyrites from his iron pillar—or whatever the allusion is—and of the lady's smile and look—a little frightened, but a look that, with the ever-coward heart of a true lover, he could not yet construe. They were asking his name and bestowing upon him well-bred thanks for his heroic deed, and the Scotch cap was especially babbling and insistent. But the eloquent appeal was in the eyes of the lady.

A little thrill of satisfaction ran through Remsen, because he had a name to give which, without undue pride, was worthy of being spoken in high places, and a small fortune which, with due pride, he could leave at his end without disgrace.

He opened his lips to speak and closed them again.

Who was he? Mounted Policeman O'Roon. The badge and the honor of his comrade were in his hands. If Ellsworth Remsen, ten-millionaire and Knickerbocker, had just rescued something that demanded precedence—the fellowship of men on battlefields fighting an alien foe.

Remsen touched his cap, looked between the chestnut's ears, and took refuge in vernacularity.

"Don't mention it," he said stolidly. "We policemen are paid to do these things. It's our duty."

And he rode away—rode away cursing noblesse oblige, but knowing he could never have done anything else.

At the end of the day Remsen sent the chestnut to his stable and went to O'Roon's room. The policeman was again a well set up, affable, cool young man who sat by the window smoking cigars.

"I wish you and the rest of the police force and all badges, horses, brass buttons and men who can't drink two glasses of brut without getting upset were at the devil," said Remsen feelingly.

O'Roon smiled with evident satisfaction.

"Good old Remsen," he said, affably. "I know all about it. They trailed me down and cornered me here two hours ago. There was a little row at home, you know, and I cut sticks just to show them. I don't believe I told you that my Governor was the Earl of Ardsley. Funny you should bob against them in the park. If you damaged that horse of mine I'll never forgive you. I'm going to buy him and take him back with me. Oh, yes and I think my sister—Lady Angela, you know—wants particularly for you to come up to the hotel with me this evening. Didn't lose my badge did you, Remsen? I've got to turn that in at headquarters when I resign."

BLACK EYES NOW LONDON FAD

You Get 'em in Beauty Shop and Not in Argument With Neighbor

LONDON, April 18. (AP)—Black eyes are now the style among the smart Mayfair set.

The black eyes are furnished by beauty parlor experts and not by pugilists, however. They are obtained by shading the lids and under the eyes.

Some young things sport a single black eye, while others prefer a pair.

INDUSTRY'S ADVANCES SET FORTH

Manufacturers Boast of Leadership Over Other Lines in Progress

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Industry has eclipsed the progress achieved by any of the professions or nonindustrial pursuits, the National Association of Manufacturers said today. Politics, religion, morals and education have not kept pace with the success of industry, the association says in its reply to the recent appeal of forty-one southern bishops and ministers asking industrial leaders of the South to improve labor conditions.

"If the same degree of progress in the reformation of our political, religious, moral and educational lives had been made as has been made in our industrial life," the association states, "America would have very much less to worry about."

The statement, written by John E. Edgerton, president of the association, and president of the Tennessee Manufacturers' Association and the Lebanon Woolen Mills at Lebanon, Tenn., continues:

"It is probably true that the average preacher, teacher and social worker knows as little about the practical operations of economic law as the average industrialist knows about the operation of spiritual law."

MEXICAN STATEMENT REVIEWS OIL ISSUE

MEXICO CITY, April 18. (Exclusive)—Another statement on the oil controversy was issued today at the Secretariat of Industry, Commerce and Labor. It reviews the Mexican oil legislation, beginning with the conquest by Cortes and extending through to the present time, then again gives figures as to the companies accepting and holding out. The statement concludes with a tirade against the latter.

THE EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

You motor in the shade of evergreen trees — Picnic spots and pure mountain water everywhere

THERE is a wonderful, new, cool evergreen playground "Up North" calling you to enjoy snow-capped mountains, evergreen forests and inland seas. It's a Vacation Land easy for people of the Southwest to reach. Last year 150,000 of you came and enjoyed not only the recreations but the wonderful mild, sunshiny days, followed by cool nights. The average temperature from May to September is 60 degrees—excessive heat is unknown.

The cool, green forests are a constant joy to the motorist and traveler. Day after day may be spent upon paved or excellently surfaced highways, bordered and canopied mile after mile by giant cedars and firs. This region abounds in shady, picnic spots with streams of cold mountain water.

You will find every recreation you are looking for and additional diversion, such as swimming in the surf at noon and skiing down the mountain snow fields before sundown.

Six interesting and hospitable cities welcome you to the Evergreen Playground. Helpful bureaus of Tacoma, Seattle, Everett, Bellingham, Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., will assist you in your vacation plans. They will tell you how best to see such places of interest as Rainier National Park, Hood Canal, Snoqualmie Pass, Big Four Inn, Monte Cristo, Mt. Baker National Forest, Vancouver Island, Capilano Canyon, Grouse Mountain, and a hundred other places of scenic fame. You will be surprised to learn how much you can do and see at such small outlay in time and money.

Come by Rail, Sail & Paved Highways!

The Southern Pacific has four excellent through trains daily. The Admiral Line's palatial coastwise steamers sail semi-weekly and permit the checking of your car like baggage on the same steamer you travel on. Special rail and steamer round-trip rates this summer—ask the ticket agents.

The Pacific Highway is paved all the way to Vancouver, B.C., except 95 miles of excellent surfaced road in Northern California. Distance to Tacoma 1300 miles; Tacoma to Seattle 32 miles; Seattle to Everett 30 miles; Everett to Bellingham 70 miles; Bellingham to Vancouver 57 miles; Victoria, on Vancouver Island, 2½ hours to 4 hours by steamers or ferries from Seattle, Bellingham, Vancouver, Anacortes or Port Angeles.

If you go "Back East" this summer instruct your ticket agent to route you one way via "The Evergreen Playground." From California the through rate by steamer here and then eastbound is the same as your direct rail fare East. The all-rail trip via the northern lines is only slightly higher. See all the Pacific Coast—you'll enjoy it.

FACTS
about used car allowances

Most new car sales now involve the trading-in of a buyer's used car. More and more people are asking: "Why should my used car seem to have several values?.... Why should dealers in different makes of cars offer me allowances differing materially?.... Does the largest allowance offered mean the best deal for me?"

Here are basic facts:

1 Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

2 Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value: what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

3 The largest trade-in allowance which is offered on your used car is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; but sometimes it is not.

4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

5 Judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your used car.

When you are ready to trade-in your present car, remember that after all you are making a purchase and not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of the new car.

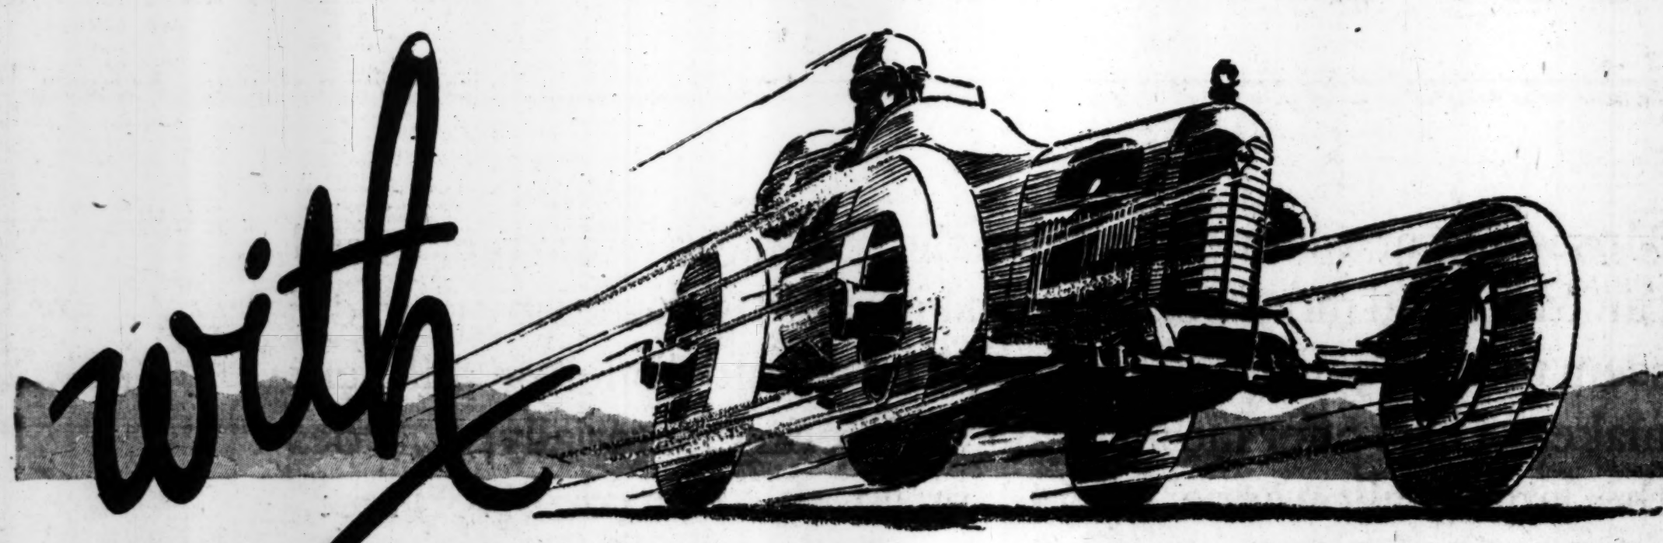
164 Miles Per Hour!

(a new world's record, made by 91 cu. in. motor)



with ETHYL Gasoline and ARISTO Motor Oil

Lancaster, California
April 11, 1927

In establishing a new world's record of 164.009 miles per hour at Roger's Dry Lake, Muroc, California, April 11, 1927, I used Ethyl Gasoline and Aristo Motor Oil, a pure mineral oil. Both performed perfectly.

This speed is an average of two one-mile runs, in opposite directions of 171.02 and 157.545 miles per hour, respectively.

Frank S. Lockhart

MAJOR SEAGRAVE recently drove the twenty-four cylinder, 1000 horsepower Mystery Sunbeam over the fastest mile ever traveled by an automobile—203 miles per hour.

But on the afternoon of April 11th another world's speed record, even more significant than that made by Major Seagrave, was accomplished.

Frank Lockhart, driving a tiny 91-cubic-inch Miller Special sped over the Dry Lake, California, straightaway at the terrific average speed of 164.009 miles per hour.

Seagrave's motor has 24 cylinders; Lockhart's has 8. The displacement of Seagrave's motor is 2,600 cu. in.; Lockhart's motor 91 cu. in.—only 1-29 as large. Seagrave's motor turned over 2,000 times per minute; Lockhart's motor over 7,000 times per minute.

Both Seagrave and Lockhart used Ethyl Gasoline and endorse it as the best and fastest gasoline known. Lockhart, instead of selecting castor oil, as is universally done by racing drivers, used Aristo Motor Oil, a pure California mineral oil.

The Ethyl gasoline plus Aristo provided him with the unbeatable combination that broke the world's mile speed record for all cars except the Seagrave Mystery Sunbeam.

You, too, will find this combination the most effective you have ever tried in your car.

Aristo Acknowledged

the world's most efficient motor oil

The engine in Lockhart's racer is of very high compression. It turned over more than 117 times each second during the record breaking test.

Aristo, however, did not break down when subjected to the high pressures, the terrific speed and the intense heat. Instead it retained its perfect lubricating qualities even at 164 miles per hour.

And the Aristo used by Frank Lockhart was the very same Aristo Motor Oil that you buy at any Union Oil station or independent dealer where you see the Aristo shield.

The finest, specially selected, California crudes used in the manufacture of Aristo made Frank Lockhart's record possible.

This scientific motor oil is the result of years of experimentation in one of the world's most complete and best equipped laboratories devoted to the research of petroleum products. It has been subjected to every kind of laboratory and road test. It is as nearly perfect as motor oil can be made.

Use Aristo consistently in your car. Its oily film penetrates to and protects every point of your engine no matter what the motor heat. Those who use Aristo exclusively find that their engines run smoother, and last longer than with ordinary motor oil. You'll notice a vast difference, too, after you try Aristo for 1000 miles.

• • • •

The next time you buy gasoline specify Union-Ethyl, the super motor fuel.

The next time you buy motor oil specify Aristo, acknowledged to be the world's most efficient motor oil.

Then you'll be enjoying the finest fuel-lubricant combination known.

JUGO-SLAVIA OFFERING ON MART SOON

New Issue of $12,000,000 Mortgage Bank Liens to be Sold in America

Following closely upon the successful marketing of the $30,000,000 government loan to Jugo-Slavia, announcement was made yesterday that a new issue of $12,000,000 State Mortgage Bank, Jugo-Slavia, will soon appear in the American market. Other financing announced includes the twentieth offering of insured first-mortgage certificates of the Mortgage Insurance Corporation and an issue of 19,000 shares of $6.50 cumulative preferred stock, no par value, of the People's Light and Power Corporation.

The State Mortgage Bank of Jugo-Slavia is one of the oldest mortgage banking institutions in Europe. Founded as a private institution in 1862, it became a government guaranteed bank in 1896 and is the only mortgage bank in the country bearing such a government guarantee. It was founded in order to administer the trusts and the estates of the State, churches and other public and private institutions, and has a long and successful record in promoting the economic welfare of the country through its credit grants.

The current issue of the Mortgage Insurance Corporation, totaling $500,000, is dated April 1, and includes a wide range of maturities from six months to eleven years. The issue is secured by 146 first liens on properties valued at $1,047,993.

G. L. Ohlstrom & Co., Inc., is offering the preferred stock of the Peoples' Light and Power Corporation. The corporation, through constituent properties, supplies public-utility service in territories which aggregate population estimated in excess of 385,000. The company's properties are located in thirteen States from coast to coast.

OIL SHARES AGAIN OFF; BANKS GAIN

California Petroleum and Standard at New Lows for Year; Bancitaly Up

Further reflecting the unsettled condition of the oil industry, oil stocks weakened again on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange with the resumption of trading following the three-day holiday. Opening prices were generally lower, reflecting the gasoline price reduction of last Friday.

California Petroleum opened at 24 7-8 and sold off to 24½ where it closed for a net loss of 1 1-8 points and a new low record for the year. Standard Oil of California and Union Oil were also at low records for the year at 54 and 40, respectively although both strengthened somewhat at the close. Standard closed at 54 3-8, off 1 1-8, and Union closed firm at 41 1-4.

Julian Petroleum preferred rallied on a large turnover to a close at 73-4, a net gain of ½ point. The common added a fraction to 1½. Shell-Union was inactive with a closing bid of 27. Richfield opened a point off at 15½, rallied to 16 and closed 5-8 of a point net lower at 15 7-8. Rio Grande added a point to 14½.

Bancitaly Corporation on a large volume added 3-4 of a point to 111 3-4 and closed 3-8 of a point net higher at 111 3-8. Bank of Italy continued to sell at the high of 175. Bancitaly rights sold up to 2.88 and closed 5 cents net higher at 2.85. Southern California Edison common was off 3-8 of a point to 32 5-8. Edison rights closed at 55 cents.

Great Bend advanced 3 cents to 66. Sunnyside Consolidated was off 2 cents to 5 and Big Jim held at 34 to feature activity in the mines. New Gibraltar rallied a cent to 11. Boundary Cone added ½ cent to 8 and San Francisco Gold held at 2½.

OIL COMPANIES MAY SELL

Doheny Believed Receptive to Offers of Purchase; Richfield and Marland Linked

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Something more than displeasure over differentials extended to independent gasoline dealers is now advanced as the real reason for the price-cutting tactics adopted by E. L. Doheny. The conjecture is now advanced that Mr. Doheny would like to sell his Pan American Western Company, and is forcing the issue by taking the initiative in a costly price war.

The disappearance of two or three of the major marketers in Southern California from the field of competition would undoubtedly solve the gasoline problem. Not all the marketing companies now represented here can expect to grow to the proportions of a Standard, a Shell or a Union. As the margin of profit steadily narrows the smaller companies fully realize this fact, and probably are ready to talk business to any group that will offer a fair price.

BUYERS HESITANT

Companies in the category of Standard, Shell, Union and Standard of New York probably are not particularly anxious to buy new companies, especially where the purchase would bring additional marketing facilities. The recurrence of gasoline wars, however, squarely puts this course up to them as the best solution, but each is probably waiting for the other to take the first step. From this analysis of the situation it is not difficult to construe Mr. Doheny's action as an attempt to force the hands of the leaders.

Pan American Western, California Petroleum and Richfield are the companies that should logically figure in some kind of a trade. Of the three California Petroleum is the most likely to ultimately find a place among the leaders because of its aggressive management and financial sponsorship. If it comes to a show-down California Petroleum may appear as the buyer of one of the other two, although such a transaction would undoubtedly involve public financing, not a very inviting prospect at this time.

Both Pan American and Richfield are strong companies and have something to sell. It is an uphill fight for all of them, however, including California Petroleum, to firmly establish themselves in all branches of the industry. In an industry as hazardous as petroleum a company is never established until it is prepared to face all the inherent uncertainties with complete confidence of easy triumph.

MARLAND'S PLANS

In California Petroleum, Richfield and Pan American it is possible to point to an important weakness in at least one major branch of the industry. Either it is production, marketing, transportation or financial resources that stands out as the vulnerable point. To correct the weakness would aid is costing a good deal of money, against which is the alternative of uniting with one of the larger competitors to build a bigger and better unit in the industry.

Another factor entering into the situation that may eliminate some of the trouble is the rumor relative to the plans of the Marland Oil Company. Marland, it is reported, would like to buy one of the California companies with a strong marketing system. Marland is a large distributor in the Mid-Continent, has substantial production, including about 12,000 to 15,000 barrels daily in California, and is sponsored financially by J. P. Morgan & Co. Richfield has been mentioned as the likely objective of the Marland plans.

Spring Lettuce Crop in Arizona Area Profitable

PHOENIX, April 18. (Exclusive)—Lettuce this spring has been a bonanza to the farmers of the Salt River Valley. Conditions all have been favorable. Cool weather has continued much later than usual, assuring high quality of the product. Practically no disease materialized in the fields. The labor supply was ample and shipping facilities were afforded by both rail lines as needed. Box factories were hard pressed to supply the demand for 2,500,000 crates, but stood the pressure, running day and night.

Other lettuce-growing sections, including Imperial Valley, accommodatingly terminated their crops early, leaving the eastern field almost wholly to this valley. As a result, prices have maintained a general high level, running from $1.35 a crate to a present quotation of $2.25, f.o.b. at local shipping stations. The spring crop alone thus far has totaled about 4000 carloads, with at least 500 more to be shipped.

This product is in addition to winter shipments of several thousand carloads, which met stronger competition and failed to realize as large a percentage of profit. About 100 carloads a day still are going eastward, mainly by way of the Santa Fe from the Alhambra and Glendale sections, northwest of Phoenix. The season at Yuma is reported at an end.

Two Offerings of School Bonds Sell at Premium

An issue of $110,000 Upland school district 4 3-4 per cent bonds was sold yesterday by the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors to the Bank of Italy for a premium of $4188. Harry Jones & Co. paid a premium of $3868.70 for an issue of $65,000 San Marino city school district 5s awarded by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors.

The Upland securities are due from 1930 to 1951, and the San Marino liens mature from 1928 to 1959.

The following bids were offered for the Upland liens, in addition to the successful bid of the Bank of Italy:

California Securities Company, $3709; Dean Witter & Co., $3636.35; Harris Trust and Savings Bank, $3612; First Securities Company, $3520; Security Company, $3450; Anglo-California Trust Company, $3395; William R. Staats Company, $3344; National City Company, $3199.90; R. H. Moulton & Co., $3176; R. T. Campbell & Co., $3052; Detroit Company, $2823, and United States National Bank, $3540.

Other than the bid of Harry Jones & Co., the following bids were offered for the San Marino securities:

Schwabacher & Co., $7332.60; Capital National Bank, Sacramento, $7056; William R. Staats Company, $7033; California Securities Company, $6780; R. H. Campbell & Co., $6730; Anglo-London-Paris Company, $6732; First Securities Company, $6629; Bank of Italy, $6598; Security Company, $6589, and United States National Bank, $6521.

FREIGHT CAR DEMANDS TO SHOW GAIN

Requirements in Southwest District Reported as 9760 Over 1926

For the second quarter of 1927, twenty-five of the commodity committees, representing every form of industry in the States of California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, within the jurisdiction of the Pacific Coast Transportation Advisory Board territory, estimate total revenue freight car requirements, exclusive of perishables, at 456,209 cars, compared with 446,449 cars a year ago, and an increase of 31,264 cars over 1925. This statement is made by George A. Leither, district manager of the American Railway Association.

Perishable loading requiring refrigerator equipment is estimated at 65,420 cars compared with 64,388 for the second quarter of 1926, and 10,042 more cars than for the same period of 1925.

The railroads in the territory, owning about 72,000 cars, have on line 5 per cent in excess of ownership, while freight equipment condition is subnormal, being below 5 per cent. In addition to this, the railroads are carrying a surplus of 31,910 cars, made up mostly of box, refrigerator and stock cars. There are 1531 locomotives on lines, with 1289 serviceable and 101 stored ready for additional traffic.

Net Revenue of White Eagle Oil Slumps in Year

Net income of the White Eagle Oil and Refining Company for the three months ended March 31, last, after all charges, but before depreciation, depletion and Federal taxes, amounted to $388,008.73, as compared with $416,915.02 in the same period of 1926, a decrease of $28,906.29.

Net sales of the corporation, which operates extensively in the Mid-continent field, for the first quarter of the current year were $3,455,032.74. Profit from operations totaled $427,-721.97, as against $437,523.75.

The decline in profits in the face of increased sales reflects the unsettled condition of the industry and lower earnings as a result of the recent cuts in the prices of crude oil and gasoline in the territory served by the company.

Net Profits of First National Pictures Drop

NEW YORK, April 18. (Exclusive) The First National Pictures, Inc., and affiliated companies, report for the twelve months ended January 1, 1927, net income of $1,052,655, as compared with $1,951,485 for the previous year. The total assets of the company as of January 1, last, were $16,294,608, the decline in net assets, says Robert Lieber, president, was due to higher production costs.

"It is our expectation," says President Lieber, "that as a result of economies in such costs by reason of the operation of our new studio and the super special pictures which we are including in our production program, our earnings for the current year should show a substantial increase."

UNIVERSAL PIPE DECLARES EXTRA

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP) Common stock of Universal Pipe and Radiator Company today was placed on an annual dividend basis of $2 a share, with an initial quarterly disbursement of 50 cents. An extra of 25 cents a share was also declared. Both are payable July 1 to stock of record June 15.

Business Philosophy

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

I have often thought there was a good opportunity for a novelist to develop a character who was always going to do better, the sort of man who makes large promises to himself, who writes down fine resolutions, effective at a distant date.

The habits we have, good and bad, were acquired long ago, and they are being reinforced every day of our lives.

Any changes we contemplate should be made now. Anything that can be done next year can be done now; perhaps not so well, but a start can be made.

As a matter of honesty, let us not, therefore, fool ourselves with idle thoughts of what fine citizens we would be if we had $1,000,000. Our friends would still recognize us as the same old fourflushers—or tightwads—that we are today.

STEEL COMMON EXTRA RATIFIED

Increased Shares Approved by Stockholders

Company Now Has Capital of $1,071,904,500

President Coolidge Numbered Among Holders

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Stockholders of the United States Steel Corporation today ratified an increase in common stock from $508,302,500 to $711,623,500 to provide for the 40 per cent stock dividend, thereby raising the total capitalization to $1,071,-904,500, including $360,281,000 preferred stock.

The management of the corporation presented proxies for 2,682,255 shares of preferred and 4,047,883 shares of common stock, more than the two-thirds majority of each class required under laws of New Jersey to change the charter and capital. The number of shares voted represented 74.6 per cent of the preferred stock outstanding, and 81.4 per cent of the common. The attendance at the meeting, which was held at Hoboken, N. J., set a new record.

COOLIDGE LISTED

The name of President Coolidge appears in the list of stockholders of the corporation, credited with fifty shares of common, the same as he held last year. George F. Baker holds 49,950 shares of common, against 57,-950 held last year and 500 shares of preferred stock. George F. Baker, Jr., was revealed as having increased his holdings from one share of common in 1926 to 1001 shares today. M. C. Taylor was credited with 40,001 shares of common against ten shares last year. Elbert H. Gary's holdings of common decreased from 1282 shares to 1267 shares and of preferred stock from 1929 to 1895.

The authorization of the 40 per cent stock dividend marks the first time the steel corporation has distributed to stockholders through additional shares some of its surplus earnings reinvested in the property. The corporation now is one of two corporations in the world having capital stock in billion dollar figures, the co'ther being the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

DIVIDEND RUMORED

No intimation of dividend policy affecting the new issue has been made, but it is widely believed in Wall street that the $7 rate established in 1926 on the then existing common stock will be justified by the corporation's financial condition and earnings. Earnings on the common stock in 1926 amounted to $17.99 a share of common stock as against $12.56 in 1923.

Directors of the corporation were re-elected.

While dividend action on new stock will not be taken until the director's meeting April 26, Chairman Gary said:

"I think it is fair to believe that the dividend on the new issue of stock will probably be at the annual rate of 7 per cent.

"We propose to do what we have voted to do because we can afford to do it."

"There has been some talk about my resigning," he continued, "but I do not know any more about this than you do. Barring ill health the question of my resigning as chairman of the United States Steel Corporation is entirely in the hands of stockholders who are naturally entitled to select whom they choose to represent them. I might state that I am very much alive now."

Chairman Gary announced that the corporation had obtained what is known as the Hornsby-Wills process for smelting ore. He also disclosed that included among future developments was a plan for utilizing a large quantity of waste products in the manufacture of cement.

Beverly Hills Bank Reports Large Growth

Resources of the Liberty National Bank of Beverly Hills at the close of the bank's first year in business on the 17th inst., totaled $2,100,000, it was announced yesterday by Richard L. Hargreaves, president. Deposits of the bank since the first of this year have averaged $1,900,000.

The Liberty National Bank of Beverly Hills was started in April, 1926, with $100,000 capital and $35,000 surplus. Surplus now totals $54,000 and plans are under way to raise the capital to $200,000, Mr. Hargreaves stated.

"This increase in capital is considered necessary to keep up adequately with the pace of business," he said. "Whatever increase in stock develops will be offered to the present group, but at a premium. The success of the bank in the past year is directly attributed to the strong Beverly Hills directorate.

BANK ADDS TO STAFF

Additions to Personnel of Pacific Southwest Announced

Several new elections to the official staff of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank were announced Saturday following a meeting of the board of directors. The elections went into effect yesterday.

J. H. Schenck, vice-president of the Flintridge Company and the Flintridge Hotel Company, was made a member of the executive board of the Montrose branch of the Pacific-Southwest. A. F. Crowell, Jr., assistant cashier with the Santa Ana branch, was made assistant manager. John Pingree was elected manager of the Main and Commercial branch.

The following were elected as assistant branch managers: T. B. Scroggs, Vernon and Vermont branch; Roy S. Jackson, Pico and Normandie branch, and O. H. Jaroch, Tenth and Broadway branch. T. M. Fresneda was made a relief manager.

THEATER PARTIES BY BUS

One may buy a combination ticket that provides a dinner, a seat at a theater and a round-trip on an auto bus, by a new plan just inaugurated for suburbanites of London. The first suburb to try it is Portsmouth, from where four auto busses carrying ninety people are making the trips once a week. The plan is to be extended to other cities near London.

UNUSUAL ECONOMIC PHASE

Decline in Price Level for Two Years in Face of Accompanying Prosperity Most Remarkable

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, April 18. (Exclusive)—Two years ago this month the general level of commodity prices reached its highest position since the collapse of the 1920 inflation period, but for the past twenty-four months prices have fallen steadily.

The weighted index number of the Bureau of Labor Statistics gives the present month as 145 as against the high of 161 for two years ago. That is a drop of 10 per cent. Never before in the history of the country has an era of full-blown prosperity been induced in the face of a declining commodity level. All the more remarkable does this prosperity appear when thought is given to the fact that farm products in the last two years have fallen even faster than other commodities.

The reasons why the most prosperous period in American history has come in the face of an adverse price trend, are not difficult to find. So gentle has the decline been that it involved no radical changes in inventory position. Business men naturally would have preferred a gently-rising to a gently-falling commodity level, but either movement was destined to leave industry in a more comfortable position than the wild fluctuations previously experienced. A 10 per cent drop in the general price level over a two-year period is, indeed, moderate. The advantages of increased price stability have far outweighed the disadvantages of the moderate, even if persistent, recession.

In any study of the price situation, the behavior of the agricultural markets is nowadays the point of most interest. While the general price level within two years has fallen from 161 to 145, the farm-products group has fallen from 163 to 137. All of which is to say that a fall of 10 per cent in the general price level is largely a reflection of a 16 per cent fall in farm products. The 1927 trend in industry will be partly governed by the return for produce that the farmer enjoys, but at this season no very reliable guide to the future is available. At one time it appeared that agricultural and non-agricultural prices had been brought in line by a rapid rise in the former, but during the last year or more the agricultural gains have been lost.

Whatever handicap the falling price level has imposed on industry the large companies at least have been able to overcome through the introduction of new economies. New consolidations, new inventions and new labor-saving devices all have been employed to increase profits, even when the margin of profit has been cut. The increased volume of business naturally has enabled companies to improve their earnings even when the price trend has been adverse. Since the large and strong companies have been better able to lift earnings, despite falling prices, the battle between weak and strong institutions has grown in interest.

Oil Shares Continue to Show Lack of Strength

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Ratification of the 40 per cent stock dividend by the stockholders of the United States Steel Corporation, coupled with Chairman Gary's intimation that the 7 per cent dividend rate would be continued on the new stock, was followed by heavy profit taking in today's stock market on the theory that the "good news" the market was waiting for was out of the way. Offerings in such recent leaders as United States Steel common, General Motors and Baldwin were unusually well absorbed, but the general list, which had opened with an outburst of strength, turned irregular.

Indications that the temporary credit stringency incidental to mid-month and State income-tax payments had passed were seen in the lowering of the call-money rate from the renewal figure of 4½ to 4 per cent. After the close of the market the New York Federal Reserve Bank reported an increase of $22,377,000 in brokers' loans last week, bringing the

A Larger Income For Conservative Investors

A steadily growing number of conservative investors are increasing the average income from their holdings by the purchase of carefully selected preferred stocks of established and successful companies. These shares yield a 6% to 7% return, which is exempt from Normal Federal Income Tax.

Our own observation and experience in handling thousands of shares of preferred stock, has thoroughly demonstrated the soundness of these securities. We believe every investor can well afford to include among his holdings a reasonable portion of carefully selected preferred shares, both from the standpoint of better diversification and added income.

To this end we maintain on our list at all times a group of representative issues selected to offer a broad diversification and liberal yield. We believe the following are particularly attractive at present prices, and shall be pleased to furnish you circulars descriptive of them. Call in person, phone MUtual 7171, or write.

FOX REALTY CORPORATION

OF CALIFORNIA

Constitute a Desirable Investment

FIRST, these bonds are secured by a first (closed) mortgage on real estate, improvements and equipment, owned in fee, having a minimum appraisal value of $7,544,920, of which $4,800,000, or an amount about twenty per cent in excess of the total bond issue, is for land alone.

Second, ample income is provided through a lease of these properties to the Fox Film Corporation, one of the outstanding successes of the motion picture industry, having neither funded debt nor preferred stock outstanding, whose common stocks, A and B, have a market value of approximately $28,000,000.00. The rental receivable under said lease is a direct operating charge against the Fox Film Corporation whose certified net profits after all deductions, for the five years ended December 26, 1925, averaged $2,351,524.41 per annum.

STRENGTH TEST ON METAL MART

Buyers and Producers Play Waiting Game

Meanwhile Level of Prices Holds Unchanged

March Statistics May Cause Break in Deadlock

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor the Mining Journal

The whole metal market is undergoing a test at the present time, the consumers testing the ability of the producers to keep down production and hold out for higher prices, while the producers are testing to see when the consumers have come into the market to take care of present requirements.

The March slowness in metal purchases has extended into April and has now included lead and zinc, which have been reasonably active while copper has been slow. There has been no further weakening of the prices, however, as copper has stayed at 13 cents, lead at 7.15, zinc at 6.40 and silver about 57.

The lowering of the lead price has stimulated sales somewhat, but not to any great extent. The outlook for any immediate increase in lead price is not encouraging, as is shown by the willingness of producers to sell at current prices for June delivery. It appears that the producers are after sales and are making concessions to get them.

It is stated that some who have bought zinc ahead for April delivery are asking that this delivery be deferred. Zinc is unusually quiet, but the curtailment program of the zinc mines should show up heavily in the March reports and bring about a better market.

COPPER SALES LOW

The slowness of the past month in the copper purchases may be noted by the fact that the total buying of copper on domestic account during the entire month has been only about one-half of the amount purchased during a single week in February. The very slowness of March buying is primarily the reason for feeling that many orders are being stored awaiting March figures.

The quoted price of 13 cents for copper does not mean that much metal is changing hands at that figure, as most of the producers are asking an eighth more. Something of the demand that is in prospect for copper may be seen in the bookings of one of the largest fabricating companies for the first quarter, which exceeds by 10 per cent the booking of the first quarter of last year.

The consumers of copper evidently doubt the reports as to the extent of curtailment of copper production and believe that the production has really been maintained and, if this is so, then copper will go down in price again. It is based upon this feeling that the buyers are holding off until after the publication of the March figures and that the producers feel that a large volume of orders is merely being stored to be let out in a short time and that we will have a very brisk buying period shortly.

INCREASE EXPECTED

In spite of the curtailment of production, it is expected that the figures on refined surplus of copper will show another increase. It will be interesting to see, however, just what the extent of curtailment has been, and this figure is more important than current months' sales or surplus.

The copper producers feel that there will be much higher prices shortly, while the consumers seem to feel that they can hold the market down. The consumers are not getting into the market for even their April requirements, and, in spite of the fact that they are apparently understocked, they feel correct in their position because of the fact that there seems to be sufficient metal coming into the market at cut prices so that they can cover their needs when they wish.

On the other hand, the producers base their prediction for higher prices on the small stocks in consumers' hands, April requirements not yet met, the larger demand from Europe, and the strong trade position. This theory of the market is knocked by the fact that the American Brass Company has but recently marked down its price schedule, and if the drop to 13 cents had been but a temporary one, it would not have caused a price revision on copper and brass products.

BUYERS AT ADVANTAGE

It has been repeatedly said that the domestic copper consumers have been uncanny in their ability to size up the copper market, but they have a decided advantage, due to the fact that they can look into the producers' hands for three months ahead, while the producer cannot foresee their needs. The mine production of today does not become refined copper for about three months, so that the consumer can see where his raw supplies are coming from.

The statistical condition of the copper market is being made to look worse by the fact that stocks of rough copper, which have been in the warehouses in England, have been shipped to the United States for refining and show in the records as imports into the United States and then as refined copper, when, as a matter of fact, there is no increase in the copper above ground.

The cleaning up of British stocks of rough copper is really of great advantage to the copper market abroad, as this is the stock which has hung over the European market and which was used to break copper prices abroad, and it is now passing into consumption.

European business in general is improving. The Copper and Brass Research Institute of Germany is now functioning well, and it is expected that there will be a rapid improvement in German industry using copper. France seems to be on the turn and Belgium and Great Britain are increasing consistently.

On the whole, the metal market is waiting for March production, consumption, exports and surplus figures, and if these figures show an improvement in the statistical position of the metals, we can expect a better market, and if they do not show a material improvement, we can expect a continuation of a dull and uninteresting market. The figures that are being watched most closely are production and European shipments.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 18. (Exclusive) The threatening flood situation in the Mississippi Valley and belated consideration of the record-breaking American mill consumption on the report of the Census Bureau, issued Thursday, showing nearly 700,000 bales of cotton without linters had been consumed in March, had a stimulating effect on the cotton market today. New trade buying came into the market in sufficient volume to turn prices up for the first good wide fluctuation in a long time.

The market advanced 20 points throughout the list from Thursday's final quotations. It brought May contracts up to 14.37 cents; July, 14.60 cents; October, 14.88 cents, and December to 15.06 cents. Liverpool was closed for an extra Easter holiday and that had some restraining influence on speculative trading here. Bullish sentiment was stimulated by the flood situation with the Weather Bureau's reports showing torrential rains Friday and Saturday in the Arkansas and Memphis district.

In some places in Arkansas four districts had five inches of rain and about eight others between three and four inches. One place in Louisiana had six inches and another near seven.

Almost 1,000,000 acres of cotton land is reported flooded in the Mississippi Valley section and as planting will be delayed more than a month, the new crop season will be so late in starting there that it makes for an uncertain outlook.

Conditions are more favorable in the Atlantic States and West Texas, but with the Mississippi waters now at the flood stage from Cairo to Vicksburg, the situation is so menacing that the trade's attention is being focused entirely on it, rather than on old crop statistics.

Institute of International Finance Reviews Credit Position of Brazil

BY RALPH HENDERSHOT

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, April 18.—In view of the $100,000,000 loan negotiations now being carried on between Brazil and New York and London bankers, which in all probability will be successfully concluded during the next two or three months, a study which was recently completed by the Institute of International Finance of financial and economic conditions in the South American Republic should be of interest to investors.

Added importance is attached to the study by reason of the fact that it is the first one of importance to be made by the institute, which was organized but a short time ago and is conducted by the Investment Bankers' Association of America in co-operation with New York University. The institute is under the direction of George F. Edwards, professor of banking and finance of New York University.

After discussing the currency stabilization problems of Brazil and reviewing the various loans of the country now outstanding, the study goes rather thoroughly into its debt record. It says in part on that subject:

"Brazil first floated a foreign loan in 1824 in the London market. The debt record of Brazil contains two instances of failure to make interest payments on time. The first of these occurred in 1898 and extended to 1901. Interest was paid in 5 per cent funding loan bonds. The second happened in 1914, on the outbreak of the war, and again lasted for three years, during which funding loan bonds were issued again.

"The sinking fund record has not been as good. The first default in this respect occurred in 1898, and payments were not resumed until 1910. Four years later they were again suspended on most loans and are only being resumed during the present year."

The service of Brazil's national debt, the institute says, will involve a charge of $67,824,000 for 1927, if no additional loans are made this year. This, it adds, will require about 35 per cent of the estimated revenue for the year. Of the total, $45,643,000 will be used as service on foreign debt, $16,076,000 on internal debt and $6,015,000 for sundry interest charges.

Brazil first entered the American market for a loan in 1921, with the issue of $50,000,000 of 8 per cent bonds, and since has been a fairly regular borrower. A number of Brazilian states and cities have also come to this market for financial assistance.

The republic normally has a substantial but widely fluctuating excess of merchandise exports over imports, according to the institute. The uncertain factor in this balance of trade has usually been coffee. The overreliance on this one crop has resulted in a great sensitiveness of the value of exports to continual changes in the world market quotations of this one commodity.

Net Profits of Cities Service Set New Record

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Showing the most successful year in its history the annual report of the Cities Service Company for 1926, made public tonight, reveals consolidated net earnings of $46,906,907, as compared with $40,248,614, in the previous year. Net earnings of the company, exclusive of its subsidiaries, aggregated $24,462,662, against $18,989,071, in 1925.

More than 65,000 new security holders were added to the company's lists in 1926, bringing the total to more than 300,000.

Common stock outstanding totals about 80,500,000 shares, $20 per value, of 400,000,000 shares authorized.

MOODY CRITICAL

Says Selling of High Grades and Buying Speculatives Illogical

Moody's weekly review of financial conditions in its current issue says in part:

"The market is broadening and stock prices, after having moved horizontally for nearly four months, have lately begun climbing. How far the rise may go is impossible to estimate, but a further advance of something like 3½ to 5 3-4 points would take the market up to the theoretical ceiling.

"Investment opportunities in the stock market are increasingly difficult to find. We see no logic at present in either buying speculative stocks or selling high-grade investment stocks.

"Competition is the outstanding feature of the automobile industry. Last year this competition was displayed by decreasing profits per car, and at present it is being displayed by general price-cutting."

PORTERVILLE BANKER GOING TO NEW POST

PORTERVILLE, April 18. (AP)—H. C. Carr, vice-president and manager of the First National Bank of Porterville, which he organized in 1903, announced today that he had accepted a position as head of the public relations department of the Bank of Italy, at the San Francisco offices. Carr was president of the California Bankers' Association in 1923 and 1924. Carr will take up his new duties after returning from Hot Springs, Ark., where he will attend the meeting of the executive council of the American Bankers' Association May 1 to 4.

OFFICIALS OF CALPET OIL NAMED

Staff for Ensuing Year Elected at Meeting of Augmented Board

Stockholders of the California Petroleum Corporation at the annual meeting held at Richmond, Va., March 28, last, added three names to the company's board of directors and re-elected the eight other members, according to a report issued yesterday by Jacques Vinmont, president.

R. M. J. Armstrong, R. E. Bering and Fred V. Gordon were added to the board, and the following members were re-elected: C. L. Coppage, Edward F. Hayes, Thomas A. O'Donnell, C. E. Olmstead, P. H. O'Neil, Albert Rothbart, F. C. Van Deinse and Jacques Vinmont. Mr. O'Donnell is chairman.

The board of directors held its annual reorganization meeting in Los Angeles on Friday and chose the following officers for the ensuing year, a number of new names appearing in the roster:

Jacques Vinmont, president; R. M. J. Armstrong, vice-president and general counsel; R. E. Bering, Douglas M. Black, J. Fearon Brown, C. L. Coppage, Fred V. Gordon, C. E. Olmsted, L. B. O'Neil and F. C. Van Deinse, vice-presidents; D. E. O'Brien, secretary; William R. Crawford, Jr., L. M. Eginton, W. C. Genor and Robert H. Scholl, assistant secretaries; W. D. Stewart, treasurer, and W. C. Genor, assistant treasurer.

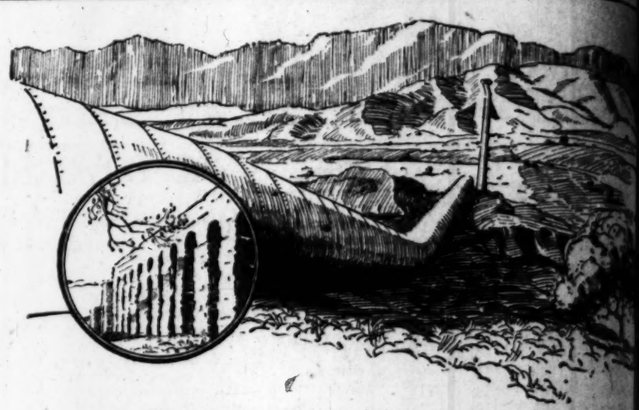
MOHAIR OUTLOOK IN TEXAS HELD GLOOMY

LOW PRICES AND LIGHT CLIP FORECAST BY ANGORA GROWERS' HEAD

LAGUNA (Tex.) April 18. (AP)—Although the Angora goat flocks in Southwest Texas are in unusually good condition, prospects for a favorable market for spring clip of mohair are discouraging, according to F. O. Landrum of Laguna, president of the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' Association. Landrum was for many years secretary of the National Mohair Growers' Association, and he is regarded as an authority on the industry.

"Unless the goat men of Texas get a higher price than last fall for their spring clip, they stand to take a heavy loss, as reports come from the various sections of losses in weight of spring fleeces of from 25 to 30 per cent under last fall's weights," he said. "This condition is attributed to a good winter with an abundance of green feed, which caused the goats to shed mohair all along through the winter. This same condition has at the same time improved the quality of the mohair, not only from the fact of the rains washing the dirt out of the hair, but we all know that fat goats produce a live, lustrous fleece, whereas a poor goat's mohair is dead and lifeless.

"The demand for mohair fabrics never was better in the United States, and besides the usual demand for coat linings, Pullman upholstery and curtains, etc., there is and has been for some time an abnormal demand for mohair for the manufacture of high-priced parlor suites and closed-automobile upholstery, and from present indications this latter demand has come to stay.



WATER - The Oldest Utility

SUPPLYING water is the oldest utility service...and the most enduring. The demand for water is little affected by business conditions, and careful State regulation assures a reasonable return on a fair property value.

CALIFORNIA WATER SERVICE CORPORATION is one of California's outstanding water systems, serving over 300,000 people, including the communities of Fresno, Stockton, Bakersfield, Chico, and Redondo and Hermosa Beaches. Net earnings for the year ended February 8, 1927, applicable to preferred shares were 2.66 times dividend requirements, while the equity available for this stock is over $246 per share.

NEW OFFERING ISSUE No. 20, 1927

Mortgage Insurance Corporation

INSURED FIRST MORTGAGE CERTIFICATES

Legal Investment for California savings banks, trust and insurance companies; eligible for deposit with State Treasurer to secure faithful performance of trusts; exempt from California personal property tax.

Metropolitan Trust Company of California, Trustee

Certificates

ISSUED under State regulation these Certificates represent a participating interest in 146 insured first mortgages and first deeds of trust, totaling over $500,000 and averaging less than $3500 each, which are assigned to and deposited with the Trustee. The liens are secured by improved California real estate appraised at $1,047,993.00, or more than twice the amount of the issue. Under the Mortgage Insurance Act all appraisals are made by appraisers approved by both the Superintendent of Banks and the Insurance Commissioner of California.

Guarantee

EVERY deposited first mortgage and first deed of trust is accompanied by a policy of mortgage insurance insuring the payment of principal and interest thereon. In addition, the Corporation, in the Trust agreement, guarantees that sufficient moneys will be paid to the Trustee to meet both principal and interest requirements on the Certificates as due. Fire and Title Insurance policies of adequate amounts in approved companies cover each mortgage.

Diversity

DIVERSIFICATION is gained by the practice of selecting only first mortgages and first deeds of trust of moderate amounts in widely separated districts. Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco, including the best suburbs within their metropolitan areas, is the field from which the Corporation selects its mortgages.

Dated April 1, 1927. Due serially October 1, 1927 to April 1, 1938, inclusive.

Prices to yield 5.50% to 6% according to maturities

You insure your tangibles; why not your securities?

THE average modern fire-proof building is comparatively free from any danger of damage or serious depreciation; yet it is covered by insurance—of course.

But the holdings of the average investor, which are much more likely to be affected by unforeseen contingencies, are not insured against loss.

Many investors today, however, consider it just as important to have adequate protection for their securities as for their real properties; hence the increasing popularity of our Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates which are not only fundamentally sound as to underlying security, but are also guaranteed as to both principal and interest under the Mortgage Insurance Act of California, and backed by our resources of more than $50,000,000.00.

Booklet by mail upon request.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Although trading was on a relatively broad scale in today's curb market, considerable price irregularity developed. Several active issues, however, attained new peaks for the year or longer. A "bear raid," timed to coincide with the illness of the pool manager, forced Brooklyn Shoe down over 4 points to 6½, whence it rallied late in the day to 7. Motion-picture shares were under pressure. Warner Brothers' Pictures B and Motion-Picture Preferred receding 1 to 2 points. Weakness also cropped out in some of the tobacco stocks.

Oils showed further inconsistencies. Vacuum, Prairie Pipe Line and Standard of Ohio moving upward in the face of declining prices in several other issues, the first named touching a new high at 116½, but later losing much of the gain. Unfavorable dividend rumors and talk of further new financing and price cutting influenced the selling.

Further strength was manifested by public-utility shares, new peaks being attained by International Utilities A, Standard Power and Light preferred, and United States Light and Heat.

Lackawanna securities sold up to 106½, a new record, then eased off to 105, a gain of a point on the day. Typewriter shares were in fair demand, Remington Noiseless and Royal each touching new maximums.

The closing price is omitted when same as the ve, and both low and close when same as the high.

Los Angeles Daily Times

APRIL 19, 1927.—PART

PROFIT TAKING HITS MARKET

otal to $2,862,615,000, a new high evel for the year, but still well be- ow the record of $3,141,125,000 estab- lished in the week ended January 6, 926.

STEEL STRONG

United States Steel common moved within a point of its recent record igh, closing at 172½ for a net gain f ½ a point. General Motors at- ained a new peak price for the pres- nt stock at 188 1-4 on buying influ- nced by the announcement of a new ruck and expectations of an unusual- y favorable quarterly earnings report. ut lost all but 1-4 of a point of its ain by slipping back to 186 3-4. Du ont sold above 250 for the first time. More than a score of industrials nd specialties established new high rices since 1925, or longer, the list ncluding American Tobacco, Ameri- an Sugar Refining, Allis Chalmers, ongress Cigar, Detroit Edison, Inland teel, International Business Ma- hines, Kennecott, Montana Power, emington Typewriter, United Drug nd Woolworth.

Sugars responded to the recent trengthening of commodity prices, nd oppers to reported trade im- rovement and the discovery of new re bodies.

OILS SLUMP

Special buying also took place in ome of the minor specialties. Ameri- an Brown Boveri responded to the nnouncement of over $22,000,000 in nited States Navy contracts by limbing about 2 points. Burns Broth- rs rallied over 4 points on the de- laration of regular dividends, pre- iously reported in danger.

Renewed weakness of the oil shares as accompanied by unfavorable divi- nd rumors and talk of additional nnouncing by oil companies. Marland, alifornia Petroleum, Texas Corpora- on and Phillips all sank to new ow vels for the year. White Motors and echnut Packing also were conspic- ously heavy.

A buying demonstration was staged the rails around midday, but it uickly petered out. However, Texas d Pacific and Rock Island showed tstanding individual strength, each aching new record high prices. Most the March earnings statements, hich began making their appearance is week, are expected to be favor- ble.

Time money and commercial paper tes were unchanged.

Commodity markets were firm, but ttside of a net gain of 14 to 16 ints in cotton futures the changes re unimportant.

Chief interest in the foreign ex- anges centered in the heaviness of apanese yen, which broke nearly 50 oints a new low for the year, be- w 46.50 cents, on the resignation the Japanese Cabinet because of fferences of opinion over the ex- ulsion of governmental aid to the nk of Taiwan. Demand sterling ld firm around 94.85 5-16 and eech francs around 3.91 cents.

Wheat Fraction Up on Foreign Short Covering

CHICAGO, April 18. (Exclusive)—Foreign short ering was on in May wheat early, with an rance of 1⅛c from the finish on Saturday, but ices first sold free on the bulge and the finish s well toward the low point, with a net gain 7/8c, while the deferred deliveries gained ⅝c. ay closed at 1.33⅝, July 1.29⅛ and Septem- r 1.27⅝@1.27¾. Corn gained ⅝@⅝c, with y 70¼, July 70¼ and September 69⅝. Oats se up ⅛@⅜c, with May 44⅛, July 44⅝@ 5, and September 44⅛@44⅝, while rye gained @¾c, with May 1.02¾, July 1.00 and Sep- mber 91⅝.

J. P. Griffin of J. S. Bache & Co., who has n bearish on wheat for the last four months, ed to the bull side overnight, and this had considerable influence on sentiment, both locally d abroad, and brought in buying orders from ouses, largely to cover shorts. Wet weather ported in the American and Canadian North- est, as well as in the winter wheat belt and gional fears regarding delayed seeding in the ring wheat section, and of rank growth and ntage by the fiends in the West and South- st, also affected the different deliveries. Fighting longs sold May wheat on the early ge, and with changing over from the May the July, the spread narrowed toward the se. St. Louis sold 70,000 bushels of red winter eat there at May price, making 85,000 shels bought so far, and it is estimated that re is a decrease of 1,311,000 bushels total is 46,012,000 bushels, against 29,2 bushels last year.

A feature in corn was the buying of May and ling of July by cash interests around 5½c eforge, compared with 5¾c at the finish on aturday. Firmness in wheat, with wet weather , the entire corn belt, which is delaying field rk, brought in some local buying of futures, d with lessened pressure, an advance was easily tained. Selling against offers checked the up- rn. Shipping demand was fair, with sales of 2,000 bushels. The visible supply decreased 25,000 bushels and the total is 42,162,000 ushels, against 23,942,000 bushels last year.

Continued wet weather, which is materially laying seeding, and may necessitate a down- rd revision in ideas as to the acreage, led to ral investment buying of oats and a higher nge of prices. There was exchanging between ay and July at ⅝@⅞c difference.

Rye showed a firm undertone in sympathy th wheat, while the seaboard intimated that ey were export bids in the market. No sales, wever, were reported.

A break of 10c in hogs, with arrivals of 42,000 Chicago, and 22,000 estimated for Tuesday, ubined with arrivals of 114,100 at western pack- g points, against 96,000 a week ago and 107,- 0 a year ago, tended to make an easy feeling the hard market. A little liquidation was en- ith buying scattered. Futures closed 5@7½c wer.

Trading in meats was slow and short ribs lost @7½c. The increase in stocks of bellies de- reased prices 10@15c.

A CONNECTING LINK between Eastern Capital and Western Borrowers is furnished through the NATIONAL MORTGAGE COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA

THE immense building programs of California, financed largely through mortgages—like all important construction—have made the state a great borrowing field.

Large reserves of Eastern capital are seeking investment in the very type of mortgage security which California has to offer.

The National Mortgage Company provides a connecting link between California's need for capital and the desire of Eastern capital for investment.

This link commands the confidence of both East and West; for the management of the Company is known to large investors throughout the country, and the loans of the Company are made only on the most desirable properties as security.

The National Mortgage Company makes construction loans, buys and sells mortgages and bonds based on first mortgage security. It invites inquiry from investors and from borrowers.

Safety, High Yield Tax Exemption—Plus

THAT bond prices generally will continue at high levels for some time to come seems to be the consensus of opinion among financial authorities.

In view of the above fact more people than ever before are diverting their investment funds into California Tax Free Street Improvement Bonds for the following good reasons:

Safety—Each bond is a first lien against a specific piece of real estate ranking ahead of first mortgages, present or future.

High Yield—6 to 6½ per cent.

Tax Exemption—Free of California Personal Property Tax and Federal Normal Income and Surtax.

Plus—The knowledge that the Street Bonds you own are helping to improve the community, city and state that you live in.

Street Improvement Bonds are the investment for you.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The big majority of yesterday's liberal run came from California, there being only a few loads from outside the State, mostly Arizona. About 65 per cent of the run was steers, mostly from the Imperial Valley, with a few from Arizona feed lots. A fairly active trade existed throughout yesterday, with steers generally closing 15@25c higher, while the stock held fully steady. All cutters and bulls sold well at about steady prices.

A part car of 648-pound Southern California fed baby heifers cashed for 11.50, with the heifer end averaging 592 pounds going over for 10.50. The best matured steers topped at 9.40, this price taking a six-car string of 1193-pound kinds. The big majority of steers cashed from 9.10@9.35, with a few loads from 8.75@9.00, while low medium kinds, including plain light Arizonas, turned from 8.00 @8.50. Common steers were scarce, odd head and small lots selling from 6.00@7.50.

A load of 874-pound heifers topped in the she stock division at 7.85, while a load of 886-pound grass cows turned for 7.40. Other cows were fairly numerous from 7.00@7.25. While the bulk of cows, medium kinds, turned from 6.00@6.75, with common kinds down to 5.25. Cutters went over mostly from 4.50@5.00, with low cutters down to 3.90. Good bulls were scarce, a few selling from 6.50@6.75, with the bulk, medium kinds, from 5.85@6.40, while common kinds sold down to 5.25.

CALVES—Demand narrowed considerably and trading on the fair supply was rather slow. Prices were very uneven, the general trade calling the market unevenly 50c@1.00 lower at the close. A load of choice 250-pound vealers easily brought 14.25, while the bulk of vealers at the close, averaging from 180 to 235 pounds, cashed from 13.00@13.50, mostly 13.25. Plainer kinds sold down to 10.50 and below. Calves were comparatively scarce, a few good and choice kinds selling from 11.50@12.50, with common kinds and heavies from 7.00@10.00.

HOGS—Trading was not overly active in the packing division; however, all but three loads sold on yesterday's morning market. The three were still unsold at a late hour. Prices were generally 25c higher than Friday. Yesterday's top was 12.60, with all of yesterday's sales being noted from 12.35@12.60, mostly 12.50@12.55. A load of butchers yesterday averaged all the way from 180 to 195 pounds. The general run of packing sows sold around 10.00, while a few smooth light weight kinds sold up to 11.00.

SHEEP—Offerings yesterday consisted of two decks of wooled ewes and two decks of shorn yearlings, with no sales being made up to a late hour. The general trade was quoting ewes from 50c@1.00 lower, or from 8.00@8.50 for medium to choice shorn kinds and up to 9.00 for strictly choice wooled light weights. No lambs were offered and medium to choice springers were quoted from 14.00@15.25.

DO EARNINGS warrant a dividend declaration? Can such action be expected soon? Is their 1927 business good? What is the position of Bethlehem in the steel industry?

Charles M. Schwab, Chairman of the Bethlehem Board, stated at a dinner of the Association of Commerce in Baltimore, that in 10 years their plant at Sparrows Point, Md., would be the world's largest steel plant. How will this affect its stockholders?

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—With trading on a reduced scale, after the holiday, considerable irregularity developed in today's bond market. Industrial liens, on the whole, displayed a firm undertone, partly in reflection of the ready absorption of the $50,000,000 Shell Union oil issue, offered this morning on a 5.04 per cent basis, and partly on improving business conditions in some lines.

Bonds of packing houses were in brisk demand, Morris & Co. 4½s advancing more than a point and Armour 5½s changing hands in fairly large volume. Granby 7s sold up more than 4 points and Lehigh Valley Coal 6s established a new high at 101.

Public-utility mortgages continued to attract attention. Brooklyn Union Gas 5½s touched a new high for the year, while Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit 5s, Detroit Edison 5s and all the Interborough issues were accumulated freely.

Although the railway list was inclined to softness, there were a few firm spots. Denver and Rio Grande Western 5s attaining a new 1927 peak. Missouri-Kansas-Texas 6s dropped to a new low and Erie convertible D 4s fell back more than a point.

Japanese issues reacted to unsettled financial conditions in that country. Tokio 5½s yielding more than a point to a new 1927 minimum. Profit-taking in Italian Public-Utility 7s, which last week scored a sensational advance, lost over 2 points, and Italian governmental 7s were freely liquidated.

United States government obligations were fairly active at irregular prices.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transaction, stocks are omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The Atwood area in the Richfield district, which has been the scene of much development in the past few months, had its first "gusher" excitement yesterday morning when the Herndon & Hunter well on the Robertson lease, located between Atwood and Olinda, blew out with a blast that shook the neighborhood, and began spraying the countryside with a fine mist of oil.

The well blew in from a depth of 4155 feet, the eruption starting as the crew drilled out the cement plug in the lower part of the casing preparatory to a water shut-off test. The well was cemented about ten days ago. It was known to have had good showings, but no previous well in this district has shown such phenomenal gas pressure, and the blowout was entirely unexpected.

No gauge of the gas output was possible yesterday, but observers' estimates ranged from 5,000,000 to 9,000,000 cubic feet a day. Yesterday afternoon the oil content of the gas flow appeared to be increasing, and there was the possibility that unless the outburst was controlled shortly, a considerable proportion of the yield might turn to oil, and perhaps cause some damage among the neighboring citrus groves.

This property is being operated by Herndon & Hunter, although originally it belonged to the Chilkaan Oil Company, and was turned over to Herndon & Hunter several months ago.

Near Completion

The Marland Oil Company expects to have its Bixby No. 7 in the eastern part of the Seal Beach field on production today in the deepest zone, according to field reports. The well was swabbing yesterday, and, according to drillers, gave every indication of making a prolific producer. Bottom of the well is at 4780 feet.

Bixby No. 7 originally was on production in the Bixby zone, which is rather thin in that particular location, and the well's output was small and eventually turned to water. It is an offset to the Standard Oil Company's San Gabriel No. 1 which failed to get production in the Bixby zone, and is getting about 800 barrels per day from the deeper sand.

Coalinga Well In

The Standard Oil Company yesterday new operator in the town-lot field in the Coalinga field with an initial production of about 135 barrels a day, according to official reports. The oil tests 21.9 deg. gravity, bottom of the well being at 3685 feet.

Starts New Well

The World Petroleum Company, a new operator in the townlot field in the western part of Huntington Beach, is preparing to drill a well on Fifteenth street, one block from the ocean, according to field reports.

Deepening Bixby Well

The Marland Oil Company is deepening its Bixby No. 6 in the Seal Beach field to get a greater penetration of the Bixby zone, and better up the production of the well, according to reports. This is an offset to the Associated Oil Company's Bryant No. 1 well, which found the Bixby zone higher in the hole than any other well in the field.

Seal Beach operators have had considerable success in deepening wells in the Bixby zone where the wells are located near the top of the structure. The Associated tried it with its Bryant No. 2, and saill is getting about 2000 barrels a day, and the Marland is getting about 1900 barrels a day from its Bixby No. 10, which is also a deepened Bixby zone well.

Down 5070 Feet

The General Petroleum Corporation has reached a depth of 5070 feet in its Lomita No. 1 wildcat well at Sunset Beach, without showings, according to field reports. Other operators are taking more interest in the area as the hope for oil in the Lomita well dwindles as the depth grows greater. The well was drilled on the theory that another structure should be found between Huntington Beach and Seal Beach, but all the acreage around the Lomita well is held by the General Petroleum and Marland companies. Operators who think the theory of an intervening structure is tenable, are picking up choice acreage in other parts of the district, and it is not improbable that other wildcats will be drilled if the Lomita turns out to be a dry hole.

Invitation Unheeded

The invitation extended to oil operators by the city of Seal Beach to drill within its precincts, apparently has had little attention from the oil fraternity. The Trustees of Seal Beach rescinded the ordinance prohibiting drilling in the city limits, several weeks ago, and the ordinance took effect yesterday, but so far as can be ascertained not a single lease has been signed as a result, and there was no evidence of any new derrick construction.

Seal Beach had a couple of tests several years ago, and when they were suspended, the City Fathers forbade any further drilling. But when the Seal Beach field, only a couple of miles to the north, came in, the citizens had a change of heart.

Most petroleum authorities do not believe oil will be found in the city of Seal Beach. They point out that it is too far to be a part of the Seal Beach field, and too close to have much chance of another structure. But the experts have been wrong before now, and it is probable that sooner or later somebody will accept the invitation to play in Seal Beach's yard.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, April 19. (Exclusive)—The outside crude rubber spotlight continued dull and prices held at their former limits.

The dullness today was due to many of the traders willing to hold their lots for the announcement of the schedule from London.

In view of the London holiday the stock increase will not be announced until the opening of the exchange here on Tuesday morning. Spot continued unchanged at 40¾d. There were rumors about the "street" that many of the large manufacturing companies were buying on the spot which might indicate that they are not as well stocked as rumors before had it.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, April 18. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Independent steel production in the Youngstown district has been reduced to about 75 per cent of capacity against about 85 per cent nine weeks ago. Pig iron quotations are holding steady at St. Louis, but intensive salesmanship is required on the part of furnace interests to hold business. Steel bar quotations out of stock in the Baltimore territory vary widely, ranging from 2.50c minimum up to 2.81c delivered in Baltimore district.

"Volume of business is increasing, however, heavy scrap accumulations are proving a burden on the market in the Mississippi Valley.

"In the nonferrous metals copper is higher at 13c to 13.12½c delivered Connecticut. Lead is steady at 6.40c St. Louis. Lead is quiet at 6.50c to 6.55c St. Louis and 7.25c to 7.35c New York. Tin is strong at 68.25c to 68.37½c New York."

Beauty Contestant Sued

An aftermath of the beauty contest held to determine who should be "Miss New Zealand" was a suit filed in the Wellington Court against 18-year-old Isobel Wilson, who was a runner-up in the event at Auckland. The suit was filed recently by Ellen Vera Maxwell, formerly a friend of Miss Wilson, who sought recovery of a three-pearl dress ring, loaned to help the contestant impress the judges. Isobel confessed that she also borrowed a cost and a string of pearls from others, but the best she could do was to be chosen maid-of-honor. She said that she lost the ring while mounting a horse during the festivities. Miss Maxwell asked $150 in lieu of the ring, and the magistrate awarded her $100.

Chicago and Alton

No progress of importance has been made recently toward reorganization of the Chicago and Alton Railroad, according to those who are following the affairs of the road. Not only are the committees representing the bondholders still divergent in their views, but earnings of the road continue to add to the uncertainties of lifting the receivership. It is true that the operating statement for March will reflect an accelerated movement of bituminous coal in anticipation of the miners' strike, but the mine suspension itself has slackened traffic this month.

Bay City Bank Merger Plans Move Forward

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (AP)—Merger of the French-American Bank with the United Bank and Trust Company was formally approved by the directors of both institutions today. Officials sai dthe merger would give the United Bank and Trust Company aggregate resources of $75,000,000, and an authorized capital of $10,000,000.

The present branches of the United Bank and Trust Company in Sacramento, Fresno, Stockton, Modesto, Oakdale and Oak Park will be continued. The head office of the institution will be maintained in the present quarters of the United Bank and Trust Company here, and an office known as the French-American will be operated where the French-American Bank has been. Boards of both institutions approved formation of an auxiliary corporation, known as the French-American Corporation, with an authorized capital of $10,000,000. James D. Phelan will be president of the merged banks, and chairman of the auxiliary corporation's board of directors. Leon Boequeras, who has been president of the French-American bank, will be chairman of the board of directors of the United Bank and Trust Company and president of the auxiliary corporation.

SALES EXPERT WILL ADDRESS STORE FORCE

SPECIAL LECTURE BY DR. PAUL W. IVEY TO BE GIVEN TODAY

A special lecture on "Creative Salesmanship" is to be given by Dr. Paul W. Ivey, nationally recognized sales expert, now in Los Angeles as special lecturer with the department of community service of the University of Southern California, before the assembled sales force of Blackstone's Department Store this morning at 8 o'clock.

"Retailing has been revolutionized," states Dr. Ivey, who is to conduct the third annual Paul Ivey Salesmanship Institute in this section this spring; "co-operation has not displaced competition, but it has supplanted it. Merchants realize that consumers demand experts in retailing who know their goods, in what situation they have the greatest utility, and where and when they are the most effective.

"Much progress has been made in the mechanical side of retail selling, such as display windows, lighting effects, arrangement of store fixtures, counter attractions, and other details; now through modern ideas in salesmanship we will have a revolution in the human element in business, the sales people themselves."

INCOME SHADE HIGHER

American Chain Company Reports Net Gain of 9 Cents a Share

American Chain Company, Inc., for 1926 reports consolidated net income of $2,414,891 after all charges for depreciation, amortization of patents, interest and income taxes. This was equal to $4.09 a share earned on the combined 340,143 shares ($25 par value) common stock outstanding at the close of 1926. In 1925 the company reported net income of $2,401,376, or $4 a share on the 350,000 shares Class A and 250,000 shares common outstanding in that year.

Directors of the company declared a dividend of 75 cents a share on the common stock, payable the 15th inst. to stockholders of record of the 14th. The last previous dividend on the common stock was 50 cents a share, paid January 14, 1927. Officials of the company state that conditions in the various lines of business served by the company are good, and the management looks forward to a highly satisfactory year.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

Statement of Gary on Steel Dividend is Market Spur

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, April 18. (Exclusive) Although the street had been confident that the United States Steel Corporation would continue to pay the regular 87 annual dividend on its increased stock, Judge Gary's statement at the annual meeting today, virtually assuring favorable action at the directors' meeting next Tuesday, had a favorable effect on the market in general. Steel common rushed up nearly a point, but met profit-taking after it crossed 172½. Short selling also made itself felt and was based on the theory that the publication of the good news was in reality a bearish factor.

New York Central

Part of the market interest in New York Central is due to the proposal now before the Interstate Commerce Commission whereby the Central would bring the earnings of the Big Four and Michigan Central, which are the two largest of the stock-controlled subsidiaries, directly into the treasury of the parent company. Observers incline to the view that the leases have a good chance of winning the ultimate approval of the commission because of the strength of the contention that the closer alignment would assist the system in rendering economically-operated service to the public. Whether immediate approval of the commission will be forthcoming, however, remains somewhat doubtful because of opposing minority share-holders whose chief bid appears to have been for a larger income return. As the Central owns approximately 99 per cent of the stock of the Michigan Central and about 97 per cent of the Big Four, it is not considered that any considerable hardship other than delay would result if the commission ordered a reconsideration of the terms given the minority.

Money Turns Easier

The return of the call-money rate on the New York Stock Exchange to a 4 per cent basis, after having renewed at 4½ per cent, failed to have much effect on either the stock or bond market. Traders and dealers in both types of securities had regarded the recent stiffness in money rates as merely a temporary matter and had confidently expected the easier trend. This, no doubt, explains the mild effect of the change.

Navy Contract Awards

Wall street was inclined to place considerable importance on the award recently by the Navy Department for six new 10,000-ton cruisers. It was said that these will keep the country's three big shipbuilding plants fairly busy for the next year or two. These include the Camden plant of the American Brown Boveri Electric Corporation, the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and the plant of the Newport News

VITAPHONE PLANS TOLD BY WARNERS

New Hollywood Studio to Manufacture Records and Films Being Built

NEW YORK, April 18. (Exclusive) A plan has been evolved under which Warner Brothers acquire 100 per cent ownership of the Vitaphone Corporation by the purchase of the interests of Walter J. Rich, according to an announcement by the Western Electric Company and Warner Brothers today. Warner Brothers will immediately increase their studio facilities for the production of films and records by the opening of a new studio in Hollywood completely equipped for Vitaphone production, it is stated.

The Western Electric Company through its subsidiary, Electrical Research Products, Inc., will in the future handle the supply, sale, installation and maintenance of equipments for theaters. Under this arrangement the Vitaphone Corporation will be free to devote its entire facilities to the production and distribution of Vitaphone numbers and musical accompaniments. Seventy-two theaters are now equipped and new installations are being made at the rate of six a week.

Jack Warner, of Warner Brothers, declared last night that construction of the new studio has been started on the grounds of the main plant, 5842 Sunset Boulevard. The studio will be sound-proof, he asserted, will cost in the neighborhood of $350,000 and is expected to be completed by May 1.

At that time, he declared, production of "The Jazz Singer," an eight-reel "special," starring George Jessel, is scheduled to begin. This will mark an innovation in the manufacture of motion pictures, he explained, in that it will be the first time that screening of the sequences of a picture and the recording to the voices of the actors will have ever been done simultaneously. Because it is now possible to record and screen simultaneously, he asserted, it was decided to build the studio here rather than in New York. Jessel is now starring in the stage play of the same name in the East, he added.

Stabbed by Neuritis!
Many people suffer attacks by the arch-fiend, commonly called "neuritis inflammation." The first warning is usually a sharp stabbing pain, which may "come and go" or last constantly. You may feel it in the shoulder, neck, forearm, small of the back, or down the thigh and leg to the heel. It is sometimes mistaken for sciatica, rheumatism or lumbago, which troubles often do end in neuritis. No matter where you have the pains or what caused them, you want quick relief without using narcotics or poisons. Apply Tyamol to the part that hurts and the pain will soon be gone.
Tyamol is absorbed through the pores of the skin. It has a soothing, healing effect upon the irritated nerves, gradually helping to restore them to healthy condition. Don't suffer any longer. Get a bottle of Tyamol at The Owl Drug Co. or any other good drug store.

Prohibition Chief in Call on Customs Collector

Reynolds Silent While Other Admits Amity

Refused in Trial of Agents for Murder

Efforts apparently to settle differences that have arisen between Prohibition Administrator McReynolds and Collector of Customs Schwaebe, which started a controversy a few days ago when he criticised the prohibition enforcement measures of Mr. McReynolds and the latter grew to suspicions that Washington officials had sent special investigators here to report on the matter, were trampled in Schwaebe's office yesterday could not be learned definitely, but it was learned that Schwaebe, who, after he made a statement, refused to make a statement whether he bore an olive branch and whether he and the collector of customs had reached an understanding. McReynolds declared that "there weren't any differences to settle."

Speaking of a trifle more communicative on the prohibition administration, Mr. McReynolds had called up and asked for a conference and that they had discussed matters in agreement for the better part of an hour.

WHAT HE SAID

He told him that my department was ready to co-operate with him in every enforcement," he said further, "but that I thought that before any men an apology if he can show the facts to prove the charges attributed to him in his press speech.

He also asserts that McReynolds admitted that he had been misquoted in his talk given before the Glendale Federated Church Women.

Later in the afternoon, Schwaebe refused to say anything about his conference with the collector of customs or to discuss the matters on which he says he had differences.

Regarding the prohibition administration as he viewed it, Schwaebe declared that he had gone through the customs service at the border and he also found that customs men at the border served his men from getting what they were attempting to get through. All Orlando, special prohibition unit of the Treasury Department, is now in California investigating the matter and is expected to report to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who ordered the investigation.

SHOOT FAILS

Following the prohibition-customs conference, which is taking place, further arrangements for the trial date of Deputy Frank Farley and Deputy Wm. McReynolds's case under indictment for murder, which stood two weeks from the 19th, was with little result in Federal Judge Hollzer's court.

Attorneys representing Farley presented a petition for continuance of the trial date, but Judge Hollzer denied the motion. Farley was formally declared in court that a plea of not guilty was being made to him. He will go to prison, but the court said and said that only the minimum sentence would be ordered.

Federal prohibition agents, together with other men and Mrs. Farley, were occupants of an automobile that collided with a car driven by E. P. Ingmire, special official at Wilmington, two miles south of here. Ingmire died and Mrs. Farley was taken to a hospital. All those involved in the prohibition conference will be summoned to testify.

Mrs. McReynolds is scheduled to have been a witness yesterday, but the action was not until Thursday. The court announced that Mrs. McReynolds would not be called from injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

PROTESTS ON PARK FAIL

Council Will Go on With Arroyo Seco Project; Home Owners Call Mass Meeting

Following the protests of hundreds of Arroyo Seco home owners, the City Council yesterday voted not to abandon the Victory Park No. 2 project; that the report of the Parks and Playgrounds Committee and directed that proceedings be continued. Councilmen Allan, Colden, Criswell, Holland, Bathorn, Shaw and Zahn voted against the motion to abandon.

The protests of the Highland Park Improvement Association and other property owners in the districts again crowded the Council chamber and the corridors of the City Hall, but maintained order and quiet during the discussion of the measure. Later it developed, however, that they are planning to conduct a mass meeting in Highland Park to organize for a final fight against the park proceedings.

LOW COST REPORT

The disgruntled property owners were given some encouragement by a recommendation from the Board of Public Works that a report by Assistant City Engineer Whitehead stating that the cost of obtaining the land for the park in the Arroyo Seco would be approximately $700,000 instead of the earlier report appraising it at a rough estimate of $1,000,000 be adopted.

The park district mapped for condemnation includes 30,230 lots. If the report is adopted for $700,000 the cost per lot will approximate $23.

The Parks and Playgrounds Committee recommended that the proceedings be continued, and that the report of the Board of Public Works be adopted provided that "the cost of this park be reduced," and contained a provision that "if the cost of the property owners, that upon the payment of the assessments incurred the City Council be requested to have the same abandoned."

NEXT MEETING

The next meeting of the Victory Park Improvement Association will be conducted at Garvanza School, Avenue 62. A complete report of the action of the City Council relative to Victory Park Unit No. 2 will be made and future actions of the association will be outlined.

Associated and Union Oil Stand Pat in Price War

The situation in the gasoline price war remained the same here yesterday, with Union Oil and Associated Oil "standing pat" at 14½ cents a gallon, the price of their product last Saturday, when the Shell and General Petroleum companies joined the ranks of other large concerns in cutting the retail price 2 cents to 12½ cents a gallon.

ENGINE DISTILLATE PRICE CUT BY MAJOR COMPANIES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (Exclusive)—Major distributing companies today cut the price of engine distillate 1 cent, to 14½ cents, in the latest skirmish in the recently reopened gasoline-price war. Standard Oil and Shell Union announced the cut and Richfield said it was probable that company will follow.

YOUTH BADLY HURT BY FALL INTO MACHINE

Raymond Soleado, 18 years of age, a laborer, had both arms broken, received serious injuries about the chest and was severely cut about the head yesterday when he lost his balance and fell into a sand machine. The accident occurred at One Hundred Seventeenth street and South Broadway. Soleado was treated at the Receiving Hospital by Police Surgeon Dorn and later was removed to the Roosevelt Hospital.

MARY HAY IN CITY TELLS OF WEDDING

Barthelmess's Former Wife Brings Husband and Pays Visit to Baby Daughter

Mary Hay, whose marriage to Richard Barthelmess was recently dissolved by a Paris divorce, is in town with her new husband, Vivian C. Bath, a broker of Singapore. This was verified yesterday when the former actress, responding to numerous inquiries, broke her silence and sent word to questioners through her former husband's business office.

Miss Hay arrived here Sunday. She has seen a few friends and has visited with her small daughter, Mary Hay Barthelmess. She is keeping very much in the background, however, refusing to disclose her whereabouts to anyone except close friends. She sent a statement to newspapers yesterday through Miss Squire, business manager for Barthelmess.

The new marriage, which has been more or less a subject of speculation, was explained by the actress yesterday. The ceremony was performed in Greenwich, Ct., the Gretna Green of New York, on April 9, the statement said. The couple are in Los Angeles for a short visit, leaving here for New York today or tomorrow. From that city they will sail for London and thence to Singapore.

Bath, who is a rubber broker with interests throughout the Orient, was introduced to Miss Hay in Paris on February 27, near the time when she received her decree from Barthelmess. When she returned to New York in March he followed two weeks later.

Miss Hay stated yesterday the trip to this city was undertaken only in order that she might visit with her 3-year-old daughter. The baby will remain here in the care of relatives for the present, she said.

Barthelmess is on "location" at Camp Lewis, Washington, where he is making a picture

WIFE WANTED---HURRY, GIRLS

Paul, "Plain, Honest Workingman," 38 Years of Age, Writes Bureau He Will Buy License if It Will Provide Him With Mate

No one is more anxious to ring up a sale, of course, than Emma Higgins and Rosamund Rice, who dispense the county's marriage licenses, and they will go as far as anyone else to close up a piece of business, but Paul Gaffney made them call for help yesterday. So they turned Mr. Gaffney's letter over to the Courthouse pressroom, with a cry from Macedonia, and the boys all agreed to do what they can to help the Marriage License Bureau make a sale.

This, therefore, is a call for a throbbing heart, a heart that yearns to beat as one with another throbbing heart, one that for purpose of convenience will be called "Throbbing Heart A." Mr. Paul Gaffney is the possessor of Throbbing Heart A. He, as his letter sets forths, is engaged in a determined search for Throbbing Heart B. He has applied to the Marriage License Bureau for assistance in his search, with the implied promise that if they find what he's looking for they can write him up for a license most any time.

"I am 38 years of age, five feet nine inches in height, weight 162 pounds, and am a plain honest, industrious workingman of good character," Mr. Gaffney sums himself up.

What he wants, he writes, is a girl of a kind and loving disposition, ready for immediate matrimony, subject, of course, to prior sale and prompt acceptance, as the brokers say. He declares himself to be fond of baseball, music, card games, outdoor sports and theaters, but not given to dancing. He is a widower "by law," he puts it, has no children, but would not object to a few, and does not draw the line at widows.

His address, as he subscribes himself, is "Mr. Paul Gaffney, P. O. Box 1446, Los Angeles, Cal."

CHAPLIN LOSES IN COURT TILTS

Technicalities Cleared Away in Divorce Action

Next Step in Contest May Come on Thursday

Course to be Followed Remains Unknown

Two successive court decisions late yesterday cleared away the final technicalities in the divorce fight between Charles Chaplin and Lita Grey Chaplin, and left the way clear for a major engagement, which probably will come Thursday.

At San Francisco the State Supreme Court denied three applications filed in behalf of the Chaplin Studios, Inc., and Alfred Reeves, general manager of the studios, which sought to set aside the receivership over Chaplin's property and the injunction preventing the removal of this property from the State. The Chaplin Studios were dismissed as a defendant some time ago.

A short time later the District Court of Appeals, Division 1, likewise denied a petition for a writ of mandate which sought to quash the service of summons against the comedian and thus afford him another ninety days in which to answer his young wife's divorce complaint. The writ was sought by the comedian's attorneys after Judge Hahn of the Superior Court had refused to invalidate the summons last week. The three justices of the Appellate Court denied the appeal without opinion.

Just what the next move in the divorce war will be, however, remains a matter of conjecture.

Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys, headed by Lyndol L. Young and Edwin T. Murray, declared that the two court decisions will force Chaplin either to answer her suit by Thursday or default in the case. Judge Guerin recently extended the time for the comedian to answer until Thursday at the request of his two local attorneys, Lloyd Wright and Charles E. Millikan.

Mr. Wright however, declared that a copy of the complaint as amended must be served on his client in New York before the summons can be made complete. Until this is done, he maintained, Chaplin cannot be held in default in the case.

CHAPLIN SAID TO HAVE NO INTENTION TO DEFAULT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. (Exclusive)—Coincidentally with a Supreme Court decision today directed against Charles Chaplin, it became known definitely for the first time that the film comedian has no intention of allowing his wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, to obtain a divorce by default.

If Chaplin's answer to the divorce suit must be on file in Los Angeles Superior Court by Thursday, it will be on file, it was learned from Gavin McNab and Nate Schmulowitz, San Francisco attorneys associated with Chaplin's array of legal talent. Neither McNab nor Schmulowitz would discuss the matter in detail or reveal any hint of what the answer will contain, but said they are taking every legal move necessary to insure Chaplin adequate representation in court and that his answer to his wife's suit necessarily must be part of that proceeding.

FIVE HURT IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Two in Critical Condition When Struck by Cars of Hit-and-Run Drivers

Five persons were hurt, two perhaps mortally, in automobile accidents yesterday. Two of them were struck by hit-and-run drivers.

Henry Levey, 62 years of age, suffered an injured chest, possible internal injuries and severe shock near his home at 954½ Hobart Boulevard in a collision between his car and that of V. L. Acklun, 3017 Harcourt street. Mrs. Sivia Levey suffered bruises. Acklund was unhurt. The injured were treated at Receiving Hospital and taken home, but Levey's condition is considered critical.

Julia Foster, 9, of 3820 Goldyn Terrace, Palms, was struck by a car the driver of which failed to stop, near her home. She was attended at her home by a private physician and her condition is said to be critical.

Miss Mollie Reeson, 1677 South Harvard Boulevard, was hurled twenty-five feet when she was struck by a hit-and-run driver at Washington street and Harvard Boulevard. She was treated by Police Surgeon Carey at the Receiving Hospital for concussion of the brain and possible skull fracture. Her conditions was described as serious.

Miss Isabella Neil, 45 years of age, a resident of Claremont, suffered a skull fracture, cuts and lacerations about the head and body, after being struck at Eighteenth street and Grand avenue by an automobile which police authorities say was driven by Fred Deize of 2042 Fremont street. Miss Neil's condition was pronounced as serious by Police Surgeon Dunsmoor at the Receiving Hospital.

Police Officer A. G. Andrews assigned to traffic duty at Jefferson and San Pedro streets, escaped injury and possible death when he accepted the alternative of crashing into a decorative lamp post to avoid striking a child.

He was on his way home to lunch, according to reports, when at Twenty-first and Hill streets a child dashed across the street; Officer Andrews swerved abruptly, missed the youngster, then saw he would collide with another automobile that was executing a "horseshoe" turn ahead of him unless he again altered his course. He again swerved and struck the lamp post, snapping it off so that it fell on the top of his car.

While his automobile was all but demolished, the officer escaped without a scratch.

BRITON DISLIKES WAR FILMS

Commander of Royal Navy Says Our Pictures Give No One Else Credit

Like many ex-service men who saw enough of the war without reviewing it in motion pictures, Commander E. W. B. Leake of the British Royal Navy doesn't like American war films but he has an entirely different reason.

"The pictures are wonderful, you know, but really from looking at them you'd think nobody but America did anything in the war; no one else gets any credit," he remarked yesterday at the Biltmore. "Everything I've seen in America and most everyone I've met I've liked; the only thing I have to criticise is this tendency of the films to forget other nations which participated in the war.

"One can't forget that the war had been going for three years when America got into it, that this country lost fewer men even than Australia, and that it made no end of money out of the war and under the circumstances it would seem that these pictures should be toned down a bit."

Commander Leake served four years in the war and was in command of the Iphigenia, which he and 103 British sailors sunk in the neck of Zeebrugge Harbor, effectually bottling up the German fleet. He was married last October, has been on a honeymoon tour of the world since and is now on his way home by way of Vancouver. His bride was Miss Winnifred Laird of Hollybush, Scotland.

Los Angeles Harbor is destined to become one of the most important ports of the west coast, in the opinion of Commander Leake. He visited the harbor last week and said that he was surprised to find such splendid facilities in berths, deep water and rail transportation. The Los Angeles Harbor ranks with the best he has seen anywhere, he declared. It will be of importance not only in commercial shipping, but as a military base for the dispatch of troops, he declared.

ARTIST TO FULFILL TWENTY-YEAR WISH

For twenty years Joseph Gill-Martin, New York artist, has had a longing to paint California mountains and sunshine, but various personal affairs have kept him from carrying out his wish, he said yesterday at the Ambassador. At last he has escaped from the East and in the next few months he expects to "do" California from one end to the other, he declared. He intends to make a sketching tour of the State at once and then will settle down in Santa Barbara to turn out his finished work, he said. He has just come from Chicago, where he sold out an exhibition of twenty paintings he made last year in Vermont and New Hampshire. Many of these pictures were scenes in the vicinity of President Coolidge's old home.

OFF-SEASON GROWTH HEAVY

City Population Shown to Have Increased 33,000 Over End of Last Summer Influx

Los Angeles was greater in population by 33,300 on April 1 than it was six months ago. Its total on that day was 1,301,312. On October 1, 1926, its population was 1,268,000, according to a compilation by the National Feature Service o. Washington, D. C.

The calculation of 1,301,312 was made by a local firm of statisticians of both local and national repute.

It is checked from every available source and makes several definite concessions on the side of conservatism. The population is divided into two parts. The parts are:

Permanent population	1,137,688
Visiting population	163,624
Total	1,301,312

Permanent population includes those people who live in the city of Los Angeles (city limits,) and have no other permanent residence. The visiting population includes those here for two weeks or more and occupying regular residential family space. The number might be increased by thousands if it were to include the transient visitors. That is, those who are here for a day or two only, and the daytime population of people from nearby places—Santa Monica, Whittier, Santa Ana, Long Beach, and the score of other places which send many thousands of people to Los Angeles in the morning and receive them back at night.

More significant than the population itself is the number of visitors. The visiting population January 1, 1927 was 160,355. In past years the population as of January 1 would continue about even until late February or early March. It would then recede swiftly and by March 20 would have very nearly vanished.

This year the population of visitors has not only held its own from January 1 to April 1, but it has done even better. It has increased. This is an evidence of the accumulative work of the All-Year Club of Southern California. In the past five years the club, though advertising, has been hammering home the knowledge to the rest of the United States that Southern California has as fine a year-around climate as the climate it enjoys in the severe winter months when the rest of the United States is blanketed in snow and ice. Visitors now come in the early autumn and stay until the late spring. Once they came after the first of the year and

JOHN GILBERT IN JAIL CELL

Actor Given Ten Days in Police Episode

Arrest Said to Have Been Climax of Party

Smiles Gamely and Settles Down for Vacation

Jail doors clanged shut behind John Gilbert, motion-picture actor, at the Beverly Hills Police Station yesterday and he will be "engaged" for the next ten days serving a sentence imposed upon him by City Recorder Strelinger for disturbing the peace in the police station on the 11th inst. Gilbert pleaded guilty to the charge.

CAPT SETH STRELINGER.

According to police records, Gilbert came to the station about 3 a.m. vociferously demanding the arrest of someone, whom he neglected to mention. The policeman on the night watch refused. Gilbert then became boisterous and was locked up until sunrise when he was released on $25 bail.

The episode at the jail came as an aftermath to a party that had been in progress at Gilbert's home. The actor was said to have left the party suddenly and next appeared at the station asking that someone be arrested. Later he denied that he was angry at any of his guests, explaining that he was "probably laboring under an hallucination of trouble."

The actor took his sentence with a matter-of-fact grin and accompanied a policeman to the cell quarters beneath the Beverly Hills City Hall, where he doffed his hat and coat and prepared to enjoy what he termed a "quiet vacation."

"It's amazing, isn't it?" he queried. "Well, the judge just asked me if I thought I could get away with such stunts in Beverly Hills. I replied, 'No, I didn't think so, and probably wouldn't do it again.'

"Then he said, 'Ten days. Bang! Just like that, and here I am. Ought to be a nice quiet vacation, though."

While posing for a photograph, Gilbert explained that he was to have started on the production of a motion picture today, the working title of which is "Twelve Miles Out," a rum-running narrative of the screen.

REV. L. A. BARRETT TO LECTURE FOR ROTARY

Rev. Leonard A. Barrett, author and lecturer, who has been a guest at the Los Angeles Athletic Club for several days since his arrival here from Chicago, will depart tonight for Stockton to lecture before the California district annual assembly of Rotarians, comprising California, Nevada and the Hawiin Islands. The conference will be held the 21st, 22nd and 23rd inst. Dr. Barrett will deliver his celebrated lecture, "The Soul of a City," at the Saturday session. He resides in Wooster, O.

FINE FOR POOR SHOOTING

Rigid enforcement of the police department ruling requiring all officers to make a monthly qualification of 40 per cent in revolver shooting will obtain, according to the announcement last night by Chief of Police James E. Davis. Officers who fail to qualify for the month of April are to be fined one day's pay on May 1, under the ruling.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

COUNT LUDWIG SALM VON HOOGSTRATEN says he didn't marry his wife for money, never entered his mind, he says.

When he married H. H. Rogers's daughter and then found that she was rich, I'll bet he was just so surprised he didn't know what to say.

ONLY GINGER ALE

Mr. John Gilbert having been arrested as a result of what he thinks was a hallucination in the middle of the night, it is a distinct relief to learn from an advertisement in the morning paper that his favorite beverage is pale ginger ale.

MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Mary Roberts Rinehart, who has come to Los Angeles for a visit, has got more out of life than any other woman I ever heard of.

She has written of modern flappers with an understanding heart; she was one of the few war correspondents who knew what it was all about. She is one of the few novelists who know the real West and the real cowboys. Incidentally, she is one of a rare few who know the Indians.

HOW COME?

At last some one has been hanged for murder in Chicago. It must have been an oversight or the murderer wanted to save the expense of suicide.

LOEB-LEOPOLD

Meanwhile the way is being gracefully paved to get Leopold and Loeb out.

A distinguished alienist has examined them in prison and has discovered them to be model young men.

It appears that they had a careless nurse who never explained to them that it wasn't right to beat children to death with clubs.

SLAMMING PREACHERS

Boston has stepped with violence upon Sinclair Lewis's novel, "Elmer Gantry."

Just as he slammed business men in "Babbitt" and doctors in "Arrowsmith"—just so he falls upon the preachers in "Elmer Gantry."

In fact, the world doesn't seem to please Mr. Lewis to any noticeable extent.

Boston's indignation has rightly been roused. To judge from this book, preachers are either congenital idiots or lustful Bacchants who slaver at the jaws every time they see a girl.

BACK IN BARBARISM

This is the same Sinclair Lewis who stood up in a pulpit in Kansas City and challenged God to strike him dead.

His idea of God seems to be on a par with the Hottentot idol worshipers who blacken their faces to fool the avenging deity. And his theories about preachers belong somewhere in the same neighborhood.

And it isn't a very interesting book, anyhow.

Pioneer Here in Undertaking Business Dies

William C. McBratney, retired undertaker of this city, died in San Francisco yesterday. He was in charge of the arrangements for the first funeral in Rosedale Cemetery on August 1, 1884.

Mr. McBratney was 78 years of age. The body will be brought here for funeral services, under Masonic auspices. Arrangements are in charge of E. C. Koop, undertaker.

Mr. McBratney leaves a son, Kyle McBratney of El Centro.

Amateur Bandit Dead in Gun Fight After Raid on Sherman Bank

BULLETS PIERCE LUNG AND BRAIN

Money Flung Into Street as Shots Fly

Constable Receives Tip and Sets Trap

Hold-up, Mortally Wounded, Ends Own Life

Chester W. Arnold, Sawtelle lumber yard worker, yesterday attempted to turn bank robber and paid for his effort with his life.

Entering the First State Bank at Santa Monica Boulevard and Hillsdale street, Sherman, at 2:20 o'clock, Arnold drove the half-dozen employees into the vault at the rear of the building, leaped into the cashier's cage and began gathering up a large amount of loose currency from the counter. Fifteen minutes later he lay dead in the front room of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Binder, 714 Ramage street, two blocks from the bank, into which he forced an entrance after a loging gun battle with Constable R. A. Cook and his deputy, W. A. Johnson.

According to the Sherman constables, an anonymous "tip" was received by them yesterday morning that one of Sherman's two banks would be robbed during the day. Stationing a man with a shotgun in front of the First National Bank, a block from the bank where Arnold attempted his raid, the officers then informed the First State Bank officials that a tapping on the rear wall of the bank, which separates it from the constables' office, would be the signal that a bandit raid was imminent.

At 2:20 o'clock Constables Cook, Johnson and Burnett were seated in their office when a gentle tapping on the wall was heard.

Rushing from the office the three officers took up advantageous positions around the bank, Constable Cook maneuvering his way to the front door. When the officer arrived at the door, according to his report, Arnold was busily engaged jamming all available currency into his pockets after herding the employees into the vault and take the other employees with them. A woman depositor, who was standing at the desk writing a check, was ordered to follow.

The customer took one look at the bandit and bluntly said: "Not on your life, old man, I'm going home," and she went. The bandit did not attempt to stop her. The bank still has the check.

During his flight Arnold threw away most of the money he obtained, the greater part of which was recovered and returned to the bank. Although a check had not been completed late yesterday, bank officials declared they believed all of the cash had been recovered.

WIFE PROSTRATED

Officers working on the case believe Arnold played a lone hand and that his act was prompted by destitution.

Out in Sawtelle a young woman and three small children have been thrown on their own resources as a result of Arnold's short-lived venture into the field of bank banditry. Yesterday his widow was prostrated.

Deputy Sheriff Peters, who conducted an investigation, declared that a general policy of shoot to kill on sight has been adopted by every peace officer in Southern California when dealing with bank bandits. The Sheriff's office and bank officials yesterday highly praised the Sherman constables for the fearless battle they waged.

SIX INDICTED IN HOLD-UP OF TWO BANKS

Joe Wysong, 28 years of age; Edwin Waterman, 28, and four other persons, one a woman, whose names were not given out, were indicted yesterday by the county grand jury on charges of robbery and receiving stolen property. The robberies named are those of the Bank of West Hollywood and the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank branch at 4117 West Pico street, on the 11th inst.

The indictments was returned before Judge Burnell and bail was fixed at $25,000 for each person. The grand jury also returned a secret indictment.

The case was presented by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray. Among the witnesses were Capt. Smith, Capt. Cato and other detectives and several employees of the robbed banks. Wysong, Waterman, Paul E. Knapp, a former Seattle officer; Mrs. Lois Wysong, 20, and Beatrice Wilhams, 20, have been under arrest several days in connection with the affair.

Money Madness Brings Them Tragedy

Scene and Principals in Raid

Constable Cook leaned around the corner of the opening and fired through the glass partition at Arnold, but missed. Arnold leaped the railing separating the lobby of the bank from the money cages and bolted for the side door. Constable Cook fired again, the second bullet finding its mark and engaged jamming the bandit.

Arnold, however, gained the entrance and ran west through the alley at the rear of the bank, Cook and Johnson following him, firing as they ran.

GUNS JAMMED

The would-be robber, armed with two automatic pistols, one of which was a German type popular during the war, attempted to return the fire, but apparently his guns jammed, the officers said. Four times during the fusillade officers saw the bandit stagger from the force of a bullet finding its mark.

As Arnold rounded the corner of Ramage street he leaped onto the front porch of the Binder home. Mr. and Mrs. Binder, who were seated in the front room, saw the man as he gained the porch. Mr. Binder jumped from his chair and ran to the front door, arriving there as Arnold turned the knob to enter. Binder slammed the door and called to his wife, both of them forming a barricade and attempted to hold the door against the frantic efforts of the doomed man.

Although of slight build, Arnold's strength proved superior to the efforts of the couple, and with a violent effort he forced the door in as another bullet from the pursuing officers struck him. With a blow from the butt of his revolver the bandit staggered Binder, who turned and followed his wife to the rear of the house. The young couple, carrying their baby, ran to the home of a neighbor.

SHOOTS HIMSELF

Arnold had hardly slammed shut the door until Constables Cook and Johnson hit the front door, and as the two officers threw open the door another shot rang out in the room.

Arnold, apparently dying from the almost half-dozen bullet wounds in his body from the officers' guns, used his waning strength to put a bullet into his head from one of his own guns.

Letters taken from the dead man's clothes gave an indication to his identity, and Courtney Worthington, 2969 Harrot street, Sherman, who was on the scene, rushed to the Sun Lumber Company, Sawtelle, and brought Peter Madsen, 18 years of age, 1667 One Hundred and Seventh street, the bandit's brother-in-law, back to identify him. Young Madsen took one look at the dead man, confirmed the identification, and fainted.

PLEA FOR MONEY

A letter found in the bandit's pocket was addressed to "Dear Brother" and contained a plea for Chester Arnold to obtain money for the writer, who then was in jail, to fight his case. Deputy sheriffs working on the case believe the letter was written by J. C. Arnold, who was sent to San Quentin the 15th inst. and who, officers state, was a brother of the slain robber.

Chester Arnold was 27 years of age, his brother-in-law told officers, while his brother is 32.

An examination of the bandit's body made by Coroner's deputies last night showed that one of the bullets fired into Arnold's body by the pursuing officers had missed the heart by only a fraction of an inch, had pierced one lung and would have proved fatal within a few minutes if Arnold had not put his gun to his head and pulled the trigger.

Arnold's elder brother was sent to the penitentiary for grand larceny and receiving stolen property, deputy sheriffs said their records disclosed.

HAD NOT BEEN WORKING

According to the bandit's brother-in-law, Arnold had been working in a Sawtelle lumber yard until a few months ago, but had not been working of late. He was shabbily dressed, when slain.

According to the proprietor of the Boulevard Cafe on Santa Monica Boulevard, across the street from the bank, Arnold came in there for lunch a short time before he attempted the raid, and observed the bank closely all during his meal. He abruptly arose, walked across to the bank and pointed his guns into the face of L. W. Sheard, cashier, ordered Sheard, Manager W. G. Culbreth and Assistant Cashier F. M. Douglas to enter

DEAD MAN'S PEN ACCUSES CROMB

Asserted Letter of Dietrich Supplies Motive

Suspect Charged With Theft in Undelivered Note

Witness Contradicts Woman's Story of Slaying

A letter found in a pile of rubbish in the greenhouse of Jacob Dietrich, nurseryman, who was slain last December, yesterday was introduced at the trial of Eleanore A. Cromb, charged with Dietrich's manslaughter.

In it Dietrich, if he was the writer, accused Cromb of theft. It was postmarked November 2, and returned undelivered by the postoffice, according to its markings.

SUPPLIES MOTIVE

The letter, which, it was stated, was found last Saturday by Paul Rupp, a nephew of the dead man, was introduced in evidence yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison. Rupp testified that he was searching a pile of rubbish when he came across the letter which he handed to Mr. Dennison. The latter stated he believed it supplied the motive for the slaying of Dietrich.

The letter follows:

"Mr. Ed. Cromb: Dear sir:

"You have entered my place of business on October 21, and removed therefrom two articles, which I can prove by four people. I am giving you ten days in which you will make restitution for the amount of $10. If not, I will spend $10 more to alleviate your trouble to enter my premises and steal off a friend.

"J. DIETRICH.

"I will present four witnesses any time there should be an arguments."

WOMAN'S STORY DENIED

Mrs. Margaret Cromb, wife of the defendant, had stated at the preliminary hearing that Dietrich was struck down by a negro and two Mexicans on November 24, one of them wielding a large flower pot. She said this occurred in Dietrich's nursery.

F. C. Pelka, who lives near the place, stated on the stand yesterday that he saw Cromb coming out of Dietrich's home, choking his wife and that Dietrich followed protesting. Pelka said that Cromb struck Dietrich, who fell to the pavement, and that Mrs. Cromb dragged Dietrich back into the house. Pelka said this occurred between 6:30 and 7 p.m. He also said he heard Daniel McGrath, a watchman, talking to Mrs. Cromb. McGrath testified that he talked to Mrs. Cromb about 9 o'clock.

The case will be continued today. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison prosecuting and S. S. Bishop defense counsel.

MEETING TO SEEK CUT IN ACCIDENTS

Program of Conference on Traffic Safety Next Month Outlined

The program and purposes of the California Public Safety Conference to be held in Berkeley May 16 and 17 under auspices of the Berkeley Traffic Safety Commission, were outlined yesterday by committee members during a meeting at the California Development Association offices, W. M. Garland Building. Mrs. Helen Lucille Holt, director of the conference, presided at the meeting.

The traffic safety education parley, speakers said, marks the first step in the development of a unified Statewide program looking toward a reduction in automobile accidents with their consequent injuries and fatalities. The principal efforts of the delegates, it was explained, will be to determine upon a safety educational program for the school children and for the adult.

Ivan Kelso, general counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California, outlined the purposes of the conference. Clarence Brethen, secretary of the Los Angeles Traffic Commission, described efforts that will be made to co-ordinate plans of all organizations now attempting to reduce street accidents. R. D. White, Superintendent of Schools, Glendale, reviewed the teaching of safety to school children, and asserted many school officials are expected to attend the conference.

Others who spoke were Mrs. Charles Lawford, committeewoman; Police Captain Spellman, in charge of traffic; Fred C. Tatton of the development association; Cleveland Heath, former Deputy Chief of Police, and Mrs. Holt.

DISPLAY OF PRINTER'S ART OPENS

Times-Mirror Room at Manufacturers' Exhibit Ready for Visitors

The Arts and Crafts Room of the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House has now been opened to visitors in the Manufacturers' Exhibit, Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, and all interested in fine printing, books, unusual engraving and copper-plate printing, artistic binding and the like, are invited to visit it. The room is on the third floor and an attendant is in charge to show visitors the many treasures in the collection—some that cannot be duplicated—and explain the technique of the work on display.

As this plant is the largest west of Chicago, and capable of doing anything in its line that may be desired, its display is one of the features. Hostesses at the main door will be glad to direct anyone to the room, and see that they are afforded the fullest information.

Work on added displays for the exhibit started anew this week with the pending announcement of the formal opening date, which will almost certainly be this month some time. Several of these displays are now in process of making and will be put in place this week.

As the exhibit is a permanent one, to continue for years, extra care has been taken by participants to have displays worthy of the object.

SALESMAN INJURED IN FALL FROM HOTEL

John R. Rogers, bond salesman of 1842 South Berendo street, is in the Receiving Hospital with a possible skull fracture and severe cuts about the face and head as a result of an unexplained fall from a window at the Hollenbeck Hotel, 209 South Spring street. He was treated by Police Surgeon Dunsmoor.

of the local office of intelligence unit of the Treasury Department, who has been investigating the accident, was expecteto to be placed in the hands of Asst. U. S. Atty. Simpson today. This report, it has been stated, will determine whether the government will demand that the two federal prohibition agents be tried in Federal court, a move that has been opposed by the District Attorney's office. If Hamer's report indicates that the men were upon official business and properly conducting themselves, it is expected the government will demand federal court trial. The police and District Attorney's office assert that all those in the prohibition agents' car had attending a drinking party at Mrs. McAllister's house shortly before the car hit Ingmire.

left in late February and early March. By St. Patrick's day, March 17, they had practically all gone.

Until the middle of May, from this time, the tourist population will recede. Then, with the coming of the first summer visitors it will start upward again. Its sharpest leap upward will occur with the establishment of the summer excursion rates on the railroads May 22. For the immediate time following the establishment of the summer rates the trains are crowded. Then occurs a brief lag and then a steady ascendancy until the vacation season starts. The ascendency is then a tumult with all tracks and trains crowded.

Motor tourists, who are now coming earlier in the year than heretofore, come most heavily beginning in early June and from that time come by scores of thousands until September.

Were it not for the fact that scores of thousands of Los Angeles residents leave the city in the summer months for their own vacations, ranging in distance from the immediate seashore to Venice in Italy, the summer population would be greatest of all. Now it is not.

It is to the end of making the summer population equally great with the winter that the All-Year Club is bending its energies. Most of the people who take vacations take them in the summertime. If the whole world can be convinced of the truth that practically all of the people of the Southland know, namely, that the Southern California climate is better in the summer than in the winter, the Southland can have its greatest population in the summertime, even with many thousands of its own people away.

BOOST BUSINESS

At a most conservative estimate the spring visitors in Los Angeles will purchase, during April, 2500 pieces of real estate. They will purchase upward of 2000 automobiles. They will patronize the department stores an average of better than once for each person. Each person is a continuous daily patron of the owners of some form of housing—hotel, apartment, court, boarding-house, beach resort, mountain resort or automobile camp. Each is continuously the patron of some purveyor of food—restaurant, grocer, meat market and hotel dining-room.

The advertising fund that is to create the summer business is now being assembled by the Southern California Forward Movement, which finances the All-Year Club, and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The fund is now within $100,000 of its goal of $1,200,000, an irreducible minimum for necessary promotion for 1927.

WRIT DENIED IN PASADENA ROW

Suit Over City Directors Thrown Out of Court

Plea for Canvass Review of Election Loses

Ruling Eliminates One Phase of Complicated Case

One phase of the complicated litigation over the election of Directors in the city of Pasadena was disposed of yesterday when Judge Shaw, in Superior Court sustained a demurrer to an action in certiorari and denied a writ that had been issued on ex parte application. This, in effect, threw the whole proceedings out of court.

The matter was the application of W. W. Fox, a taxpayer, for a writ ordering a review of the Board of Trustees' canvass of the vote on the annexation election held several months ago.

Perry Wood, former Superior Court Judge, appeared technically as friend of the court to argue for the demurrer before Judge Shaw. He explained that he represented the successful candidates for the board at the election of the 7th inst., and a number of Pasadena citizens headed by Mrs. Wadsworth and Franklin Hoyt. Milton Silverberg appeared as counsel for the acting Board of Trustees.

Wood declared that the quashing of the writ would result in the holdover board, one of the reasons given for the failure to canvass the vote taken the 7th, as they have maintained they might not proceed with the canvass while their former proceedings were under attack. Judge Shaw sustained the demurrer on the ground that the taxpayer does not have sufficient personal interest in the situation to warrant resort to certiorari proceedings.

The writ of mandate to compel the Trustee board to canvass the election vote was issued last week by the Superior Court on the application of Fox, who alleges the old board is attempting to maintain itself in office by refusing to qualify the elected successors. Under the writ the old board, if it fails to make the canvass, is required to answer and show cause why they should not be cited for contempt of court. A hearing set for May 9.

Charges Against Rubber Company Head Dismissed

Thirty-four counts against W. H. Hoyt, president of the Rubber Growers Company of America, were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Rush when he held that the prosecution had failed to prove that the defendant had violated the Corporation Securities Act.

Following the dismissal, Mr. Hoyt contended that the entire prosecution was "strike work" and jealousy on the part of one of the complaining witnesses. He said that he plans to bring action for redress on the charge of false arrest.

The rubber-company head was named in the felony complaint with having fraudulently traded twenty-five shares of the company stock to Mrs. Ellen Willard of Lawndale for five acres of land in the Los Angeles River bottom. The land, according to the complaint, was valued at $2000. He was also charged with having made false entries in company books in such a way as to indicate that he was to receive 1000 shares of the company stock. Hoyt and others also were charged with selling to H. H. Taggart $10,000 in stock without impounding the stockholders' money in a designated bank as required by law. The complaint was sworn to on representation of violation of the act by Mrs. Willard and Mr. Hoyt, secretary of the organization.

Following the charges, Judge Shaw exonerated Tetman's $5000 bail.

Delegation Will Start Friday for Boulder Canyon

Representative Joe Crail and other members of the California delegation will leave Friday for a six-day trip to Boulder Canyon, to be given under the auspices of the Boulder Dam Association. It was announced yesterday by Crail that the trip has been arranged to acquaint them with the project and its problems.

The party from Los Angeles by motor Friday will make its first stop at Barstow, where a banquet will be given in honor of the members. Saturday they will attend a dinner banquet of the Boulder Dam Association at Las Vegas.

Sunday by motor boat down the Colorado from Boulder Canyon to Black Canyon, will be followed by a tour of the surrounding country, stops at Needles, Topok and Yuma. In Imperial Valley the party will be guests of the Imperial Valley Chamber of Commerce for two days and nights. In its itinerary a trip down the Colorado River along the border thirty miles into Mexico.

Senator Smith Pleads Guilty to Smuggling

Ralph Smith, aviator, yesterday entered a plea of guilty to conspiring to violate the immigration law by bringing five alien Chinese into the country by airplane from Lower California. In addition, a partner of Smith's in the smuggling enterprise, also pleaded guilty, together with the confession of Smith and his wife, was delayed until the arrest of Louis Sarabia, in order that Louis Sarabia, the Mexican agent who, according to the government's allegation, might plead guilty and testify in behalf of the government, is free on bond and notified that his case will come before Judge Hen-

The Large Hat in Collegienne Head Size

It is a delightfully simple matter for the collegienne to choose her correct accessories at Bullock's. She merely takes a few steps to the Collegienne Hat Shop and selects a large hat in her small head size to go with her sheer frock, and from there a few more to the Collegienne Shoe Shop, where she chooses a pair of pumps.

Collegienne Patent Pumps to Complete Her Tea Costume

Fluttering, rhythmic—yet with that hint of assured finish—the dash of sophistication which says immediately "collegienne." The sort of dress the collegienne chooses with a double purpose . . . for the sorority bridge or the "Tea Dansant."

Boleros! Tucks to the back! Tiers and scarfs! Little black flowers climb over a white ground. Strings of modernistic beads are printed in pastels. Printed chiffons in the specialized collegienne sizes 13, 15 and 17 years. At $25 to $39.50.

Under these Dresses, Collegienne Costume Slips, "Shorts" and Bandette that match—crepe de Chine with lace accents.

SCARCER

An honest man may be the noblest work of God, but a good listener is the rarest.

THE STAGE

The future peace of what fast is becoming the most important part of the world will be secure so long as the Pacific remains pacific.

HAVE SIMILAR POWERS

The average man isn't right up to snuff on naval titles, but a rear admiral, as he understands it, is a nigher directing power, like a rear-seat driver.

AS PRACTICED

The average politician's idea of political economy is to economise on something really important in order to have plenty of funds for taking care of "the boys."

JEALOUSY

Some of the bandits down in Mexico are pretty bad. They're trying hard to make it appear that life is almost as unsafe down there as it is in this country.

OLDER THAN OURS

The Chinamen don't seem to care much for our missionaries, yet they heartily indorse Billy Sunday's favorite hymn, "The old-time religion is good enough for me."

TIME UP

The Nicaraguan revolution has been suppressed. It still was receiving good publicity, but they had to close it up, anyway, in order to give a little breathing space before the next one.

HERE'S YOUR HAT

By resolution the Assembly has granted leave of absence from the State to the Governor and members of the Legislature. It wouldn't annoy the taxpayers if the absence could be made permanent.

NO COMPETITION

"The divorce was granted," says a dispatch about a recent notable scandal, "but the balm suit was withdrawn, so that both parties keep their reputations." Well, probably nobody else wanted 'em, anyway.

WAR CLOUDS EVERYWHERE

Russian plants are turning out all the arms and ammunition possible and seeking funds to finance further warlike expansion. This is the soviet contribution to the peace of the East. Bolshevism thrives on destruction.

UNEVEN BREAKS

An Automobile Club check shows that only 18 per cent of our drivers respect the rights of pedestrians at crossings, and the conclusion is drawn that "pedestrians do not get an even break." Alas, no. Usually it's a compound fracture, at the very least.

RISKY RIGHTS

The courts have decided that negroes have full political rights in the South. But, for that matter, the courts say a pedestrian has full rights on the State highways of California—but it's doggoned risky to try to assert 'em when a motor bus is swinging around a truck.

NOT UNITED

Southern California will never be able to gets its proper legislative representation by the use of argument or persuasion. The ax and the steam roller are the only tools the northern politicians can understand. Until the Los Angeles district masses its votes to some purpose the south will be helpless.

AMONG THE SHARKS

Florida is trying to get back in the limelight with stories of the capture of a twelve-foot shark. It has been generally conceded that Florida has always had the best of us in the matter of sharks. None of the specimens here runs over six feet. Citizens who crave sharks and want big ones will have to turn their attention to Florida.

NEED THE MONEY

An American citizen who wishes to loan the city of Milan, Italy, $30,000,000 can get some pretty bonds to that amount. We are sending millions to governments and cities all over the world and by this time it should be Milan's turn. That town used to make the best chilled steel overcoats in Europe and can still turn out a dandy line of straw hats.

MALIGNING AMERICA

One of these so-called sophisticates has written an article in which he says that no blame should be attached to those who have been traducing America and American ideals, as their awful slams are going to make us a better and happier people. This is like grossly insulting a man and then saying, "I said that to make you feel nice and comfortable."

THE BRITISH DEFICIT

Britain's financial year ends with a deficit—more than $100,000,000—upon which America, with a surplus of more than $300,000,000, could look with complacency were it sufficiently cold-blooded, but which it is inclined to regard with something resembling sympathy. There is a striking similarity between the total revenues of the two countries, they being about $4,000,000,000 in each case, but when it comes to expenditures that is another story.

While our Army and Navy are now costing a little more than Britain's annually, the costs of British civil services are enormous compared with ours, amounting last year to $1,215,000,000, or over one-quarter of the total expenditures. Then, too, while the interest on our public debt was $820,000,000, the interest on Britain's war debt alone amounted to $1,540,000,000. Costly strikes also have added to England's financial embarrassment.

Naturally the British are worried over their budget. It has been said of Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that "he is sitting on an empty treasury chest, looking down into the troubled waters of a deficit and fishing for a budget." But a budget is a mere matter of figures, and he should not worry about that—it is his ability to make those figures look right about which he should worry.

Rarely has a Chancellor of the Exchequer in England had a greater task before him than this one of Churchill's—how to raise the wind. New systems of taxation must be devised, systems that are going to tax even his fertile brain. Last year he hit upon the happy plan of the taxation of betting. This worked fairly well, but it was rather hard to apply, did not produce quite the results expected and has been met with no end of protests. The racing people are insisting upon its repeal, but Churchill keeps telling them that it must remain in effect. Taxing betting has put a damper upon the racing associations, but from our more conservative, not to say moral, point of view, this is no great calamity. We would consider ourselves in a bad way if we felt impelled to levy a tax on an illegal practice for the sake of added revenue.

Those Americans who think they are pretty well fed up with this tax stuff should contrast their condition and prospects in this respect with those of merrie England. We were promised a cut in taxes and were given it by our economical and thrifty administration. In England they were promised such a cut, but not only did they not get it, but were loaded up with more taxes. But, even though Churchill, in his first budget speech, confidently promised a reduction in public expenditures, it probably is not altogether his fault that that reduction has not been made.

"You cannot keep your cake and eat it" is an adage that never applied more aptly than to the British people. They never seem to grudge the lavish expense of maintaining the royal family, and though they may howl about the enormous outlay incident to maintaining an enormous civil list, they seem to make no great effort to reduce it. The Coolidge administration has given the people of this country the benefit of the idea that to save $1,000,000 is equivalent to getting that sum by taxation, but this obvious fact does not seem to be appreciated in England, where, though the people have raised a great cry for economy in the conduct of public affairs, it would appear that no adequate economy is practiced.

This has long been true of England, where it is said by philosophic writers that "everybody wants economy in general, but any particular economy is fought tooth and nail." To a certain extent this is true of Americans, and particularly of pork-barrel Congressmen; but our President knows how and where to retrench in public expense whether anybody likes it or not.

WASTE

A striking public document recently sprang from the pen of Herbert Hoover on waste. He points out the excessive number of different models of automobiles, typewriters, furnaces, hats, shoes and what not.

Indeed he has set some to thinking we have too many schools of philosophy, too many varian. points of view in science, too many denominations in religion, too many styles in clothes, in houses and even in diseases. Standardization would save us from enormous economic as well as mental waste.

It may be difficult to induce automobile manufacturers to surrender models and combine corporations and scrap patterns. Possibly hat and shoemakers will be as hard to approach as confirmed religionists for reducing the number of models.

Conformity is the sinister sister of conservatism. It takes vast effort and sacrifice to bring folks together and it is just as hard to pry them apart for a new alignment in trade or faith.

However, this is not wholly an evil. A bulwark against snap judgment and mob fickleness is essential. The established order is a balance wheel. It may not furnish power—indeed, it may be a drag; but it keeps the engines running smoothly, and noiselessly carries the momentum of the past across the chasms of improvement into the future.

The winnings of hard-fought campaigns ought not to be surrendered without prospect of betterment. Whatever of permanent value in institutions and knowledge has been achieved should not be sacrificed for a whim.

On the other hand, individuality is dynamic. It has ever found freedom and is the one force that has rescued from the dead hand. It frets against chafing conventions and bursts the bonds of stifling superstitions. It is the one challenge to the tyrannies of the ages. Here is the patriot that has ever issued its Magna Charta and Declaration of Independence.

It has its confessed perils. Selfishness and disorder smother its voice and emasculate its effort. Lawlessness often shrieks in its bloody wake.

The dangers of conservatism are no less terrifying. Caste and frenzied fear of innovation paralyze its powers and blight its vision.

However, these two bitterly contesting antagonism, like centripetal and centrifugal forces in physics, manage to keep things moving and yet hold them within cycles and systems.

Individuality tends to waste and conformity breeds stagnation. When either slips into extreme, its peril at once threatens. However, the tendency of the times is toward standardization. As the race works upward and learns to trust others as well as itself its perfections become more pronounced and dominant, and little by little prodigality and inertia are both eliminated in factory, in state and church.

One reason why America is striding away from other nations economically in productive industry is that she is willing to heed her Hoovers and crystallize their wisdom.

WHERE SILENCE IS GOLDEN

While some may doubt the propriety of Gov. Smith's making a public profession of his faith and its relation to politics, only those inclined to quibble find fault with the statement itself. As Gov. Smith points out, he has taken the oath of office in the State of New York nineteen times and there has never been discernible to the public any conflict between his official duties and his religious belief.

Some of the points of his present declaration are worth remembering:

I believe in absolute freedom of conscience for all men and in equality of all churches, all sects, all beliefs before the law as a matter of right and not as a matter of favor.

I believe in the absolute separation of church and state and in the strict enforcement of the provisions of the Constitution that Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.

I believe that no tribunal of any church has any power to make any decree of any force in the law of the land, other than to establish the status of its own communicants with its own church.

I believe in the support of the public schools as one of the corner-stones of American liberty.

There have always been those in this country who seek to apply a religious test as a qualification for holding public office. This cannot be done legally; but they would array those of religious belief other than their own before the court of public opinion.

It is not of record, however, that any candidate for an important public office has ever owed defeat solely to his religious affiliations. When some group attempts to apply the religious test as a qualification for public office the most effective reply has been absolute silence. For, when church and state are united in public discussions, they are likely to become united in the minds of those who follow the controversy.

Gov. Smith offers as a part of his defense the example of the Supreme Court. He says that "During one-fourth of its history it has been presided over by two Catholics, Roger B. Taney and Edward Douglas White. No one has suggested that the official conduct of either of these men was affected by any unwarranted religious influence or that religion played with them any part other than it should play in the life of every God-fearing man."

But Gov. Smith does not seem to have noted that neither of these eminent justices ever deemed it necessary to assure the country in a public statement that he would not permit religion to interfere with a strict and just interpretation of the law and the Constitution. His three-column public statement somehow brings to mind the objection of one of Shakespeare's characters: "Methinks the lady doth protest too much."

If Gov. Smith can overcome the other objections to his selection as chief executive—his political beliefs, his opposition to the Eighteenth Amendment and the general satisfaction in the country with the party and the executive in power—he need have no worry about being defeated on a religious issue. The less he says about that the less the country will say about it.

Since the advent of Bryan Democratic politicians have been strong for free speech and free silver; but silence is golden, and this country is on a gold basis.

SECRET OUT

A British member of Parliament says American films not only are moral but too moral. Well, we're glad at last to understand just what it is the English are kicking about.

As Chicago Sees Him

[Protected by George Matthew Adams.]

CUBIST MUSIC

In New York the other day some 3000 hardy souls gathered in Carnegie Hall to witness one of the most remarkable performances ever conducted under the name of art. The "Ballet Mechanique" it was called. With bells, cymbals, xylophones, sheets of tin, pianos and a noisome wind machine revolving 1200 times a minute as their medium a score or more of persons sat on a stage and produced what was termed the ultimate in cubist music.

The result was tremendous. Some stood it, but others fled the hall amid the jeers of those remaining. Anticipated rioting did not occur, the audience giving vent to its emotions by shouting and foot-stamping.

The fantasy, said to apotheosize the machine age, is the brain child of George Antheil, young Polish-American of Trenton, N. J., who declared that it expresses America, Africa and steel.

Whether it and other like expressions in art ever will be regarded seriously is a question, though it is probable that anything so impossible of understanding by the average person will require some time to establish itself. Aside from its value as a possible psychological experiment with 3000 persons whose auditory organs were subjected to great strain, it is unlikely that the "Ballet Mechanique" will be regarded as a contribution of much consequence.

NEWS ON DRAUGHT

Correspondents at Washington find President Coolidge a fair and competent purveyor of the nation's news. They say that they can gather more reliable information with less red tape and circumlocution than has marked any other modern administration at the capital. Some of the thrill and drama of the Roosevelt and Wilson regimes may be lacking, but the news fountain is open to those who are entitled to its waters and there is a square deal for all. There is no mystery or deception in any of the official departments.

OUR PISCATORIAL ORIGIN

A Trinity College professor says that 200,000 years ago we were all fish. What helps to bear out his assertion is that so many of us are still suckers.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

By James J. Montague

I do not want the large steam yacht
I coveted at twenty-one,
Accumulating wealth is not
The way contentment can be won.
I envy not the splendid cars,
The stocks of prewar Scotch and rye—
And long black fifty-cent cigars
That multimillionaires can buy.
I only wish I had the price
To get a daily pound of ice.

In youth I hoped some day to build
A stately mansion by the sea,
With antique chairs and couches filled—
But this means nothing now to me.
Content a quiet life to lead,
I do not want a great career—
Nor do I fancy that I need
To go to Europe every year.
I only want the cash to buy
Next winter's anthracite supply.

A million dollars in the bank,
Safe and securely tucked away—
Would not obtain me any rank
Among the men of wealth today.
But I am not possessed of pride,
I have no hope or wish for fame,
I am serenely satisfied
To be a piker in the game—
And that poor million would suffice
To keep me stocked with coal and ice.

A Vanishing Pleasure

TORONTO (Can.) April 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Returning from my annual stay at Beverly Hills and recalling all my former visits there, I realize just how much one of the chief and most delightful forms of recreation and pleasure, namely horseback riding, has deteriorated in that vicinity. It is most regrettable that the trails through the beautiful canyons and near-by points are almost gone. It was hard to find a real old-fashioned trail this year.

I have ridden for several years and have looked forward each ensuing year to riding, but if our trails are gone riding will be a memory rather than a reality. One trail in particular, which used to be one of the most attractive, now ends in a drop of thirty feet to the road below. If new trails cannot be made, at least maintain the old ones!

Another feature which I would like to point out to you is the long approach on the concrete roads before reaching the trails, which is most disagreeable and tiresome. It is deplorable that horseback riding, which affords so many pleasures, should be on the wane rather than on the ascent in Beverly Hills.

Why We Pay

ANAHEIM, April 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read with considerable interest and I might say pleasure your editorial in this morning's Times entitled "Southern California Pays."

It seems strange that The Times and the intelligent voters of Southern California didn't know beforehand that both Young and Richardson were Northern Californians, at heart, and had no care for the interests of Southern California.

We had a chance to vote for a good Southern Californian for the office of Governor, one who would have helped us with our problems, but with the intelligence of a 6-year-old child we lined up with these two false gods and elected one of them and then kick because Southern California has to pay.

F. R. WARD.

Reckless Driving

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The views of a nonresident of your city may be of interest to you and your citizens.

I went to your city some weeks ago with the intention of buying and remaining with you. I was the house guest of a friend, who took me around in his auto. Soon he was arrested for breaking your speed rules. That led me to observe, and I found that 99 drivers out of every 100 were breaking your rules and a great many of them, because of speeding, were crashing into other autos and injuring and killing occupants of other autos.

The volume of your killings appalled me, and as I desired to live my allotted span I soon concluded that I would live here many years longer than in your city, hence I will stay here until your authorities curb the brutal drivers to a decent speed limit. Ninety per cent of your injuries and killings arise from high speed driving, hence you can't expect people to locate in your city until you suppress such brutal speeding. Your policemen and authorities are asleep. Awaken them to action!!! Then, and not until then, will people come to you from the Mid-West.

I know these statements are severe—but the disease requires heroic treatment.

Don't Seem to Jibe

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I follow very carefully the China news and I feel you are to be congratulated in the way you are reporting the situation. My work occasionally takes me up the coast and I have found that the northern papers usually do not give as much space to news from the Orient as The Times.

I have noted one thing with regret, however. May I take the liberty of calling attention to it. I have felt often of late, in reading your columns on the China situation, that the writer of your headings has sought to put the worst and most alarming front on the situation. One would expect this in some Los Angeles papers. "Missions Despair of China" is a case in point. A careful reading of this article does not bear out the impressions its headings convey, especially the second one in smaller type. On the contrary, parts of it strike a hopeful note.

A room . . . with window looking toward the green,
Friendly books upon the shelves; books of every scene. . .
The sleepy rustle of turning pages.
Men . . . philosophers and sages.

Men . . . with gentle, soft, gray hair;
Heads bent low; brows crossed with care;
Winter heads of snowy white,
Others . . . iron gray from the fight.

With medal pinned upon his coat, a veteran here,
Sits, with recollections and a tear,
Turns the pages and reads
Of the bravest deeds
In which he took a part,
And gave his soul, most of his life and heart.

SMILES FROM MEXICO

BY LEE SHIPPEY

A dispatch from Mexico says Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, ... chief in Vera Cruz, will be the opponent of Gen. Alvaro Obregon for the next Presidential election.

I never had the honor of knowing Gen. Gomez intimately, but have seen him often and he extended some courtesies to me. I often think of him with pleasure as muy caballero, very much a gentleman. His splendid military ... once serenaded me alone for hour. And I had a chance to serve the foundations of his ... which only two or three ... had.

The serenade was funny. I ... assistant manager of the ... Chamber of Commerce of Tampico and in charge during the absence of the manager, when a ... excursion from New Orleans landed there. Mr. Dobeny's ... assistants there lent me a ... a barge for a sight-seeing trip ... the river, the American ... hastily arranged a smoker—... the bar in easy reach—and ... American ladies also dashed to ... rescue. But I was most ... when Gen. Gomez's secretary ... and offered a concert by the ... eral's uniformed band, a ... splendid organization. I ... members of the visiting delegation ... to say where and when, and ... chose our offices, which overlook ... a lovely plaza in which there ... a band stand. The hour set ... o'clock that evening.

Then the trade-winners went ... on another excursion and were ... late in getting back that night ... was present at 7 o'clock ... brightly lighted, decorated ... looked like a banquet hall ... ed. Only a Mexican boy—a ... janitor—was there, besides ...

The band arrived promptly ... began to play. I thought the ... trippers would be there at any ... ment and decided to hold the ... alone till they arrived. ... French windows, each opening ... a balcony, overlooked the ... cians. I seized the boy, who ... dressed in his best, and gave ... a pair of glasses to make him ... older. "We must impersonate ... crowd," I ordered. "You go to ... end of the room, I'll go to the ... er. As they play, we'll pass ... repass the windows, first with ... off, then with coats on, then ... hats, then without hats, so as ... look like different people. When ... the musicians finish I'll lean ... this window and clap, you lean ... that one. Then each of us will ... dodge back and reappear at ... er window, disguised as much ... possible."

We did our best, for an hour, ... still no one else had shown ... Both our guests and the entertainment committee were delayed ... where. But that wasn't Gomez' ... fault. He'd done his best, too.

I knew a Mexican reporter ... used to write a piece about ... Gomez every two or three ... Every time the general left ... for the north, which meant ... wasn't going to Mexico City, ... chap would write a yarn saying ... was putting down a rebellion. ... reporter was utterly ruthless. ... didn't care how many ... slaughtered with his typewriter. ... All he had to do was imagine ... thing and immediately he would ... write that the news had just ... rived "from an authentic ... source." And he not only ... those stories to a local paper, ... telegraphed them to a big paper in ... the capital, for which he was ... respondent.

I'm not blaming Gen. Gomez for ... that. The young fellow was trying ... to make all he could out of the ... stories. But I verily believe he ... helped quite a bit in making Gen. ... Gomez a national figure.

I have very pleasant and amusing ... memories of Gen. Gomez. ... cannot believe that Mexico is going ... to even consider electing ... over so really a big man as Gen. ... Obregon.

RIPPLING RIVALS of Wall Flowers

THE TEST

Names of orators who flourished many centuries ago have been kept alive and nourished, though of little worth we cannot know. We are apt to taking much for granted when it comes to praise, with swelling pride, at gates who have been planted before J. Caesar died. We are convinced and certain that Demosthenes was great when he stood before the curtain and counted to orate. We are told about the glory when we ply our infant memory down the ages goes the story of his speaking was a treat. His greatest contribution to the world that ever was; he invented elocution and he patented applause. Then the phonograph were ... when he worked the speech trade. If a record were ... his address as it was made, it would be that we would titter; ... be that windy critter once ... famed for eloquence? Did ... admire his speaking as ... maintain? For his rusty voice ... squeaking like a windmill in the rain. He is humming, he is ... ing, he lets out discordant ... and we seem to see his ... for a word he can't recall. ... phonographs were minted in the days of long ago, and we ... all that's hinted of Demosthenes and Cicero. With emotion we have listened to great speakers of this land; ... the babes unborn, unchristened will decide just where they ... Never more can these ... hold, unearned, a fame ... travelling like thieves in the ... down the corridors of time. ... the speakers we've raised ... respect, to whom we bow, will be heard and roundly hooted in a thousand years from now. What ... scendants hear the twaddle ... we now consider fine, they will ... the cupboard waddle for a ... of currant wine.

HISTORIC FIGHT TO BE RECALLED

Battle of Lexington Fought 152 Years Ago Today

Children of Revolution Will Broadcast at KHJ

Cadman Tells Benefits of Radio to Composer

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

This evening part of the children's hour entertainment to be broadcast will include a presentation by Children of the American Revolution.

It is interesting to note that the National Society, Children of the American Revolution has recently launched a radio crusade throughout the country with various programs from different stations.

The main purpose of the various broadcasts is to spread the doctrines of patriotism, help the foreigner in our midst and help keep alive the traditions of our forefathers.

Announcements from the national headquarters say, about their radio presentations, "favor no religion or creed," and the messages will not only be sent to American youth but to American families and institutions where it is necessary that such projects be indorsed.

BATTLE ANNIVERSARY

The patriotic bit of the broadcast is particularly appropriate as today marks the 152nd anniversary of the Battle of Lexington, which took place April 19, 1775. The Battle of Lexington has been frequently described with the phrase, "The shot heard 'round the world."

Today, a century and a half later, the broadcast program representing this battle is to a degree almost heard "'round the world," for WEAF and the red network, at 5:30 p.m. Pacific time, will today broadcast an episode in its "great moments of history" series by offering a Lexington program which will even include the pitter-patter of the hoofs of the famous steed ridden by Paul Revere.

In a carefully prepared address for radioland delivered over KHJ during its fifth anniversary last week Charles Wakefield Cadman, eminent composer-pianist, sketched briefly the value of radio to American composers of the day.

"Radio has been of unestimable value to the composer of today," said Mr. Cadman. "It has helped every member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers and has made the works of each member more widely known.

"In my own case, for instance, I am positive that the broadcast of my numbers has increased the sale of each composition tremendously.

RADIO AIDS COMPOSER

"The public's knowledge of me has increased twofold through radio. Little towns and communities off the route of concert tours, and other out-of-the-way places have come to know of my work through broadcast studios."

In closing, the speaker mentioned the fact that radio brings new numbers to the attention of the public who in turn visit the music dealer to purchase the selections.

The standing of Mr. Cadman as a distinguished composer adds considerable weight to the remarks that radio, instead of cheapening musical compositions, tends to popularize them to such an extent that their sale is thereby considerably enhanced.

Mr. Cadman also said that he was glad to know that the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers is apparently getting together with broadcasters to settle their differences of opinion on an amicable basis.

Protests Denied on Widening of Figueroa Street

Paving the way for the adoption of the final ordinance, the City Council yesterday denied protests against the widening of Figueroa street from One Hundred to One Hundred and Ninetieth street.

The project involves a city and county plan to extend Figueroa street as a 100-foot highway all the way to the harbor. From One Hundred and Ninetieth street, the county will continue the improvement to San Pedro, where the city will again pick up link and extend it to connect with Pacific Boulevard.

Protests by the Anita Baldwin interests against the opening and widening of La Brea avenue, between Washington and Twenty-first streets, also were denied by the Council.

Commission to Confer on River Compact Urged

Resolutions urging that an act be passed by the present session of the State Legislature authorizing the appointment by Gov. Young of a commission to confer with representatives of Arizona and Nevada regarding the Colorado River compact were introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman Hall. The matter was referred to the special legislative committee.

The resolutions called attention to the fact that such a commission is an immediate necessity in order to conclude an agreement regarding the rights of the States in the lower basin. A commission of six members was recommended, two from the State at large, two from names submitted by the city of Los Angeles, and two from names submitted by the Imperial Irrigation District.

OFFICERS ARRIVE FOR "DUKE OF HANOVER"

With the arrival here yesterday of officers from the State of New York to return two prisoners held for the eastern officers as child abandoners, charges of fugitives from justice were dismissed by Municipal Judge Bush against Stanley M. Slingerland and Gerhard T. Jurgens, self-asserted Duke of Hanover. In dismissing the charges, Judge Bush exonerated bail as the two men have both been turned over to the New York officers and will be returned to the East immediately. According to the eastern officers, both men have been indicted by New York grand juries on charges of having abandoned minor children in the Eastern State, an offense subject to extradition in that section.

BOOTLEGGER PLEA BRINGS MORE WOE

Judge Reminded of Former Sentence Decides to Make Him Serve Both

When Mike Diamond, convicted bootlegger, decided that a recent two-year jail term given him by Municipal Judge Stafford was too much, and employed an attorney to seek modification of sentence, he unwittingly paved the way for additional punishment.

Attorney Rosenthal appeared before Judge Stafford to seek modification of sentence or to file an appeal in behalf of Diamond.

Debate between counsel and jurist grew warm and finally Rosenthal said:

"Why, only a short time ago, Your Honor, you gave this defendant a suspended sentence on conviction in a liquor charge."

Judge Stafford called for the previous complaints against Diamond, in which the latter had been fined $300 or thirty days on a possession charge, and a six months' jail sentence on a sale count. Judge Stafford called in the defendant and then revoked the suspension.

Attorney Rosenthal filed notice of appeal in the more recent sentence. Judge Stafford set appeal bond at $7000.

Protest Against San Feliz Zoning Plan Expected

Opposition by many property owners with beautiful homes in the Griffith Park district is expected to be voiced in the City Council today, when a report of the City Planning Committee recommending the business zoning of part of Los Feliz Boulevard is submitted.

The committee voted yesterday to recommend placing in Zone C both sides of Los Feliz Boulevard for one block west of Riverside Drive. Realizing the opposition such a plan will meet with from men and women with homes in the Los Feliz hills, the committee will suggest, in its report that the business houses be set well back from the boulevard with parking and shrubbery between the highway and the store fronts.

LIBRARY BONDS INDORSED

The City Council received a communication yesterday from the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce indorsing the request of the Board of Library Commissioners that a $1,000,000 bond issue for the construction of branch libraries be placed on the June ballot. The matter has been referred to the Finance Committee of the Council.

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

You Can Make a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy

Gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary.

Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost and the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—[Advertisement.

SOCIETY

Easter brides are becoming as popular as June brides, and many June brides have been selecting this season to announce their engagements.

An Easter Sunday wedding was that of Estella Y. Culver, daughter of Marshall S. Culver, to Harry M. Swanson at the Little Church of the Flowers at Glendale. Rev. C. Pardee Erdman of Pasadena performed the ceremony.

Mrs. M. M. Crosier was the maid of honor and Doris Mae Miller was a dainty little flower girl. Emil Swanson, uncle of the groom, supported him as best man, and Harry Culver and G. M. Miller performed the services of ushers for the occasion.

Both bride and groom are residents of Los Angeles, the bride being a native daughter and a graduate of Los Angeles High School, while the groom came here after graduation from Creighton University in Omaha a few years ago.

After a motoring honeymoon through the northern part of the State the young people will be at home at 317 South Kingsley Drive.

McClue-Lynch Wedding

Another wedding to take place in this favored setting will be that of Ina Eloise McClue, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. McClue, to Everett T. Lynch, formerly of Boulder, Colo., tomorrow, Wednesday afternoon.

The bride will be accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss Frances Craddock, and two bridesmaids, Kitty Burns and Louise Stranberg. Alfred Lee McClue, the bride's brother, will escort the groom as best man. Ushers will be Edgar Duke McClue and Chester Grant.

The bride will wear a gown of white French crepe and carry roses and orchids. The bridesmaids will favor pink georgette and picture hats. Madeliene Connell will sing "I Love You Truly," and Mrs. Bert Melvin will play the wedding march. The bride is a graduate of University of California at Los Angeles.

After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Lynch will be at home to their friends at 326 Santa Barbara avenue about May 1.

For Brides-Elect

Mrs. A. E. Peat and Miss F. T. Copple will entertain with a bridge-luncheon and a miscellaneous shower for Miss Alice Small, whose engagement to marry Frank Burrows, June 29, recently was announced. The party will be at the Elks' Club on Next Saturday for twenty-six guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Gaines Toland announce the engagement of their daughter, Madge, to William Rowland Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin Johnston of San Francisco.

Miss Florence Gertrude Young of South Arden Boulevard gave a bridge-tea and kitchen showed for Miss Sara Harvey, who is to be a June bride. Miss Harvey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harvey of South Lucerne Boulevard. About twenty-four guests assembled.

Easter Birthday Party

Mrs. Ashby A. Shaw, who has just returned from New York and Pittsburgh, entertained with an Easter breakfast party last Saturday morning for her daughter, Dorothy Ritchie Krause, at her North Highland home. Mrs. Ford W. Harris assisted the hostess and guests included Margaret Valch, Margaret Gillespie, Virginia Hickson, Janet Davidson, Alta Hulbert, Madellene Jones, Ruth Stopp, Dorothy Pickell and Martha Walls.

Complimenting Brides-Elect

Mrs. George H. McLain of Carthay Center entertained in honor of Miss Florence Gifford, whose engagement to Gordon Fleming of Pasadena was recently announced. At this event Miss Gifford announced May 18 as the day of days. Those participating on this occasion were Mmes. Earl Le Main, Walter Van Rossen, Edith Amthar, George Warren, James E. Beaman, Walter Foreman, Esther Meadows and the Misses Zella Zukle, Rose Russ and Katherine Schnell.

Many Bridge Luncheons

Bridge-luncheons still are a highly popular form of entertainment. Mrs. Walter Dower was hostess at one

This place also was favored for a party given by Mrs. Lucy A. Hall for a dozen friends, including Miss Kattie Cohran of Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Mrs. R. J. Merritt entertained in the Chinese Room the same day for sixteen guests.

The Lambda chapter of the Beta sorority also will bridge with their fashion the benefit party they are Friday evening at the University Club, 949 South which promises to be a gay event. Two bridal events, without a groom the fun planned.

Watch Your Breakfast

Energetic Mornings Depend on Breakfast—Start Always with Quaker Oats

HOW you feel all morning depends largely on your breakfast. Thousands have unenergetic forenoons because of wrong breakfast eating.

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is hurried, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder; 65% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamines and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning.

Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

Spring Brings Out Freckles and Eruptions

The sudden appearance of freckles, sunlight eruptions or fine lines at this season is attributed by scientists to the "actinic ray," which is usually active during spring. The skin is so affected by the absence, if one will procure a piece of ordinary mercolized wax at any drug store, apply a little before retiring, like cold cream, the trouble can easily be overcome. When the wax is washed off next morning, minute flaky skin particles come with it. Soon the entire outer cuticle is removed and all its defects. No bleach is needed, so effectually or harmlessly do freckles, moth patches, liver spots, pimples, etc. The new skin is smooth, clear, fresh and beautiful. Mercolized wax does it. Get the hidden beauty.—Advertisement.

The Lambda chapter of the Pi Beta sorority also will sponsor bridge with their fashion show for the benefit party they are holding on Friday evening at the Women's University Club, 943 South Hoover street, which promises to be a particularly gay event. Two bridal fashion show events, without a groom are part of the fun planned.

The card party which will be given Thursday, the 21st inst., as a benefit for Resthaven, a home established by the Friday Morning Club in 1912 for women of the community in need of special care.

Charter Day was observed at the luncheon Friday, the charter members being guests of honor. The charter members present were Mrs. J. W. Mitchell of Coronado, Mrs. E. P. Clark, Mrs. L. A. Groff, Mrs. John R. Haynes, Mrs. J. O. Koepfli, Dr. Dorothea Moore, Mrs. Minnie Seward, Miss Caroline M. Seymour, Mrs. William A. Spalding, Mrs. W. W. Stilson, Mrs. Edgar Lacy Swaine, and Mrs. George H. Wadleigh.

The president of the club, Mrs. Charles Flavel Turner, presided at the morning and luncheon meetings.

Last Saturday morning, the Friday Morning Club and the Sierra Madre Woman's Club held a joint memorial service at the Friday Morning Club Auditorium in memory of departed members of both organizations.

Highland Park Ebell

At the public affairs program of Highland Park Ebell Club this morning, Mab Copeland Lineman well-known attorney, will talk on "Property Rights of Women and Children." The Treble Clef Club of Franklin High School will sing with Miss Eugenia Oliver as directress. The drama section will be favored with the reading of two plays by Miss Helene Kuhnle. They are "Hearts to Mend" by Overstreet and "Wealth and Wisdom" by Oliphant Down.

On account of the unsettled condition of the weather, making it too uncertain to prepare for a garden party, Mrs. Samuel Weston Hastings has postponed her luncheon for the Ramblers until further notice.

A banquet in honor of Mrs. William Walker Slayden, recently elected president of Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, will be held at Highland Park Ebell Clubhouse Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

San Fernando Women's Club

Mrs. Florence Dodson Schoneman, district chairman of history and landmarks, will be the speaker at the meeting of the San Fernando Woman's Club, to be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Thursday of this week in the American Legion Hall on South Brand Boulevard, with Mrs. Ods Fauleoner, the president, in the chair.

This will be the annual reciprocity day, when the club will entertain all the district federated clubs outside the San Fernando Valley. Mrs. Schoneman is arranging a Spanish program as an adjunct to her address, which will have to do with the early Spanish days in the valley and the Southland.

Hostesses for the day, with Mrs. Otis Crawford as chairman, are Mmes. Henry Trautwein, E. D. Young, B. B. Ward, A. G. Munn, W. A. Humphrey, Volney Craig, Dorris Conroy, Alfred Canby, T. J. Hendershot, J. T. Culbertson, Francis Ingrigg, M. E. Madden, George Evans and the Misses Faith Roberts and Vera Marzian.

Hollenbeck Ebell

Tomorrow Mrs. Schoneman will appear before Hollenbeck Ebell meeting at the home of Mrs. J. J. Hart, 2125 Fourth street.

Current events discussion will be led by Mrs. J. A. Smith at 1:15 p.m. in the library auditorium, and the address of the afternoon will be given by Mrs. James Birney Lorbeer, and a musical program arranged by Edna Earle Pierce will be presented.

The music and drama sections have in preparation a program to be presented for the radio department of the district over KNX Friday, May 6, beginning at 3:30 p.m.

California Badger Club

"The First American" will be the subject presented by Robert Glasby before the California Badger Club meeting in the Philanthropy and Civics clubhouse, 1419 South Wilton Place, tomorrow afternoon. Miss M. M. Farka of the Southwest Museum will sing and also will speak on the subject, "Journeyings of Wanda Anita."

The Woman's Auxiliary of the California Lutheran Hospital will conduct its regular monthly meeting today at 1:30 p.m. in the chapel of the hospital.

League of Voters

A meeting of the business and professional women's units of the Los Angeles League of Women Voters will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. at 805 Brack-Shops.

Miss Lloy Galpin will speak on the "Citizenship Ideal." Clyde E. Shoemaker, chairman of the speakers' committee of the Bar Association, will talk upon the election of judges. The Socialists' ticket for members of the school board will be represented by Jackson Wright and Mrs. Carrie Parsons Bryant will represent the Citizens' Committee ticket. Several independent candidates for the school board will speak briefly. The public is invited.

Hollywood Club

When Sigmund Spaeth addresses the afternoon meeting of the Woman's Club of Hollywood tomorrow; he will discuss his most recent publication, "Common Sense in Music." The speaker, who is a music critic, lecturer and author, has been music editor of Life, the Evening Mail, Boston Transcript and New York Times; organizer and director of the Industrial Community Music in Bayonne, New York, and Evening Mail Home concerts and director of music at Princeton.

Mrs. E. Roscoe Shrader, chairman, will preside at the art luncheon when Kem Weber, head of designs for Barker Brothers, will discuss "The Application of Art to Industry." E. Roscoe Shrader will talk about Olive Hill, the attractive site where the residence of Miss Aline Barnsdall is located, and which she has recently given to the California Art Club for a period of years. Mr. Shrader is president of the club. Arthur Miller, art critic of the Los Angeles Times, and a well-known etcher, will talk on "Is Culture an Asset?"

Section meetings include Shakespeare, the 18th inst.; American home, the 19th; music section, the 20th, French choral club and poetry sections, the 22nd inst.

Los Angeles Ebell

That the public is to blame for the present deplorable trend of the American theater is the belief of Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith. For in her lecture, "The Trend of the New York Theaters," given before members of the Ebell Club, she said that the public receives the sort of entertainment it demands. She is optimistic, however, and believes that the pendulum is swinging back and that the theater will be reborn. As evidence of this Mrs. Goldsmith cited the recent court convictions of several undesirable plays of the New York stage and spoke at length of the plan to produce two great pageant dramas, "The Book of Job" and the "Life of Christ," in the New York Stadium in July of this year.

Mr. Frank Tenney Johnson, the western artist, spoke of his work, and Mrs. Grantland Seaton Long announced the first two evening salons sponsored by the ways and means committee, an evening party on the 21st inst., with Miss Ada Dryden and Miss Laura Paxton as joint hostesses, and a lecture by Mr. Geoffrey Morgan on the 28th inst., presented by Mrs. James Catlett Ernst. The proceeds from this series will go to the furnishings fund for the new clubhouse.

This is the first evening benefit the club has given for some time and it is awaited with more than usual pleasure. Mr. Morgan, in his delightful and inspirational lecture, "The Old Order Changeth," is sure to give original views of modern life. He has made himself a favorite with Ebell by his clever addresses given twice within the year.

A woman has applied for the job as official executioner in Czecho-Slovakia.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

[Requests for recipes and information pertaining to the proper preparation and serving of foods will be answered in this column every Tuesday. Address all requests to Chef A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, 424 Arden avenue, Glendale.—Ed.]

CHOP SUEY

H. L. G., Los Angeles: Cut the breast of a one-and-a-half-pound chicken in small pieces. Soak half a cupful of Chinese dried mushrooms in one and a half cupfuls of warm water until soft and then cut in small pieces. Have ready four cupfuls of peeled and diced celery, one dozen peeled and chopped water chestnuts, two peeled and chopped onions, half a can of bamboo shoots, and two pounds of bean sprouts. Place in a deep pan one tablespoonful of chicken fat, heat very hot, add the chicken and stir and fry until brown; do not burn. Add the mushrooms, celery, water, chestnuts, onions and bamboo shoots and cook ten minutes; add the bean sprouts, two tablespoonfuls of soyu, and a dash of cayenne pepper and simmer ten minutes. Serve in a border of dry cooked rice.

The mushrooms, bean sprouts, soyu, water chestnuts, and bamboo shoots can be bought from any Chinese grocery store.

FRUIT SALAD

A. O'B., Orange, Cal.: Six slices of pineapple, six halves of peaches, one orange, preserved cherries, and lettuce. Arrange on individual dishes, using hearts leaves of lettuce as a nest on each dish. Place a slice of pineapple on the lettuce, then a slice of peach, cavity side down, on the pineapple. Garnish with cherries and sections of orange. Serve with fruit salad dressing.

BEAR FRUIT SALAD

Peel and cut in dice two oranges, two tart apples, cut two slices of pineapple in cubes, and mix in a bowl with three tablespoonfuls of lemon French dressing. Add two-thirds of a cupful of broken walnut meats, twelve seeded dates cut in dice, two tablespoonfuls of chopped pimiento and one-half cupful of blanched and chopped almonds. Line salad plates with lettuce leaves, dress the salad mixture on them, cover with a cream salad dressing and garnish with walnut halves, ripe olives finely chopped, blanched almonds and parsley.

AVOCADO SALAD

Peel and cut in half, lengthwise, good ground cucumbers, scoop out the centers and fill with equal parts of avocado, tart apple, celery and pimientos, all cut in thin, match-shaped pieces. Cover the top with thin slices of orange and pour over all a lemon French dressing to which has been added some chopped watercress.

CARROT SALAD

To two cupfuls of grated raw carrots add one cupful of finely chopped white celery, one small head of lettuce, shredded, and half a cupful of seedless raisins. These are mixed with a lemon French dressing and served on lettuce leaves.

BANANA AND CELERY SALAD

Six small bananas, six tablespoonfuls peanut butter, six pieces celery, lettuce, three-quarters cupful mayonnaise.

Stuff the celery with the peanut butter and then cut into small pieces. Arrange on beds of lettuce with the bananas either sliced or diced. Serve with mayonnaise dressing. Whipped cream may be added to the dressing, if desired.

APRICOT AND PINEAPPLE JAM

Take six pounds of dried apricots and soak over night. In the morning remove from the water and stew very gently in about a cupful of the juice until soft. Put through a sieve or colander, return pulp to the saucepan; add one large can of grated pineapple and allow to stand for one hour. Then add six pounds of sugar, and allow to cook until a little will jell when tried on a cold plate. Pack in jars and seal tight.

INFORMATION ASKED FOR

You have misunderstood the heading of the Practical Recipe Column. I offered to answer all requests for recipes. We do not purchase any recipes for this department.

SOUR CREAM MAPLE CAKE

M. J. G., Pasadena, Cal.: Beat five tablespoonfuls of butter to a cream with half a cupful of sugar and two well-beaten eggs; beat smooth, add one cupful of maple syrup and beat well. Sift two and a half cupfuls of sifted flour with two teaspoonful of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of ginger and three-quarters of a teaspoonful of baking soda; combine the mixture with three-quarters of a cupful of sour cream and beat smooth. Bake in layers, a sheet or a loaf. Cover with maple syrup frosting.

BOILED MAPLE FROSTING

Place in a saucepan four tablespoonfuls of water, half a cupful of maple syrup and one cupful of sugar; stir over the fire until the sugar is dissolved; cover and boil without stirring until a little will spin a thread. Pour the hot syrup slowly into the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, beating constantly, and beat until stiff enough to spread.

BUCKWHEAT WAFFLES

J. R. P., Glendale, Cal.: Sift one and one-half cupfuls of buckwheat flour with half a cupful of sifted wheat flour, five level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Add to these one tablespoonful of melted butter, two well-beaten egg yolks, one tablespoonful of molasses and one cupful of milk. Beat smooth, beat in the well-beaten whites of two eggs and bake in a medium hot waffle iron.

APPLE BALLS

H. L. A., Hollywood, Cal.: Peel, core and slice six apples; place in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of butter, six tablespoonfuls of sugar and the grated rind and juice of one lemon. Stir and cook until smooth; add the yolks of three eggs and two teaspoonfuls of cornstarch; stir and cook twenty minutes and press through a sieve into a shallow plate. Cool, roll into even-sized balls, dip in beaten eggs, roll in sifted cracker crumbs and fry a nice brown in deep, hot vegetable shortening. Drain, cool and dust with sugar.

BUTTERMILK CREAM PIE

Beat to a cream one cupful of butter and one cupful of sugar. When well creamed beat into them four eggs, beat well and beat in two cupfuls of fresh buttermilk. Pour mixture into pastry-lined pie tins and bake in a moderate oven until the mixture is set.

DIET and HEALTH

by Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

SHORT FASTS FOR HEALTH

"I am neither too fat nor too thin," M. writes, "but I surely enjoy your articles just as much as though I were; and I have something to tell you which you may or may not already know, but first I want to tell you a little about my source of information. From rugged youth I went to broken health in the twenties and am in fine shape at 50, but I know that the price of health as well as liberty is 'eternal vigilance.' I am thoroughly devoted to Horace Fletcher's practices.

"Some few years ago (about fifteen, I think,) I had a large back tooth which had been filled and had turned black a number of years previous to my story. This tooth was a barometer with me and when it indicated storm I knew that I was overstepping in some direction and was below par. Finally I had the tooth pulled when I holler over in one of the storms. Since than, my tonsils are my barometer and I keep them reasonably clean with a swab and an antiseptic solution. Now, this is what I want to say: 'The serious results arising from infectious causes may be mitigated by eliminating all contents of the intestinal tract, including the stomach and rectum, for a day or two; and the safest way of accomplishing this is not by cathartics but by water drinking and enemas. Please, doctor, don't jump on me too soon—I am speaking only for myself: The next guy may be so full of toxic accumulations that any such treatment might kill the 'Puir de'il.'—M."

There is no doubt, M., that a short fast of a day or so—drinking nothing but pure water—is decidedly beneficial, especially for those who have been in the habit of overeating. Longer fasts may be necessary in certain diseases, but they should be taken only under the supervision of the physician who is managing the case. There have been too many people who have undermined their health, and not a few deaths from prolonged fasts. While the human organism can go without the energy foods (because the body's stored fat will supply the need,) the need for mineral salts, vitamins and the repair food cannot be supplied by the body without a depletion of the vital organs.

A semifast—supplying the body needs with milk, green vegetables, and fruits, and omitting just the concentrated energy foods (starches, fats and sugars) and the flesh foods—can be conducted for a much longer period without detriment to the health, and, in fact, with improvement to the health in many cases, especially those who need to reduce in weight. Even those who are underweight and have to gain seem to get a better start by a short fast of a day or so and then a gradual increasing of the foods until sufficient calories are consumed to allow for gaining.

However, fasts of this nature, or any other health measure, should not be depended upon to rid the body of toxic products arising from bad teeth, or bad tonsils, M. These should be cured by treatment, if possible, and if not, should be removed.

Horace Fletcher was the advocate of chewing food until all taste was extracted and then removing the residue from the mouth, thus leaving no residue whatever for the intestinal tract. He himself was apparently a marvel of strength and endurance, but he died at a comparatively early age, and it is believed that he lowered his resistance eventually by the practice of leaving no residue for the intestines to work on.

Without this residue, marked constipation results, with absorption of poisonous products from the retained and probably decaying secretion from the liver (bile) and the mucous membranes. Most physicians believe that at least one complete evacuation of the bowels, daily, is necessary for good health. Dr. Kellogg of Battle Creek teaches that but one movement means constipation, and enough residue (in the form of bran or agar) should be taken daily to cause a bowel movement three times a day, after each meal.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible. If they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

A History Game

One Mother Says:

If you are anxious for your children to have an accurate knowledge of history, try this little game.

From cracker box partitions cut cards of equal size. At the top of each card write the answer to the question which follows.

Example:

—DeSoto—

Who discovered the Mississippi?

The cards are divided equally among the players. One asks the question, the others, in turn, attempt to answer. The player answering the question correctly is given the card. If no player gives the correct answer, the questioner retains it.

The player who has the most cards in his possession after any player has disposed of all his cards, wins.

BILTMORE'S EXTENSION HELD NEAR

Addition of 500 Rooms to Hotel to be Considered by Head of Company

The construction of a 500-room extension to the Biltmore on the property adjoining the hotel on the south is to be considered by John McEntee Bowman of New York, president of the hotel chain which owns the Biltmore, upon his arrival in Los Angeles within the next few weeks. This announcement was made yesterday by James Woods, vice-president of the Biltmore Company, in connection with the announcement that a new hotel is to be erected by the company at Dayton, O.

The new Dayton hotel will have 500 rooms and will bring the number in the Biltmore chain to fourteen. The organization also owns three country clubs. The Santa Barbara Biltmore, now being erected, was the last hotel to be announced by the company.

The company has had under consideration for some time the erection of an addition to the Los Angeles Biltmore and plans for the structure already have been drawn. This year the tourist trade has been exceptionally heavy, having started a month earlier than usual and continuing a month longer, and throughout this period the Biltmore has had to turn away guests, Mr. Woods explained. When the extension is built it will cover the space now occupied by the administration building and for parking. Except for the part occupied by the Biltmore Theater the extension will be the same length as the present hotel and it will be of the same architectural design.

Personal Injury Plaintiff Faints in Court Scene

John Pashley, survivor of an explosion which wrecked an apartment-house and caused the death of two sisters two years ago, collapsed in Superior Judge Hazlett's court room yesterday. Pashley is suing Fred H. Hodgins, owner of the apartment-house, for $30,000 for injuries received in the explosion.

As the first day of the trial came to a close Pashley was on the witness stand where he had been answering questions all afternoon. His attorney, William L. Waters, contended that Pashley's nerves were in much the same condition as a shell shocked soldier's. At this time he applied the reflex action test to the youth's knee. A moment later Pashley crumpled to the floor and was taken to the Receiving Hospital at the direction of Judge Warne who is sitting for Judge Hazlett.

Pashley was injured on January 19, 1925, when an explosion demolished the apartment in which he lived with his two sisters, Agnes Pashley and Marie Reynolds. The force of the blast threw him through a window to the ground. His sisters both died of their injuries.

Hodgins is represented by Dana Ong.

Aviator's Trial Delayed Due to Wife's Illness

Because the defendant's wife is at the point of death Municipal Judge Leonard Wilson yesterday continued the case of Earl Carlisle, commercial aviator, accused of reckless driving of his airplane, to May 18, next.

Carlisle was arrested February 18, last, after his plane had crashed into an ornamental lamp-post near the intersection of Leona Boulevard and Mildred avenue, Venice.

According to the flyer's story at the time of his arrest, Carlisle had sold his plane and was preparing to deliver it at a neighboring field. He said his field was so muddy he took the plane to the paved street in order to take off and in swerving to avoid hitting an automobile, struck the post.

CHEF WYMAN'S Suggestions For TOMORROW'S MENU

Friday afternoons from 2 to 4 o'clock, Mrs. A. L. Wyman, conductor of the Tomorrow's Menu and Practical Recipes columns of The Times, will conduct free classes and demonstrations of good cookery and household economics in the lecture room of the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway. Mrs. Wyman is the widow of the late Chef Wyman and is herself one of the noted culinary experts of the country. This course in practical cooking is a gratis contribution by The Times to the service of its women friends and there will be no charge whatever.

PARKING TAG RESULTS IN NEW COUNTS

Suspect in Robbing Case Faces Eight Added Charges Due to Auto Ticket

Already held to answer to Superior Court on several charges of grand larceny and violation of the Motor Vehicle Act, George A. McBride, 24 years of age, yesterday was ordered held to the higher court for trial by Municipal Judge Galbreth on eight additional counts of grand larceny, driving automobiles without the owner's consent and receiving stolen property.

McBride wa sarrested several weeks ago by Detective Lieutenants Savage and Pruett on suspicion of robbery. At his preliminary hearing on the original charges before Municipal Judge MacCoy, the officers said the defendant tried to rid himself of an auto-park check while en route to the police station. Checking the car-tag, they said, they found a stolen machine from which a number of valuable knives had been stolen. Search of his room revealed many other stolen articles, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello.

In holding the youth to answer Judge MacCoy set bail at $5000 and he was remanded to the County Jail in default of that amount.

Shortly after his appearance before Judge MacCoy the prisoner was faced with the eight new charges following further investigation by the arresting officers and was arraigned before Municipal Judge Leonard Wilson, who fixed bail at $4000.

Doctor Cured by Narcosan Freed on Drug Charges

Upon his declaration that he had been cured of the drug habit by the narcosan treatment, Dr. William Jules Poll was allowed probation by United States District Judge Henning yesterday after he had pleaded guilty to forging two narcotic prescriptions. Dr. Poll was sentenced to two years on each charge and placed on probation, to be in the care of Dr. E. H. Anthony, who is in charge of narcotic inmates of the County Jail.

Dr. Poll declared that the narcosan treatment had left him in excellent health, with his craving for drugs removed. He was formerly in charge of the Tujunga Sanatorium.

RARE TAPESTRY ON EXHIBITION IN CITY

PIECE MADE 300 YEARS AGO ONCE BEDECKED WALL IN PRINCE'S HOME

A tapestry three centuries old with not a thread out of place now is one of the most prized possessions of Carlo Marchetti, art patron of Los Angeles, and is on exhibition in the art gallery of Paul F. Lupo of 2611 West Seventh street.

While on a visit to his old home in Florence, Italy, where he received the title of Cavalier bestowed upon him by the King, Marchetti was asked to attend the sale of the effects of a former Russian Prince. This sale gave him an opportunity to acquire six beautiful tapestries. These tapestries formerly adorned the walls of one of the rooms in the former Prince's castle. The one on exhibition in the Lupo galleries measures six and one-half feet in width by sixteen feet in length.

Purple morning glories and pansies of purple with yellow centers and French knots, as were so perfectly made three centuries ago by the finest Italian needle-point women, on a background of orchid, form the decorations of this tapestry. On the bottom is a heavy fringe made of corded braid in varied-colored silk and wool cords of orchid, green, purple, yellow and brown.

PROTESTS HEARD ON INCOME LEVY

Federal Tax Appeal Board in Session Here

Thirty-seven Dispute Claims for $5,000,000

Impost on Baldwin Estate First Case Called

Thirty-seven individuals and corporations, mostly Angelenos, $5,000,000 of whose Federal income taxes are in dispute between themselves and the United States Internal Revenue Department, began yesterday having their day in court before the United States Board of Tax Appeals.

For three weeks the Washington board will have a member here for the convenience of those on the present docket who are protesting that the Revenue Department would overtax them. Ernest H. VanFossan is conducting the hearings this week and John Marquette will conduct them next week. Representing the Revenue Department, which contends that the appellants have not paid all the taxes they owe are John D. Foley, LeRoy Hight and Brice Toole of the Washington office.

ANITA BALDWIN CHARGED

Fragments of the Baldwin estate were dangled before the officials yesterday in the department's charge that Anita M. Baldwin, daughter and heir of the millionaire sportsman, did not by some $60,000 pay the amount of income tax she should have paid in 1920.

According to the evidence she sold about $281,000 of inherited land in 1920. In seeking income taxes on the taxable appreciation of the value of the land since she inherited it, the Revenue Department calculates the appreciation at about $108,000 and avers she should have paid $50,000 taxes on the increment. She contends that the appreciation is but $23,000 and that only about $2000 taxes are due on that account. Consequently she appealed to the independent body to hear her against the Revenue Department.

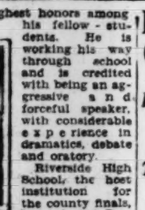
Andrew F. Burke of San Francisco is her attorney in the hearing. One of her witnesses as to land values was D. F. McGarry, real estate appraiser, who is president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT

Others who have appealed to the board on various disputed points are docketed as follows: Arthur Letts Estate, Western Malleable Castings Company, Winter Garden, Inc., Dwight H. Hart, Lelia V. Holmes Estate, Hippodrome Company, Los Angeles Towel and Service Company, Belridge Oil Company, James Applewhite, H. A. Belcher, Adrian C. Conway, Buena Vista Land and Development Company, Brown Process Company, A. J. Gutzler, Premier Oil Company, Wilshire Oil Company, Inc., W. P. Herbert Company, Schiff-Lang Company, Inc., Hyman Levine, H. R. MacMillan, W. H. Trefry, Louis R. Lackey, Harris Oil Company, Tannehill Oil Company, Eugene, August, Alfred and Henry (Sr.) Koch, all of Los Angeles; Charles Barnard of Ventura, M. J. Trumble of Alhambra, Francis M. Townsend of San Gabriel, James Neill of Glendale, Security Development Company of Bakersfield, San Joaquin Fruit and Investment Company of Tustin, Prescott State Bank and M. B. and Anna O. Hazeltine of Prescott Axis.

A. R. Marrs, a senior board attorney and a number of clerks are here with VanFossan. Mrs. VanFossan came with her husband.

The hearings are in the Courthouse, room 350.



PERRY ELLIS

...and has held highest honors among his fellow-students. He is working his way through school and is credited with being an aggressive and forceful speaker, with considerable experience in dramatics, debate and oratory.

Riverside High School, the host institution for the county finals, has selected Perry Ellis to carry school honors into the more strenuous contest. Ellis is preparing for a legal career and is deeply interested in declamation. He is well thought of as a contender by faculty and student body. Ellis was roundly applauded when he won the school event before an assembly of 900 persons. He was awarded a cup by the Riverside Enterprise.

NED C. FAHS WINNER

Ned C. Fahs will lead the fight for Fullerton High School in the Orange County contest. He is a student of oratory and writing and has delivered the oration with which he hopes to capture county final honors before his church and the Kiwanis Club of Fullerton.

MILO ERWIN

Bakersfield High, which constitutes a district, will send Milo Erwin into the finals as its representative. Erwin was placed third at Santa Barbara High last year and Bakersfield students are of the opinion he will place in the larger event.

Mary Comings, a 15-year-old junior at Ramona Union High School, is believed to be one of the youngest students to represent a school in the district finals. However, this young miss has been runner-up for her school since her thirteenth birthday and is prominent in debate and dramatics.

COLLINS BOOSTED

Chaplin Collins is being boosted at Van Nuys High School as a potential winner of district honors when he competed with representatives of other schools in San Fernando and Antelope valleys. He won his school finals over three competitors and was awarded a $10 prize by the Van Nuys News, in addition to the forensic honors that accrue to the school finalist. Josephine Young, who represented this school last year, was second in the 1927 school finals.

Theodore Lichti of the Reedley Joint Union High School will represent that school in the Fresno county finals. He is a junior and was in competition with four elder students. Lichti is reported to be giving considerable attention to improvement of his oration in advance of the county event as he is out to win if possible. This youth is working his way through high school and is a favorite with his fellow-students.

VANDERLIP RIVAL

In competition with Lichti will be Lorna C. Vanderlip of Coalinga High who represented this school last year and was placed third in the district finals. Vanderlip is majoring in English and mathematics. He is interested in dramatics, orchestra band and takes a prominent part on the baseball diamond. Commenting on his ability a fellow-student who has watched the contest closely says his diction is A-1, his enunciation O. K., pronunciation accurate, articulation O. K. and projection fine.

Kern county is deeply interested in the coming county finals as the Bakersfield Californian has offered an unusually fine line of prizes to the winners in a county debate to be held as a side issue to the national contest. also prizes for the final contest winners. Jim McCummings is looked upon by Taft Union High School as a natural winner. He was declared school winner over a field of five, the other four being girls. He has been prominent in debate and drama since entering this school four years ago.

LANDLADY SEEKING RENT GETS BEATING

When Mrs. Edith Endersky, 751 South Daly street, owner of a bungalow court, went to collect rent from Bert York, a tenant at 1046 Richmond avenue yesterday, an argument ensued in which Mrs. Endersky was beaten on the head and choked, according to police. She was treated by Police Surgeon Carey at the Receiving Hospital. Police said they were looking for York.

OVERTIME FAVORED

Finance Committee to Ask Inspectors Be Used Extra Hours

Following an appeal yesterday by E. R. Werdin and other contractors, the finance committee incorporated in its report to be submitted to the City Council today a recommendation that city inspectors be permitted for the balance of the year to work overtime on public improvements.

It was pointed out by the contractors that numerous important public works are being delayed in completion because of the rule forbidding inspectors to draw overtime.

The committee also will recommend a plan for the appointment of sixteen senior engineers at salaries of $275 a month, to replace twenty other employees in the City Engineering Department. The plan, it was stated, will not increase the department's pay roll.

COURT DISCOVERS DISCOVERER

Judge Finds for Don Alvarado in Suit Over Just Who Found Him and Also Finds That Finder Once Was Plain Joe Paige of Penny Dance Halls

Whatever distinction goes with credit for the "discovery" of Don Jose Alvaro, also known as Don Alvarado, none is due George B. Todd nor are any of the emoluments connected therewith. Todd's, Judge Bowron decided yesterday, after listening to a detailed story of the affair.

MAE MURRAY

DON ALVARADO

Alvarado maintained that he practically discovered himself, admitting that Mae Murray may have had something to do with it. And while all the discussion of discovery was going on Judge Bowron did a little discovering on his own account that he does not expect anyone to pay him for. He discovered that Don Joe Alvaro, or Don Alvarado if you please, grandee of the films, was none other than Joe Paige of the penny dance halls back in the old days before someone discovered him.

It was cash, not credit, that Todd was looking for in the matter of Todd vs. Paige. He said he found Paige working in a penny dance hall and immediately visioned him decked out with sideburns, a red sash, a jacket, bell pants and a patent leather hat, and saw a fortune in it. He took him to Robert Leonard, film director, and "sold" Leonard the vision, he declared, with the result that the don is now drawing a weekly salary of $350. What Todd wanted was an accounting of the 25 per cent "cut" he said he had in Senor Alvaro's earnings, under a promotion contract he said they had subscribed to while the don was still a dancer.

Don Jose scoffed at this narrative. He said he had earned his motion picture laurels by diligence, genius and application—that he just naturally had them coming to him. Mae Murray, then Leonard's wife, saw what he had in him, but he brought it out himself, he declared.

Judge Bowron didn't give much weight to this. He was impressed, however, with the fact that Todd had waited a long time to press his claim, decided the contract was invalid and gave judgment for Don Jose Alvaro. Robert Agins, attorney, represented Alvaro.

THRONGS AT HOLLYWOOD TRADE SHOW

Large Tent 200 Exhibits 15,000 in Evening — Containing Visited by

Housed in what is asserted to be the largest tent ever erected in the city, the Hollywood Trade Exposition opened last night with almost 15,000 visitors. The exposition, which is at Sunset Boulevard and Vine streets, will continue every evening this week.

The tent covers an area of 460x180 feet. Hollywood merchants and manufactrers have entered more than 200 exhibits. In addition to the exhibit booths, the exposition has a "joy zone" containing many amusement features.

A fashion show was a feature of last night's program. A number of dancing acts were produced by Walter Wills. Music was given by the Whittier School Band.

Miss Ruth Reick was hostess, and Miss Helen Ferguson will act in that capacity tonight. Lionel Belmore is master of ceremonies for the week.

The exposition is being produced by the Hollywood Amusement Enterprises, Inc., with the indorsement of the Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce.

SHAKESPEARE LECTURE TOPIC

Dr. Kerr Boyer Tupper will lecture on Shakespeare, at the meeting of the Los Angeles Shakespeare Club, Thursday, at 8 o'clock, in their clubroom, 715 Park View avenue, following the reading of the third act of "As You Like It," under the instruction of Dr. Frederick-Warde and Edith Yorke.

Plaintiff Gets Judgment in Recovery Case

Municipal Judge Wood yesterday returned a verdict in favor of Frederick N. Frary in the latter's action against the Jeffries Automatic Service Company and others to recover $750 invested in vending machines leased by the defendant company.

Judge Wood's decision was based on a recent verdict of the District Court of Appeals in the case of Otto J. Boss against the Silent Drama Syndicate.

Through Attorney Gerard R. Remington, the plaintiff asserted the lease of the defendant company was in violation of the State Corporate Securities Act, inasmuch as the Attorney-General had ruled that the company should obtain a permit from the Corporation Commissioner. It was shown the ruling came after Frary leased machines from the Jeffries company. Defense contention was that the company had been told by the Corporation Commissioner that it did not need a permit to lease its machines.

In giving judgment, Judge Wood held with the higher court ruling that it is no defense to merely say a permit was not required.

Beware this Sneakthief of Health!

Are you growing old before your time? Middle life is the danger age! For here in the midst of life's most vigorous period of accomplishment, little symptoms arise—too small, seemingly, for a busy man's attention. Yet thousands today are old before their time because they didn't realize what these symptoms meant. A gland—which often they had never heard of, may have robbed them of their vitality and health.

Do you Suffer from any of these Symptoms?

Aches in Back
Aches in Feet
Aches in Legs
Bladder Inflammation
Chronic Constipation
Cystitis
Getting up at Night
Loss of Vitality
Nervousness
Premature Old Age
Prostatitis
Sciatica

If so be sure to read the message printed herein.

What Do You Know About Your Glands?

Due to the wide-spread publicity given some experiments in advanced surgery, practically all men today know the vital importance of certain glands. But—do you realize the influence of one other gland upon these—upon life itself?

65% Afflicted

Many medical authorities claim that 65% of all men past a certain age (and many much younger) are afflicted with prostate gland disorder. Loss of vitality, aches in back, legs and feet, sciatica, frequent nightly risings, nervousness, chronic constipation and bladder weakness—are a few of the more common symptoms which may indicate prostate gland failure.

Recent Research Reveals New Facts

Until recently there was little (aside from dangerous surgery) that could be done for such cases. However, seven years of research by an American Scientist, has revealed that lives were being needlessly wrecked. Knowledge will prevent much of this trouble and a great deal of it can be cleared up right in the home. In fact, many men so afflicted feel at least ten years younger after applying this new knowledge and treatment to their own cases.

Scientist's Book FREE!

A Scientist has written a small, remarkable book, in such language that all can understand. The information it contains is vital to the men of America—so vital that an Eastern Institution of advanced ideas has published it. This institution is distributing this book absolutely without charge to those who are actually interested.

Delay is Dangerous

The weaknesess of middle-life come upon us so gradually that we often do not realize what is happening. It is gradual—but one day the realization comes upon us with crushing force. If you have reason to believe that you are troubled, clip the coupon and either call at the address noted thereon, or mail it. The Book is Free.

CANTOR CANTERS BACK

Is Minus Tonsils, But Says Good Riddance to Them; "Secret Studio" Has Mystery Other Than Title; Josie Sedgwick Has Role With M.-G.-M.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Eddie Cantor, the screen's newest comedy star, is home again. That is, he calls Hollywood home since he went into pictures and brought his numerous family West. He is at once to begin preparations for his next Paramount vehicle.

Following the completion of his latest picture "Special Delivery," Cantor left Hollywood on what was intended to be a flying trip to the East. He went to New York to preside at the benefit held there for the boys' camp which he sponsors at Surprise Lake, N. Y., expecting to remain for just one day and then speed back to Hollywood.

However, on the trip East he had a recurrence of the tonsil trouble which had caused him so much annoyance in the past, and after the benefit, like a sensible man, he remained in New York long enough to be separated from his tonsils and recuperate from the bereavement.

"The tie which I now have with New York can never be broken," Cantor said sadly, as he dismounted from the train, "for though my heart and the rest of me may be in Hollywood, my tonsils are back there to remain forever."

Definite decision as to Cantor's next picture has not yet been made. Several stories are up for consideration, and a choice is expected in the immediate future. Cantor expressed himself as anxious to get back into his professional harness again.

"Secret Studio" Remade

It would appear that "The Secret Studio" is not a misnomer when it comes to the picture of that name at the Fox Studios. Much mystery surrounds its production.

MADGE BELLAMY

It was made once, but for some unknown reason it is being remade with a new director and an almost entirely new cast.

Victor Schertzinger, who was to have gone East some time ago as head of the new Fox Movietone enterprise, has been retained here evidently for the purpose of directing the new version. Olive Borden and Margaret Livingston are the only members of the former cast who are still in the picture.

Joseph Cawthorn, well-known musical comedy star, is taking what I believe is his first flyer into motion pictures in this production. He came sliding very quietly in, but there seems no reason why his name should not be blazoned forth to the world, such a trustworthy trouper is he. Cawthorn has retained his place as star in the musical comedy world during several years past. He should be an acquisition for the screen.

Clifford Holland, lately signed for Fox for leads, and who started out early in life to be a civil engineer, but switched, following his college career, to acting, is to have the leading male role in the picture. Ben Bard will play the heavy. Other important names added yesterday are Ned Sparks, Walter McGrail and Doris Lloyd.

"The Secret Studio" is to be an elaborate production, Fox aiming to make it one of the finest of the year.

Josie Sedgwick in It

The gigantic cast of "The Trail of '98," which Clarence Brown is directing for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has been increased to thirty-seven, it was announced late yesterday, with the addition of a very excellent actress for an important role.

JOSIE SEDGWICK

Josie Sedgwick is the actress in question, and it would seem that at last Miss Sedgwick has a role worthy of her talents. She is to play the part of Mrs. Jack Locasto, wife of the heavy, played by Harry Carey.

Miss Sedgwick was starred in serials and westerns, and also at one time played leads for Thomas H. Ince, and has always received most favorable comments from critics. She is a sister of Aileen Sedgwick, also a Universal star, and of Edward Sedgwick, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer director.

The featured players are Ralph Forbes, Dolores del Rio and Harry Carey. The big cast also contains Tully Marshall, Karl Dane, George Cooper, Emily Fitzroy, Tenen Holtz, William Orlamond and Caesar Gravina.

Universal Signs Editor.

Universal has renewed for another long term the contract of Joseph Franklin Poland as supervising editor of feature comedies, thus setting at rest recent rumors that he was to leave that organization and join the ranks of one of the other big producers. The new contract carries a new measure of authority, according to announcement.

For ten years Poland has specialized in comedy in his screen comedies, and is considered a master of gags and humorous situations that appeal to all classes and types. He was formerly with Dougls MacLean.

Syd Chaplin Leaves Warners

Syd Chaplin announced definitely the other night that he is leaving Warner Brothers as soon as his current picture is finished.

The comedian's contract was completed the 7th inst., but he is remaining to finish his present picture.

While he has received several offers, it seems quite certain now, he says, that he will affiliate with United Artists.

There seems to have been some friction between Chaplin and the Warners for several weeks back regarding his productions.

During his association with the Warners, Chaplin has made some very successful pictures, including "The Better 'Ole," and others.

Raymond Cannon Signs

Raymond Cannon, who was recently signed by Metropolitan Pictures to prepare the screen version of "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," did such a good job of rejuvenating the dear old lady for the screen that this studio lost no time in getting his signature on a long-term contract.

Since devoting his talents exclusively to comedy, Cannon has fast been carving a niche for himself in the scenario field. Among his most notable successes have been Buster Keaton's "Go West," Douglas MacLean's pictures, "Going Up," "The Yankee Consul" and others, and First National's "Babe Comes Home," in which Babe Ruth makes his debut as a screen star.

Sarah Padden on Screen

If you have missed the bright talents of Sarah Padden on the stage, you will be interested to learn that you may still see her, even though you cannot hear that rich, mellow voice of hers.

Miss Padden, long a vaudeville star, has signed with Fox and is playing an important character role in "Colleen," Madge Bellamy's first starring picture under her new contract, with Frank O'Connor directing.

Fortune-Telling Note

There seems to be every chance in the world that Virginia Lee Corbin will play the featured feminine lead opposite Richard Barthelmess in that star's next First National picture, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come."

It isn't exactly settled, however, and we shall have to let you know definitely about it later on.

Buck Jones Departs

Dashing wildly over the mountains toward Oklahoma City is the present occupation of Buck Jones, who left yesterday in his automobile for that home of the buckaroo, where they are going to celebrate Buck Jones Week in the theaters, and naturally wanted Buck to be on hand.

Brother Thirsts for Knowledge

A college education comes before screen fame in the opinion of Winston Miller, brother of Patsy Ruth Miller, who will enter a preparatory school for Princeton this coming fall. A year later, if all goes well, he will become a duly enrolled student at Princeton.

In the past four years young Miller has played youthful roles in many screen features, and as soon as ever he finishes college he proposes to come right back to the movies.

Indian Picture Given Preview Stars Redwing

Redwing, the Indian motion-picture actor, who has appeared in perhaps 100 or more features, has blossomed out as a picture producer. A beautiful two-reel scenic drama showing the Indian as he is today, entitled "When an Indian Loves," was recently previewed at the Ambassador Hotel Auditorium.

REDWING

The story depicts the true love of Redwing for a white girl whom he discovers to have been ill-treated and betrayed by a man, a young cowboy of her own race. He races through hills and vales on a pony after the man, catches him, fights him, brings him to his senses and forces him back to the girl.

Redwing was introduced to the audience by Chief Clear Sky of the Iroquois tribe, both being the recipients of ovations as they appeared.

The picture was directed by Jack O'Brien.

Arrangements Bring Parties to See "Noose"

Tuesday and Wednesday night are Santa Fe Railway nights at Wilkes's Vine Street Theater, arrangement having been made by N. Messinger, for the railroad, in co-operation with W. K. Etter and W. P. Hunt, general manager and auditor, respectively, whereby thre 2000 employees of the Santa Fe will attend performances of the Willard Mack-H. H. Van Loan drama, "The Noose." The employees of the various branches, including every department in the city, have been divided into parties, some of whom attended last night.

"The Noose," with its mystery and kaleidoscopic action, is attracting what may be termed "group" audiences that include all classes from the highest executive to the office boy. Its entertainment makes special apepal to all those who enjoy the more red-blooded type of drama.

Wampas Group Goes Tonight to See Comedy

The entire membership of the Wampas and the thirteen Wampas baby stars will celebrate the thirteenth week of "Alias the Deacon" at the Hollywood Play House tonight, according to an announcement made by the management of the theater. In addition to the group of publicity men and the baby stars, celebrities of the stage and silver sheet as well as past Wampas baby stars will attend. The 1927 baby stars include Patricia Avery, Sally Rand, Helene Costello, Sally Phipps, Mary McAllsiter, Gladys McConnell, Rita Sarewe, Barbara Kent, Francis Lee, Iris Stewart, Martha Sleeper, Ada Mae Vaughn and Natalie Kingston.

Tonight will mark the 123rd performance of "Alias the Deacon" and the Wampas members are attending the show as a sign of approval of the play.

GOES TO EXTREMES

Clarence Brown, who is directing "The Trail of '98" for M.-G.-M., certainly believers in contrast. Recently he filmed scenes on the top of a mountain in Colorado, with the circumference of the horizon as the boundary of his "set." Upon his return he directed a long sequence within the cramped quarters of a 5x8 ship's stateroom.

ADD DORIS LLOYD

Doris Lloyd has been added to the cast of "Lonesome Ladies," which Ray Rockett is producing for First National Pictures. Lewis Stone and Anna Q. Nilsson are cofeatured in the picture, and Joseph Henabery is directing.

Oil-Tax Suit Affidavit Says J. F. White Ammex Concern to Dodge Ann Luther Debt

J. F. White's little misunderstanding with Ann Luther and headline fame, which almost cost the millionaire oil or thereabouts, became a vital factor in White's trouble ment over income taxes yesterday.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Doherty filed an affidavit yesterday afternoon in the United States District Court in which it is charged that the Ammex Corporation was formed by White because of the "persistent demands of Ann Luther for money," and not because of any prenuptial agreement with his wife.

ACTION HINGES ON POINT

On this point hinges the government's action to collect $275,000 asserted due in delinquent income taxes from White, who is a British subject and who operates in Tampico, Mex.

The affidavit was introduced in an effort to forestall the granting of an injunction to White to prevent the government from acting against him. The government's suit also is leveled against the Ammex corporation.

The affidavit, which is sworn to by E. M. Garber, an agent of the Internal Revenue Bureau, sets forth that the asserted prenuptial agreement under which White was supposed to pay his wife $100,000 for each child she bore him had nothing to do with the formation of the company. In reality, it charges, the corporation was organized to prevent Miss Luther from obtaining a slice of White's fortune at the time she sued him for $100,000 charging breach of contract. She asserted that he failed to make a film star out of her as per contract, but the suit was thrown out of court.

Included in the affidavit of Garber is a telegram tending to show that White

HODGE HUMOR IS DIVERTING

Audience Enjoys Star's Droll Comedy

"Judge's Wife" is Pattern Play, But Pleasing

Courtroom Scene Has Novel Elements

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The judge (feminine gender) is the plaintiff in her own divorce case, and the husband acts as the attorney in his own defense, while the "other man" handles the prosecution. And there you have the neat, intimate and not gaudy climaxing situation, that is set forth in "The Judge's Husband," starring William Hodge, and written by himself. It is three acts of very fair entertainment at the Mason Theater.

Hodge's vein of homely sympathetic comedy is pleasing. He has the personal tricks that capture the laughs. His audiences will enjoy the droll, dry vein of humor which he dispenses, for he invoked a genial response from a capacity audience at the opening last evening.

His play is a wholesome, simple and human affair. The fact that it is a composite of "The Famous Mrs. Fair," "The Waning Sex" and various other pieces that go to show why women should stay at home and not bother with politics, divorces, social duties, etc., will not stand in its way as a sympathetic sort of attraction. It expounds one of the fifty-seven different reasons why such a procedure is not all that it should be—stagewise, anyway.

Hodge plays a character somewhat similar to the venerable hero of "Lightnin'" except that it is a younger character. He makes it plausible and delightful in his own original way. He grows on you through his cleverness and charm of style as well as the fortuitous circumstances that make him out to be good, whereas the majority of the others are either bad or misled. His is a part part in other words—though Hodge's ability to characterize deserves much advantage, for when he personasaly is not on the stage things often lag.

I enjoyed the Hodge work, and I found the courtroom scene quite athrob with interest. It is such a family affair, with the wife acting both as a witness and a judge in the case. This may not seem quite according to the statutes, but I observe that Hodge has a footnote which takes care of this very nicely. In this he cites the fact that there is a strict adherence to a legal possibility as it might exist in the State of Connecticut.

In a season that is locally flooded with courtroom dramas and when audiences are beginning to feel as if they were going to a hall of justice instead of a theater, it must be said that the divorce trial portrayed in "The Judge's Husband" takes on a fair aspect of novelty. Several of the characters introduced, purely supplementary to the main action, are very amusing. Notably are Marie Haynes and Jessie Crommette, a fine pair in the conjunction of their talents.

Hodge in the early part of the play presents somewhat mirthfully and broadly the troubles of the man who keeps house while his wife works, much to his own dissatisfaction and everybody else's. There is also a hint here that he had saved his daughter from some sort of complication, which is duly explained later. Mother consequently has much to blame herself for, and duly shoulders the burden in the final act, calling forth the tears in the ever-dependable manner.

It is good to see Hodge, and it is good to know that such plots as that of "The Judge's Wife" still prevail in a naughty, naughty play world. They still possess their well-known tug at the heartstrings. And what with the recollections of events in a certain Southern State still fairly remembered, as regards the woman in politics, they have a note that is timely.

In the role of Judge Gladys Hanson makes a convincing impression of quality and dignity. The only place where she was not absolutely true to character was in the first-act burlesque quarrel between the husband and wife. Nor do I blame her for this, because it is probably part of the play itself. Elsewhere she was the woman who took the mantle of her duties very seriously, and to the manner born.

Ruth Lyons is an attractive girl, with a snappy up-to-date boyish bob, who is likely to take the eye as a film prospect. She has some affectation, for which she may perhaps be forgiven, and grace. Dorothy Walters aided somewhat to the amusement. A number of the smart-cracks assigned to her failed to register, though several of them caused enough uproar to compensate. Mark Sullivan, Philip Rhodes Thorn and Richard Gordon are others.

"The Judge's Wife" may be only conservatively recommended as far as the play itself goes, but liberally as regards the personal entertainment which Mr. Hodge proffers. He was called on for a curtain speech after the second act, which he made very fittingly, and enhancingly for his place as a favorite.

Film Play Runs Gamut of Many Emotional Acts

In the film version of Tolstoy's "Resurrection," which is now the current attraction at the Criterion Theater, every human emotion described in Tolstoy's classic of love lost and regained is depicted in pantomime. Rod La Roque is the star and Dolores Del Rio the featured player. Edwin Carewe, director, was assisted by Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of the author of "Resurrection" in the filming.

The joyous, care-free spirit of youth is to be found in the opening sequences wherein the prince falls in love with the peasant ward of his aunts. Then comes sacrifice and "Resurrection." The gamut of emotions through which Blanche Walsh on the stage and Mary Garden in opera have swept in the part of Katusha Maslova is now the course of Dolores Del Rio in "Resurrection," while Rod La Rocque loves and leaves and loves again in the dramatic role of Dmitri, which Sir Herbert Beerbohm-Tree created in London in 1903.

Edwin Carewe's reason for filming "Resurrection," now at the Criterion, was given last week by the director himself, who played the role of Prince Dmitri on the American stage in 1905. "The emotional scale is traversed by both Dmitri and Katusha," said Carewe, "and it is one story wherein man and woman alike suffer and triumph in sacrifice."

Will Brighten Four Matinees

Clara King

One of the all-English company assembled by Dickson Morgan for his production of Galsworthy's "Loyalties," to have the first of its presentations this afternoon at El Capitan Theater.

PANTAGES SETS HIGH STANDARD

The bill that opened yesterday at the Pantages Theater proved to be a difficult one to exactly classify, for the various acts presented on the bill were equal in excellence, and each in itself worthy of headline honors.

Besides this fact, it introduced for the first time on the Los Angeles vaudeville stage, Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, in his farewell vaudeville appearance before re-entering the motion pictures.

Mr. Arbuckle's act consisted of a series of "quips and wisecracks," and he received a tremendous ovation from the audience, both before and after his offering, including a short curtain speech delivered by the popular movie comedian, Charlie Murray.

It seems, however, that Mr. Arbuckle's act would have been in better taste if he had not alluded, in so many instances, to his various misfortunes, and unfortunate "breaks." After all what is past is past, and as it has been some time since the instances alluded to, it is reasonable to suppose that they are forgotten for the most part. The public showed Mr. Arbuckle that they would welcome his return to the screen, even before his act, and the jokes alluding to his "hard luck" seemed out of place.

Offering a pretentious act, both in scenery, costuming and numbers, were the Alexander Sisters in a short, snappy song-and-dance revue that proved quite a favorite.

The two girls were remarkably clever in both the arts, and the equally clever violinist and step dancer that assisted them added much to the act with her piquant charm.

Another elaborately staged skit was offered in the revue the "Whirl of Broadway." An unusually excellent performance was given by two youths who proved more than accomplished artists in the realm of "step dancing."

Comedy honors on yesterday's bill went unanimously to Sid Lewis, who divided his time between smashing straw hats and pulling a series of "cracks" that caused even the soberly inclined members of the audience to laugh long and loudly.

Mr. Lewis also added a commendable bit to Mr. Arbuckle's act.

Offering something entirely new in the line of acrobatic and balancing feats was the Sirlany Troupe. This group not only proved themselves to be remarkable in acts of strength, but equally talented in the art of making living statues look "unreal."

Keeping pace with the rest of the bill was the feature film, "Down the Stretch," featuring Marion Nixon and Robert Agnew. The picture was a fast-moving and interesting story of the race track. Other members of the cast included Virginia True Boardman, Otis Harlan, Lincoln Plummer, Jack Daugherty, Ena Gregory and Ward Crane. The film was a Universal production directed by King Baggot.

A series of novelty reels concluded the program.

Will Perform Stunts Today at Egyptian

Stunts, such as walking on his hands on the narrow sixteen-inch parapet of Grauman's Egyptian Theater, and hand-balancing on the head of spinnaz in his relief on the walls, forty feet above the flagging of the forecourt, will be attempted by Wal Balmus, Australian athlete, this afternoon before the matinee of "Old Ironsides."

Balmus states that he will follow the course of Sid Grauman's sheik in exploring the narrow ledges and minarets of the Egyptian, utilizing only his hands for a footing, he states, and also will run down the steep stairs leading to the forecourt, on his palms.

A battery of motion-picture cameras will be on hand to record the feats of the athlete, who also has a reputation as a wrestler, boxer, diver and swimmer, with several lives saved to his credit. He was a stunt man for the movies in Australia.

Designs Gowns Especially for Esther Ralston

"Fashions for Women," Esther Ralston's first Paramount starring picture, which is now showing at the Metropolitan Theater, contains what is said to be one of the most lavish fashion shows ever presented on the screen.

Travis Benton, noted fashion expert, has designed thirty exclusive creations for the picture, and they are worn by Miss Ralston and six beautiful mannequins.

Although the fashion show is one of the colorful spots in the photoplay, it is merely a sequence in the story, which is a romantic comedy of a cigarette girl from a boulevard cafe who finds herself doubling for a famous Parisian model. Einar Hanson plays the lead opposite Miss Ralston, and the cast also includes Edward Martindel, William Orlamond and Raymond Hatton, the latter in one of his best characterizations as the cocky publicity man for the mannequin.

MISS YOST ASSIGNED ADAPTATION OF BOOK

Dorothy Yost has been assigned to write the screen adaptation of "The Harvester," Gene Stratton Porter's novel, which is to be filmed by F.B.O. under the direction of J. Leo Meehan, son-in-law of the novelist.

The assignment, after much speculation on the part of scenarists as to whom the plum would be given, goes to Miss Yost, it is said, as a sort of reward of merit for the continuity completed on "Down Our Way," Larry Evans's last story, also to be directed by Meehan for F.B.O.

"Best People" Marks Belmont Debut of Star

Coincident with the news that "The Best People" will be the next attraction at the Belmont Theater comes the announcement that Mrs. Reginald Denny, popular New York actress and wife of the screen star, will play the featured role in the comedy to open Sunday evening. This marks her first Los Angeles stage appearance.

When Mrs. Denny makes her Los Angeles debut on the Belmont stage, a new policy of weekly change programs will be inaugurated by the Ruth Helen Davis players, the announcement stated.

Acclaimed Avery Hopwood's greatest comedy success, "The Best People" comes to this city after a year in New York and a long run in London, in addition to twenty-five weeks in San Francisco. It is to follow the current attraction at the Belmont, "Red Kisses," which closes Saturday night.

Having played with such stage artists as John Drew, William Gillette, Mrs. Fiske and others, Mrs. Denny is well known to New York theatergoers, although this is her first stage appearance here.

The everlasting conflict between the younger and older generation forms the motif of "The Best People."

ENDURANCE DANCERS WILL TRAVEL MILES

Many previous endurance-dance contests have been held in other cities, as a method of maintaining interest in ballrooms catering to the public, but the records would indicate that none has been conducted under the rules of the world's endurance dancing championship, according to Jack Connors, who is conducting the dancing test.

The dancers in the world's championship will follow a route from Venice to El Patio ballroom, actually about sixteen miles, but the distance covered by the dancers in their evolutions will be about twenty-six miles. The contest is not a race, requires all contestants to accommodate their steps to the type music played by the bands, and they must dance, not walk or run, and remain face to face. Those who survive the grind of the route, will finish the contest in the ballroom, and the last couple to remain on the floor, will be declared the winners.

Connors expects that about twelve teams will make the ball room, and that the contest starting at 3 p.m. the 21st inst., will be decided before midnight of the same day. The route is Venice to Washington Boulevard, to Western, to Third, to Vermont to the ballroom.

MENJOU'S NEXT

Plans are under way for Adolphe Menjou's next Paramount starring picture to follow "The Head Waiter." It will be I. A. R. Wylie's Saturday Evening Post story, "With Their Eyes Open," according to announcement by Associate Producer B. P. Schulberg. Production is scheduled to start during the latter part of May.

HACKETT WARMLY RECEIVED BY CROWD

Opera Tenor Sings Sentimental Program of Merit in Beautiful Voice

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Charles Hackett, famous American operatic tenor, was greeted by a fair-sized audience at the auditorium last night when he presented a program of romantic songs in recital. Mr. Hackett comes here after a successful season with the Chicago Opera Company, having made a decided impression previously in Los Angeles with the Los Angeles Opera Company and with the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Mr. Hackett's style of singing and the unusually high tones of his lyric tenor voice lend glamour to the songs of Dupare, Saule, Chausson and Lizst which achieved marked success last evening. His operatic arias were done with the attractive ease and sophistication which long experience gives and the audience was delighted with them.

In fact, Mr. Hackett, notwithstanding the large personal following which is evident at his recitals, is more of an operatic singer than he is a recitalist. In songs, which are stories in miniature, he is not apparently so much concerned with the story-telling or the music as he is with the opportunity afforded to display flexibility, high range and a superlative breath control.

The accompanist, Charles Lurvey, assisted with several piano solos not particularly well-played.

MACLOON HAS LEASE EXTENDED

Producer Acquires Orange Grove; Gets "Strawberry Blonde" and Star

Louis O. Macloon announced yesterday that he has consummated negotiations with George W. Walker, owner, whereby the Los Angeles producer has acquired the operating rights to the Orange Grove, 730 South Grand avenue, on a term lease.

Mr. Macloon also made the announcement that his first production under the new lease will open on the 27th inst., and a policy of guest stars in New York plays at popular prices will prevail at all times thereafter.

Macloon's first star will be Mabel Taliaferro, comedienne. Miss Taliaferro will make her appearance under Macloon's management in "The Strawberry Blonde" a play by Martin Brown, who wrote "The Lady," "The Exciters," "Cobra," and other successes.

"The Strawberry Blonde" was produced in New York this current season. The Los Angeles presentation of the play will mark its first time outside of Gotham.

According to Macloon, the play tells of the amusing romances of a New York City department store floorwalker.

Several leading men are now being considered by Lillian Albertson, who will stage the play, for the leading role in "The Strawberry Blonde," and owing to the importance of the male lead, great care is being made in the selection. It is expected that Macloon will sign a screen leading man for the role.

Announces Date of Fox Special After "Glory"

Fred Miller announces that the William Fox production of the John Golden stage success, "Seventh Heaven," will have its world premiere at the Carthay Circle Theater on May 6 at 8:15.

This production has been in the making for nearly a year and will have cost more than $1,000,000 when completed, according to W. R. Sheehan of the Fox company. Several months before the actual shooting began, Frank Borzage, the director, and his corps of assistants spent considerable time in France studying the actual locale of the story in order to give realism to the settings.

Every resource at Mr. Miller's command is being utilized to make this opening of "Seventh Heaven" a brilliant one. Carli Elinor and his assistants are working on the musical score and the overture for the production. Jack Laughlin is bending every effort to furnish a prologue of an original nature.

"What Price Glory" will complete its engagement on May 4.

CALIFORNIA ARTISTS IN BILTMORE RECITAL

Three California musicians were presented in a musical at the Biltmore Ballroom last evening. About two-thirds of the large room was filled. Marie Kempley of San Diego displayed a soprano voice of excellent quality and sang several groups of songs from representative song-literature. If warmth and temperament were added to her good taste and sweetness of voice she would be more than merely enjoyable as a singer.

Frederick MacMurrary, a violist, also from San Diego, gave compositions of his own and arrangements by himself of well-known airs. His extensive knowledge of the technical requirements of his instrument is not matched by any manifested interest in his audience, were it otherwise he would be a decidedly successful performer upon an instrument that is all too seldom played.

Alexander Kosloff, popular resident pianist, gave excellent presentations of two Chopin numbers, "Humoresque," by Rachmaninoff, and the difficult "Etude Pathetique," by his countryman, Scriabine.

SOCIAL PHOTOPLAY IN ITS FOURTH WEEK

Compliments are reported to be coming in from all sources to the management of the California Theater because of its successful reopening, after a two-year period during which the theater was dark, of this established Los Angeles house. The business which "Is Your Daughter Safe?" is now doing has marked the reopening of the California with some of the largest crowds that have ever filled this theater.

One hundred and seventy-nine thousand men, according to the management, have filed through the doors since "Is Your Daughter Safe?" opened four weeks ago. The picture has been shown in most of the large cities of the United States, but it is said to be doing a better business in Los Angeles.

BOYS WILL RULE CITY FOR WEEK

Program Arranged Takes in Many Activities

On Certain Days Lads Act as Teachers in Schools

On Others They Take Places of Industry Leaders

Every phase of activity with relation to boys will be covered in the program for the observance of Boys' Week in Los Angeles. A program for every day of the week, which will be observed here May 1-7, was announced yesterday.

As set forth by the Council for the Promotion of Boys' Work, the object of the week is to: "Focus attention on the boys as the world's greatest asset by making the nation think in terms of boyhood; to interest everyone in boys and to interest boys in themselves; to develop a community spirit in the home, church, school and leisure time organizations, and to advocate for every boy a chance to work out his destiny without the handicap of over-privilege or under-privilege."

WEEKS PROGRAM

Weeks of preparation have been made for this occasion under a general committee of which Rich Bulelier of the boys' welfare committee of the Rotary Club of Los Angeles is chairman. The special days are:

Sunday, May 1—Boys' day in the churches, when special services will be held. Arthur E. Wake, Wilshire Presbyterian church, chairman.

Monday, May 2—Boys' day in the schools and libraries, with boys acting as teachers in the schools and directing programs in the libraries; Assistant Superintendent of Schools Bruce Findlay, chairman.

Tuesday, May 3—Boys' day in industry, with visit to commercial plants and boys acting as officers of business firms; S. A. Bostwick, chairman.

Wednesday, May 4—Boys' day in health and boys' evening at home, with many programmed activities set by Chairman E. H. DeGroot, Scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America.

Thursday, May 5—Boys' day in citizenship and loyalty, when boys will occupy more than one hundred Federal, State and city officers; Dr. P. J. Barone, chairman.

Friday, May 6—Boys' day in entertainment with widespread festivities in school, home and over the radio; Wesley Klusman, chairman.

Saturday, May 7—Boys' day out of doors and in athletics, with particular reference to bringing the father and boy together for hikes, visits to points of interest in the city, and sports programs; Superintendent George Hjelte of Los Angeles playground and recreation department, chairman.

HOBBIES EXPOSITION

Beginning May 2 there will be held throughout the week, evenings included, a "hobby exposition" at the Chamber of Commerce, with exhibits of boy "collections" and handcraft. Martin Hauser of the Rotary Club is chairman of this display and has arranged for many exhibits from boys of the municipal playgrounds, Boy Scouts and other organizations.

The whole celebration is being handled by the Council for the Promotion of Boys' Work, of which Assistant Superintendent of Schools Vierling Kersey is president, and E. H. DeGroot is general secretary.

Mrs. W. A. Armistead

Bakersfield (Sta. A.) Calif.—"I always keep Dr. Pierce's medicines in my home and I don't believe there are any medicines to compare with them for family use. When I was about down and out Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription relieved me of this condition and restored me to health. And during my last expectancy I was just a little concerned about myself owing to the fact that my youngest child was fourteen years old, and as a precaution I took the 'Favorite Prescription' during the entire expectant period and I just got along fine, never lost my strength, but felt well all the time, and did not suffer as I had previously. It was the easiest I ever experienced. It not only helped me but my baby was strong and has always been healthy, never having a sick day."—Mrs. W. A. Armistead, 512 Quincy St. Dealers. Kill that skin eruption at the start Neglect of even the slightest skin rash, roughness, or chafing may have serious consequences. Painful, disfiguring complaints like eczema, stubborn sores, etc., all start in a small way.

The safest plan is to keep a jar of Resinol Ointment ready to use at the first sign of skin trouble. It promptly stops itching and reduces inflammation and burning. The tiny pores readily receive this soothing ointment, and its healing influence is carried far below the surface of the skin.

ANDERSON NAMED TO DRY POST

Former Aide to Col. Frith Appointed by McReynolds as Inspector

W. W. Anderson, holder at various times of different positions in the Federal Prohibition service, will return to the Los Angeles headquarters, Prohibition Administrator McReynolds announcing his appointment as inspector yesterday. Anderson formerly was assistant administrator here under Col. Frith, and was acting administrator at the Northern California headquarters at San Francisco until the latest shake-up there.

McReynolds also announced yesterday that his request for twelve additional field agents has been allowed by Washington.

McReynolds yesterday inquired of Washington if it will be necessary for himself and Assistant Administrator Cannedy to take the Civil Service examinations recently prescribed for the prohibition service. There is some question as to whether administrators and their assistants are subject to these regulations and McReynolds and Cannedy already have qualified under Civil Service in the Internal Revenue Department.

Officials of the prohibition service must take the tests by May 3 and agents by May 9.

FIANCEE OF DOMINGUEZ CASHES RING

Miss Turner Admits Sale of Attorney's Engagement Token in Will Hearing

Under cross-examination yesterday, Miss Edna Turner, one of the chief beneficiaries under the will of the late Frank Dominguez, criminal attorney, admitted that she had sold for $5000 an engagement ring given her by Mr. Dominguez. The admission came shortly after Miss Turner had told the court that she became engaged to her former employer in January, 1925.

Shadows of former affairs also flitted through the courtroom when W. J. Ford, attorney for the contesting Dominguez heirs, introduced a divorce complaint filed against Miss Turner by her former husband, Frank H. Turner, in 1912, naming her present husband, Herbert A. Hollister, as co-respondent.

Under the terms of the will now being contested in Judge Keetch's court Miss Turner would receive half of the $165,000 estate.

The trial will be resumed at 10 o'clock today.

POLICE FIND MYSTERY IN SHOOTING OF YOUTH

Deputy sheriffs were at a loss last night to account for the shooting of a youth giving his name as Elmer Payne, 18 years of age, who became frightened while being treated at the Inglewood Hospital for a wound in the leg and dashed out of the building before attendants could apprehend him. Though the boy carried a .45 caliber revolver, the wound was caused by a bullet from a .38 caliber weapon, the attending physician announced. He had declared that the wound was self-inflicted.

Christie Booked for Violation of His Probation

R. H. Christie, who was arrested Sunday night on a charge of failure to stop and render aid, was rebooked by county probation officers at the City Jail yesterday on a charge of violation of probation. Christie was said by detectives to have been found guilty some time ago on a charge of driving while intoxicated and was placed on probation.

Christie was arrested Sunday night, according to police, after he he fled from the scene of an accident in which an automobile driven by him had crashed into a street car at Hollywood Boulevard and Hudson street. Miss Marie Bowman, film actress riding in Christie's car, was badly injured in the crash, police reported. Police said a bottle of gin was found in Christie's car.

Girl and Youth Arrested for House Robbery

Asserted by Hollywood police to have been caught burglarizing the residence of Mrs. Catherine Gerkie, 1317 Sycamore street, Marie A. Scott, 18 years of age, and her brother, George, 20, of 1126 Sycamore street were arrested last night at the Gerkie home by Detective Lieutenants Kairn, Winters and Bullin.

Returning home last night from a visit with friends, Mrs. Gerkie found the place ransacked. Walking into another room, she surprised the Scotts at work, police said. The pair fled, but Mrs. Gerkie followed them home and then notified Hollywood authorities. Part of the stolen goods were recovered there, the detectives reported. They were booked at City Jail on suspicion of robbery.

Suspect Faces Four Counts in Burglary Case

Having already confessed in writing, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Menzies, to nineteen burglaries, Charles Stewart Mellon was accused of four counts of burglary in a complaint issued by the deputy.

With two of these counts also went additional charges of having been previously convicted of burglary, once in Alameda county and once in Los Angeles county, and having served terms for these charges.

Mellon was arrested by Wilshire police after a series of burglaries in Beverly Hills and the Wilshire district. A large amount of asserted plunder was recovered. Mellon is said to have stolen about $10,000 worth of valuables. He is in the County Jail.

Technicalities Feature Move for New Trial

In filing yesterday a motion for new trial for John Spraic, convicted last week of manslaughter for the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Ranes, defense counsel, L. E. Dadman and C. L. Welch, declared, a photograph introduced in the trial in Superior Judge Edmond's court, purported to be of Mr. and Mrs. Ranes, was not in reality a picture of the two. Dep. Dist.-Attys. Pricke and Eagan will argue for the State.

Various other technical points were raised in the motion which will be argued before Judge Edmonds on the 28th inst.

The slaying, it was shown in testimony, was the result of a two-year neighborhood quarrel.

BANQUET FOR BARKER

Associates Honor Local Merchant Back from European Trip

Clarence A. Barker, vice-president of Barker Brothers, was guest of honor at a banquet at the Commercial Club of Southern California last night the occasion being his return from a six-months' tour of the art and manufacturing centers of Central Europe.

The banquet was given by a group of Barker's associates in the merchandising division of the Barker Brothers' organization.

Barker gave a description of his trip, pointing out those things in the present day culture and civilization of Europe of greatest interest and value to the homes and people of the United States.

Five new A.A.A World's Records

DRIVING a completely equipped Commander model, four passenger enclosed Studebaker—absolutely stock throughout without even the bumpers removed—the same car and in the same way you would drive; using pure, undoped Richfield Gasoline and Richlube 100% pure Pennsylvania Motor Oil; Harry Hartz established five new world's records at Culver City Speedway, in what is credited as the greatest performance ever made by an automobile!

Starting Friday, April 1st, at 5:15 p. m. and concluding at 3:03 a. m., Tuesday, April 5th, the entire run was timed and supervised by the American Automobile Association who gave the total elapsed time as 81 hours, 48 minutes and 22 seconds—an average of 61.12 m. p. h. Hartz was relieved at intervals by Eddie Hearne, Louis Wilson and Ab Jenkins.

The wonderful stamina, the speed and endurance of this Studebaker, the superior quality of the gasoline and oil used, are evidenced by the fact that at the conclusion of the 5000 miles, several additional laps were made at 70 m. p. h. and that throughout this terrible test the only replacements or repairs were three grease cups, one spark plug and one punctured tire.

LECTURE SERIES ON CHURCH ENDS

Christian Science Goal of Progress Shown

Perfection Said to Underlie All of Reality

Process of Growth Held to be Mental Idea

The series of Christian Science lectures by Paul Stark Seeley, C.S.B., member of the board of lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, was concluded by the lecture last evening in First Church. Mr. Seeley spoke in part, as follows:

"Have you ever pondered the question as to what is the goal of all progress? Almost every one is interested in progress. The child desires to outgrow the limitations of childhood. The adult seeks to advance into wider fields of accomplishment. Artists, musicians, business men and women all share these impelling motives to progress into larger attainment. Religiously, socially, economically men endeavor to progress through overcoming the limitations of ignorance. Nations advance into improved modes of law and government, into wider commercial activity, into more effective means of education and national betterment. Many nations are looking toward the objective of universal peace.

"What unseen power impels these moves, and toward what are we all moving? Our tents are struck, but from whence are we, and whither are we going? What is the destination of man? Christian Science is answering these questions to the satisfaction of a rapidly increasing multitude.

"Archeologists in Egypt once searching for treasures thought to be buried deep beneath the desert sands came upon a single step, uncovered by the desert winds. Zealously they dug about it and uncovered another step and then another. These led them to a solid wall. It was broken through with difficulty and they came into a room beyond which was yet another wall. Again they set themselves to break through the barrier of stone, and when it was finally removed they found, unharmed and intact, the costly treasures. So it was with Mrs. Eddy searching amid the desert sands of human theories for the hidden treasures of spiritual truth. She found one step, then another and another. One was the discovery that the only efficacy of drugs is in proportion to faith in them, another was that the human mind is not a divine agent, and that hypnotism is the opposite of divine power. The steps often seemed to lead to impassable barriers, the false education of centuries, the scorn of friends, the persecution of enemies, but pressing on she found intact those spiritual truths about God and man which Christ Jesus said should never pass away.

"What, then, is it that Christian Science teaches? On Page 393 of Science and Health Mrs. Eddy writes: 'Perfection underlies reality. Without perfection, nothing is wholly real.' Perfection, the condition of reality, is this not the goal toward which men are slowly moving? However far we may yet seem from its attainment, is it not the objective, the destination, yet dim in the gloaming of imperfection's shadows?

"He who knew whence man came and whither he goes had no hesitation in giving the unconditional command, 'Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.' Would he have wasted words bidding men do what there is no possibility of doing? He spoke well knowing that he was declaring the purpose of existence, the legitimate and attainable goal of all intelligently directed endeavor. What does perfection mean? It means that which is complete, blameless, not lacking in anything. Do you think that an absolutely intelligent cause would produce an incomplete, blameworthy and imperfect creation? Is perfection anything more than the natural effect of supreme wisdom? Jesus was but bidding us discover and demonstrate the order of being which is natural to God.

"But, alas, what is between us and perfection? A world of imperfection, it seems, and we seem to be in it. Can we gain dominion over and freedom from this? We can. Jesus did so and said we should do the same. The process he showed was mental. It is what Paul referred to when he said, 'Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind.' It is that mental change mentioned by Jesus when he told Nicodemus that he must be born again—gain a different consciousness of life and manhood—before he could find God's creation."

CAR DEADLIER THAN RIFLE

Accidents Would Be Fewer If Autos Were Used as Carefully as Gun

Automobiles may be more deadly than firearms, the police bureau of public safety declared yesterday in the daily traffic talk given over KHJ.

"The accident toll would be greatly lessened throughout the country," it was stated. "If the motor car operator exercised the care a hunter takes in handling a gun. The average man has a healthy regard for the business end of a rifle, but often fails to take into consideration that a motor car out of control is a far more deadly weapon than a machine gun."

CESSATION OF WATER ROW URGED

Assemblyman Williams in Telegram Says Owens Valley People Hinder Cause

A demand that disorder in Owens Valley, the source of Los Angeles' water supply, be stopped in the interest of a settlement between the ranchers and the city was forwarded from Sacramento yesterday to the Owens Valley Protective Association by Assemblyman Dan Williams.

The telegram followed reports that George Warren, a well-to-do rancher of the valley, had barricaded himself in his Big Pine home to resist attempts to evict him on asserted grounds that he had favored the city in disposal of lands in the valley.

"Absolutely demand any semblance of disorder in Owens Valley stop," Assemblyman Williams's telegram said. "This Legislature should not be embarrassed. I am working hard for favorable settlement and insist drastic actions hinder your cause."

A resolution was introduced in the Legislature last week by Williams asking the Legislature to take steps toward an equitable settlement of the controversy. As a result the Assembly sent a delegation of eight members to Owens Valley last weekend to conduct an investigation.

It is the plan of the legislative committee to hear representatives of the city of Los Angeles and also take testimony from the Inyo county groups, a committee of which arrived in Sacramento yesterday.

SPEAKERS WILL PLEAD FOR TREES

Green Cross Program in Connection With Forest Week Announced

More than 100 talks before civic clubs, schools, churches and similar institutions are to be made by members of the speakers' bureau of the 'American Green Cross from now until the end of American Forest Week, set by President Coolidge for the 24th to 30th inst., according to announcement last night by George H. Barnes, chairman of the board of governors, who spoke on conservation and reforestation before the Pasadena Realty Board.

Florence Collins Porter, nationally known club woman, is to appear before the Audubon Society Thursday afternoon at Exposition Park, telling of the almost complete disappearance of America's wild-bird life, due to forest destruction. The Los Angeles Audubon Society, local branch of the national group of bird societies, has been made a member of the board of the Green Cross for its work in Southern California.

Mr. Barnes is also listed to make two personal addresses this week in Altadena. On Friday afternoon he is to talk to the Altadena Woman's Circle, and at 7:30 o'clock that evening before the Altadena Citizens' Association with the main bulk of the speaking engagements to start Sunday in line with the President's proclamation.

REVIEW WON BY EDISON IN WATER ROW

United States Supreme Court to Reopen Suit Over State Riparian Rights

Dispatches from Washington yesterday announced that the United States Supreme Court has consented to review the decision of the California Supreme Court in denying the Southern California Edison Company the right to store water in the San Joaquin River and its tributaries for development of hydroelectric power under the Federal Water Power Act.

Announcement of the decision brought word from Roy V. Reppy, vice-president and general counsel for the Edison company, that the corporation will file briefs with the United States Supreme Court appealing the case and seeking to have the decision of the California courts overturned.

The decision, it was pointed out, represents a victory for the Edison company in its legal fight with Amelia Herringhaus and other riparian owners on the San Joaquin River to prevent hydroelectric development on the stream. The case has been in the courts since 1923 and the United States Supreme Court consented to review it because of its extreme importance; it was indicated in the dispatches.

BETA GAMMA SIGMA OPENS GATES WIDER

COLLEGE WOMEN MAJORING IN COMMERCE WILL BE ADMITTED

College women majoring in commerce may be admitted to membership in Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary commerce fraternity as a result of the 1927 biennial convention of the scholarship society held in Cincinnati this month and attended by Don Edwin, president of the student body of the college of commerce of the University of Southern California, who returned to the Trojan campus yesterday.

With the idea of patterning after Phi Beta Kappa, which is open to women of high scholarship attainment, the admission of co-eds into membership of Beta Gamma Sigma received an even vote at the Ohio conclave, and now is a matter for action of the executive committee, according to Edwin.

Election of officers of Beta Gamma Sigma resulted in Ira C. Cross of the University of California, being elected vice-president. The next convention will be in Chicago in 1930.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

MYSTERY IS NO MYSTERY

Shots, Blood, Fire Excite Citizens

Kitten Responsible for Tell-tale Evidence

Cause of Blaze Unexplained by Officials

LA HABRA, April 18.—This little story has to do with a mysterious fire four revolver shots, a trail of blood and two missing persons, the time being midnight Saturday. Neighbors living near the home of Bud Fisher, oil worker living on Idaho street, La Habra, were startled out of their slumbers when they heard four shots in quick succession. They were further excited to discover that Fisher's residence was a mass of flames. Hastily donning such clothing as was handy, the neighbors dashed to the home. "Has there been a murder?" "Are the Fishers at home?" "Do you suppose that both are dead?" These and similar questions came from the excited lips of the La Habrans as they gathered around the blazing home.

About this time Fire Chief Wilcox arrived on the scene. Wilcox discovered that a trail of blood led from the front-porch steps to one side of the dwelling. Aha, it was murder, thought the neighbors as they gathered closer together and cast anxious eyes at the thick bushes around the house. Several women were on the verge of fainting and a number of men preparing to risk death in a dash into the house when a voice piped up:

"I seen Bud Fisher going down the street this evening." It was a small boy speaking. Two men were dispatched to find Fisher.

A few minutes later they came back with the maid. "Where's your wife?" anxious voices asked. "In Bakersfield," Fisher replied, and the neighbors breathed freely once more. The blood spots? Well, he killed a cat on the steps the day before. Of the revolver shots, Fisher was flat here, claiming that his revolver was not in the house at the time. It is believed that the shots were cartridges which had been forgotten and exploded by the fire. As to the cause of the fire, Chief Wilcox is unable to assign a reason, and so a story that had all the elements of a real mystery was explained before the ashes had cooled.

Two Caught in Dry Law Raid Before Court

ONTARIO, April 18.—Two victims of dry raids conducted by Patrolman G. M. Brown and R. S. Sydenstricker were arraigned before Judge George R. Holbrook here today. The first, Frank Knight, who was taken into custody yesterday afternoon at a local apartment-house where a number of empty flasks and a small amount of asserted whisky were found, had his bail bet by the court at $1000, which up to a late hour this afternoon he had been unable to raise.

The second victim, pretty Mrs. Genevieve Tedrow, 18 years of age, was taken at the same apartment-house this afternoon. She is asserted to have disposed of a quantity of supposed liquor by way of the bath tub while the officers sought to gain entrance to her apartment. She was arraigned this afternoon on a liquor possession charge and released on $300 bail.

Knight is charged with selling as well as possession of liquor as the police are reported to have a small bottle of asserted whisky which he is said to have sold prior to the raid.

Date of trial for both offenders has been set for the 27th inst.

WEAR CAPS AND GOWNS

Pomona High School Seniors Adopt Classic Attire

POMONA, April 18.—Caps and gowns will be worn by the Pomona High School graduating class of 1927, thereby breaking a precedent set by former graduating classes which have turned down the idea in years past.

The decision came today after considerable discussion before the entire class when the action was found entirely practical. Gray caps and gowns, which will present a uniform appearance upon the platform, were chosen.

Other matters decided upon were that the girls will wear sport outfits and the boys will don spring suits for the baccalaureate program and on class day the girls will wear inexpensive spring dresses.

Plans for commencement week and class day programs are being formulated under the direction of the class officers and the faculty advisory committee, while commencement announcements showing the class seal and personal cards have been ordered by seniors anticipating graduation.

SHIP STOCK OUT OF KINGS COUNTY

LEMOORE, April 18.—Shipment of fat lambs and sheep from the plains west of here continues, with beef shipments mixed in, the west side having had a fine stock year due to abundance of wild feed. On Saturday, three carloads of beef cattle were shipped out of Coalinga and one from Huron. Eight carloads of sheep and lambs also went through here that day, six destined for Los Angeles and two for Fresno. Shipment of fat lambs and sheep will continue for some time yet. Sheep shearing is over and growers are now looking for the best market for sales.

CITY TRUSTEE RESIGNS POST

REDONDO BEACH, April 18.—The resignation of C. J. Schaeffer as City Trustee of Redondo Beach was tendered at tonight's meeting of the City Council. Mr. Schaeffer gave as his reason for wishing to withdraw from the board increasing business interest and lack of time to devote to civic matters.

FIRST DUTY TO HIS BOVINE

Farmer Lad Released from Jail to Help Keep Cow Out of Difficulty

ARMONA, April 18. — Robert Bitter, a youth of 17 years of age, charged with possession of a still, was allowed liberty yesterday on his own recognizance to return to his ranch home and milk the cow, this duty being imperative on him said, in justice to the cow and the officers were inclined to be kind-hearted to all concerned. Asked how much the cow gives, he said, "Five gallons daily," but he refused to discuss the daily output of the small still he is accused of owning. He was certified to the Juvenile Court and will have his trial later.

SAN DIEGO CHIEF TO BE OUSTED

Head of Department Suggests He be Captain Under Proposed Law

SAN DIEGO, April 18. — James Patrick does not expect to be Chief of Police under the incoming city administration, it developed this morning, when he filed with the Common Council an ordinance creating the position of captain of police at a salary of $250 per month.

The outgoing Council is favorable to appointing Patrick to this position, it was stated. Councilman Bruschi said Patrick has been associated with the San Diego Police Department sixteen years, and that he deserved retention in a capacity that would prove beneficial to the city. The ordinance goes into effect thirty-one days after its approval.

Mayor John L. Bacon said he was not familiar with the purpose of the resolution, and when informed of its origin, said he was surprised.

According to the Councilmen, when the time arrives for the Chief to retire, he is to be appointed to the new position under the ordinance.

The Chief is an appointee of the new Mayor. County Detective Joe Myers is said to be the leading candidate for the position. As the ordinance does not become effective until after the new Council is in office, Patrick's appointment to a captaincy will be by that body, if it is made.

It was reported that Patrick was ready to resign the chiefship now, but no resignation was forthcoming at the forenoon Council session.

Orange Show Gives Party for Boosters

ANAHEIM, April 18.—More than 200 newspaper men, motion-picture directors and leaders in the citrus industry are expected to attend the second annual California Valencia Orange Show dinner to be held at the Elks' clubhouse tomorrow evening at 6:30. The dinner is given by the show management to honor the men who assisted in spreading the news of the orange show, and will attract guests from all parts of the Southland.

The affair will be presided over by H. E. W. Barnes, president of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce. It has been planned by a committee of six, headed by Harry Driley. Other members of the committee are Louis Dane, Harry Campbell, H. N. White, H. W. Faris and Lotus H. Loudon. Features of the entertainment have not been announced and will be kept secret until the time of presentation, Mr. Riley said today. It is understood, however, that a fast-moving program has been arranged.

The dinner will be the official opening of the publicity and advertising campaign for the California Valencia Orange Show, which will open here May 19 for a ten-day run.

ENLARGE CAPACITY OF PASADENA ROSE BOWL

PASADENA, April 18.—Estimates and bids for the construction of the 30,000 seats that will be built at the south end of the Rose Bowl this summer are being sought by the Tournament of Roses Association this week. Construction will start in a few weeks, it is believed.

The addition will give the stadium a capacity of about 82,000, making it one of the largest stadiums in the West. The new section will be ready in time for next New Year's Day's East-West football game. The money is being raised by the sale of seats for the New Year games on a five-year basis. The Tournament of Roses Association is a nonprofit body.

POMONA STARTS ON ANNUAL CHEST DRIVE

POMONA, April 18.—With this year's goal set at $39,585, the annual Community Chest drive today netted 423 subscriptions for a total of $10,320, today being the initial appearance of workers throughout the city on the stricken canvass. Fox, George S. Phillips and Morris Wilson, campaign chairman, were speakers on Chairman C. E. Houston's program today, at the noon luncheon when team captains turned in reports on the day's subscriptions in the banquet hall of the local Y.M.C.A.

HELD ON SUSPICION

BRAWLEY, April 18, (AP)—A man thought to be Dario Medina, wanted for the murder of Petro Vegilia at Guadalupe, Santa Barbara county, in January, was arrested here today by Chief of Police J. D. Fox. Santa Barbara authorities have been notified.

GIVES MONEY TO FRIENDS

Ventura Woman Disposes of $250,000 Estate by Series of Bequests to Church and Individuals

VENTURA, April 18.—A total of $167,000 of the $250,000 estate of Mrs. Alice P. Blackburn of Ventura, resident of Ventura county since 1876, who died here about three weeks ago, was bequeathed to Dr. O. H. Piper of this city, his wife and daughter, the Presbyterian Church of Ventura and five former Ventura residents, it became known today when the will was admitted to probate.

Dr. Piper, who is Mrs. Blackburn's brother, receives the largest part of the estate, being bequeathed, besides the Blackburn home place, the sum of $50,000 in cash and all the remainder of the estate after the various bequests have been made.

The Presbyterian Church is to receive $5000, it being specified that the money be prudently invested, and that the interest be used toward payment of the general running expenses.

To two daughters and a son of Rev. C. B. Rogers, former pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, Mrs. Blackburn bequeathed $21,000. Marion Rogers to receive $7000; Evelina Rogers, $7000, and the son, $7000. The Rogers family lives at Hayward, Cal.

Miss Florence Vandever, a friend of Mrs. Blackburn, and formerly the librarian of the Ventura County Library, is to receive $2000 by the terms of the will, while Rev. J. B. Stone, former pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, but now in Inglewood, is bequeathed the sum of $1000.

Besides these bequests, Mrs. Blackburn leaves to the Presbyterian relief and sustentation cause the sum of $5000, and to the Children's Home Society of California, $5000. In addition to the large legacy left Dr. Piper, Mrs. Piper and their daughter Nellie, are to receive the sum of $2500 each. There are approximately thirty heirs among whom the estate will be divided, according to the terms of the will.

Jury is Unable to Fix Blame in Man's Death

PASADENA, April 18.—Unusual circumstances surrounding the fatal injury here Thursday of Margareto Garcia, street laborer, who was struck by an automobile driven by Edward H. Neher president of the Lincoln Planing Mill Company, Burbank, so perplexed a Coroner's jury here today that it was unable to fix the responsibility for the accident, following an inquest at the Clyde Wilson undertaking rooms.

Garcia, who leaves a widow and six children, was working on a new pavement at the intersection of Magnolia streets when Neher's car struck him, dragging him thirty-five feet and injuring him so that he died in the Pasadena Hospital that night, according to testimony today.

Neher testified that he did not see Garcia even after he hit him. He said that he felt a slight jar, but made no effort to apply his brakes immediately, as he was not aware that he had struck anyone. He stopped about 100 feet from the spot where the machine struck Garcia. Neher stated that he was driving at a speed of about twenty miles an hour. As soon as he saw that Garcia was injured he ran back, put him in his car and brought him to the Emergency Hospital.

Garcia lived at Belvedere Gardens and was employed by the C. O. Sparks Paving Company. The inquest verdict stated that he died as a result of a ruptured liver sustained when struck by Neher's car, but that the jury was unable to decide who was responsible.

USE PURE SEED

Kern County Cotton Growers Raise Crop Standard

BAKERSFIELD, April 18.—The pure cottonseed agency of the Farm Bureau under the management of Harold L. Pomeroy, has made an advance payment to growers producing the pure and improved seed, amounting to $8000. So successful has been the growth of the pure-seed selling agency of the local farm bureau that this year, with a county acreage in cotton estimated at between 27,000 and 29,000, more than two-thirds of the acreage in Kern will be planted with the pure and registered seed.

The finest seed of each year's crop from selected districts, is utilized for the next season's planting through the pure-seed sales agency. Higher prices for premium staple and improved cotton have resulted in growers throughout the valley buying the improved seed.

Mr. Pomeroy reports now that more than half of the acreage in the San Joaquin Valley is planted with the registered seed of the farm bureau here.

DAIRYMAN ARRESTED

SANTA ANA, April 18.—Charged with operating a dairy in Orange county without a license, Richard Lang, 34 years of age, was brought into Justice Court today by health authorities. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and his trial was set for 10 a.m. the 26th inst.

Lang waived a jury trial and Justice Kenneth Morrison will hear the charges. Lang was arrested by F. W. Howard, deputy sheriff, and lodged in jail, where he remained for a short time. He is said to have refused to pay a license on January 1, last, according to a statement made today by Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer.

LITTLE FROST DAMAGE

PORTERVILLE, April 18. — Jack Frost's unexpected and unwelcome Easter visit to various sections of the San Joaquin Valley did little damage in Tulare county, according to reports. While frost was general in Dinuba district in the mountain section, it is not believed any special harm was done. Early potato plants in the southern end of the county, hit a week ago and vineyards, will perhaps, be the chief sufferers. Deciduous stuff was also nipped a bit, but as with last week's frost, such damage is "spotted."

Make Gains in Campaign for Church Funds

FULLERTON, April 18.—Elation was manifest in the congregation of the Methodist Church of Fullerton today, after the announcement made at the Easter service yesterday by the pastor, the Rev. Charles S. Kent, that the goal of $125,000 set to be achieved by the 17th inst., had actually been attained in the campaign for funds for a new church edifice for the organization.

"Every effort will now be made to reach by fall our final goal of $175,000," the Rev. Mr. Kent explained. "All contributions made to the $125,000 fund were made with the understanding that they would be valid only if that amount were procured by the 17th inst. Now that this has actually been done, naturally, we are sanguine that the additional $50,000 we seek will be obtained in the next few months. Contributions to the latter fund will not be made conditional."

INSPECTORS APPEAR BEFORE SUPERVISORS

EL CENTRO, April 18. (AP)—Three State inspectors of the Motor Vehicle Department, from Sacramento, Walter Greer, B. K. Hardy and Ed Brock are appearing before the County Supervisors today in connection with the suspension by Inspector Greer of Frank Oswalt, Imperial county head of the traffic squad. The suspension was made by Greer ten days ago and wire protests to Sacramento have brought about the hearing today. Chief Enoch was expected to be here, but did not come.

Oswalt is charged with lifting or cancelling tickets issued to alleged violators of traffic laws, the tickets being summons to appear in court to answer these charges. Oswalt, the charges declare, made it unnecessary for the defendants to appear and the cases were never docketed.

ROADSTER DEMOLISHED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 18.—Joseph Estrada of 140 American avenue, Long Beach, received a broken arm and two women were injured in an accident just west of the Huntington Beach city limits, about midnight last night, it was reported today. The three persons were reported to have been riding in a roadster which struck the rear end of a Julian Oil Company trailer, driven by P. L. Kennedy of Huntington Beach. The roadster was completely demolished.

CAPTURE ESCAPED MURDERER

Man Wanted by Tennessee Officials Arrested in Visalia

VISALIA, April 18.—Confessing his identity and admitting that he murdered his wife, for which he escaped from the Tennessee penitentiary in Nashville, Tenn., Jim Whitsol, who had been known here as Joe Burke, is being held in the Tulare County Jail awaiting arrival of officers from Tennessee. They are expected Wednesday. He is also said to be wanted for two other murders, details of all three being lacking.

Whitsol was arrested in the business section here Saturday evening by Sheriff R. L. Hill of Tulare county and his deputies and offered no resistance, although they had been warned by Tennessee officers that he was a desperate criminal and would probably be heavily armed.

From descriptions broadcast in circulars sent out from Nashville, Sheriff Hill "spotted" Whitsol and wired for additional information. Instructions came at once to make the arrest and hold the man until officers from there could arrive.

The suspected criminal had been in the Visalia district about seven or eight months and was employed on the Mineral King Orchards Company ranch, being known as Joe Burke. He is about 40 years of age and of powerful physique.

Whitsol is said to have escaped April 6, 1926, from the prison in Nashville, while serving a life term for murder of his wife.

While admitting he is the man wanted by the Tennessee authorities, Whitsol shows no disposition to discuss his asserted crime, according to Sheriff Hill.

RAILROAD HELPERS GET PAY INCREASE

BAKERSFIELD, April 18.—Two hundred employees of the Southern Pacific Railroad in Bakersfield and approximately 600 in the San Joaquin division are to receive immediate increases in salary as the result of the United States Labor Board of Arbitration ruling giving freight handlers and station employees an average increase of 8 per cent over their present salaries.

According to the local Southern Pacific office, the increase is allowed employees affected will to become effective as of January 1. Employees affected will receive back pay to make up wage differences, it is said.

E. A. McMilland, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, San Joaquin Division, also received announcement of the increase in a telegram from a member of the arbitration board.

The increase was granted, it is said, as a result of dissatisfaction over an increase that became effective in 1924.

RAISE AVERAGE OF COTTON PRODUCTION

CALEXICO, April 18.—Cotton production in Lower California this season averaged two-thirds of a bale to the acre, according to figures available for the crop, which is now practically all ginned. The gin reports show that the total production amounted to 85,341 bales from approximately 133,000 acres.

The yield per acre was considerably higher than in 1925, when 160,000 acres produced only 83,000 bales. Manager H. H. Clark of the Colorado River Land Company attributes the increased production during the past year to more favorable growing weather and better methods of cultivation.

PRINTERS INCORPORATE

SAN FERNANDO, April 18.—The Sun Printing Company, 812 Porter avenue, publishers of the San Fernando Sun, is now incorporated with an authorized capital of $50,000, of which $40,000 is now paid up. Stockholders and officials of the company are: R. H. Glenn, president and manager; L. A. Glenn, vice-president and assistant manager, and K. K. Hooper, secretary and treasurer. R. H. Glenn purchased the San Fernando Sun five years ago from Arthur G. Munn. A partnership was formed a year ago with L. H. Glenn and K. K. Hooper and the San Fernando Leader was purchased from Holden & Knapp, the two papers consolidating under one head.

MONTEREY PARK, April 18.—The school orchestra idea has invaded even the kindergarten at the Monterey Vista grammar school. The children have organized a "kinderband," which is composed entirely of pupils of the kindergarten rooms. The young musicians keep perfect time, as their teacher plays their favorite songs on the piano.

Whatever risck of technique is apparent is more than made up in the wide variety of instruments which the children play. The drum is about the only orthodox instrument in the orchestra. The others have been made by the children themselves from boxes and cans and other articles of the kindergarten workshop.

Masons Attend Annual Meet at Santa Barbara

GLENDALE, April 18.—Members of the Masonic order in Glendale will leave early tomorrow morning to attend the meeting in Santa Barbara of the Grand Chapter of California, Royal Arch Masons, Grand Council, Royal and Select Masons and the Grand Commandery, Knights Templars.

The delegation from Glendale, Unity Chapter, No. 116, R.A.M., will include Mattison B. Jones, Past High Priest of Unity Chapter, Past High Grand Priest of California and a member of the Grand Chapter of the United States, and Past High Priests Alvin Slow, Robert Slauson, Frederick A. Collins, Ben O. Hagen, Charles A. Parker and John Harding King.

The delegates from Glendale Commandery, No. 53, Knights Templar, will consist of Hartley Taylor, Commander; Dr. R. Y. Hogue, Past Commander; Glen Moore, Past Commander; William McMillan, Captain-General; S. S. Gilhuly, Generalissimo; Tom Wood, Senior Warden; C. C. Rittenhouse, Past Commander, and others. The Glendale Commandery's drill team, led by Thomas D. Watson, will take part in the competition that is to be held on Friday.

SHIP OUT VALENCIAS FROM TULARE COUNTY

PORTERVILLE, April 18.—The lid is lifted this week on Valencia shipments from Central California as result of action at a recent session of the Central California Citrus League in Lindsay. About 550 cars are expected to move to market this week through the league. Of this from 400 to 450 cars are going from Tulare county, according to W. E. Sprott of Porterville, secretary- manager of the Tulare County Fruit Exchange.

Output for the season is estimated at around 3100 cars and fruit this year is said to be the highest grade marketed from Tulare county in many seasons. Prospects are promising for good prices during the entire season, if distribution is managed intelligently, according to Sprott. The season should last until about the middle of June.

CHINESE GIRL TO DETENTION HOME

HANFORD, April 18.—Daisy Young, pretty 17-year-old Chinese high school girl of this city, convicted of assisting a smuggling ring in bringing opium from San Francisco to this city, who was arrested in Oakland on that charge, will remain in the Ming Quong home in Oakland, conducted by Miss Donaldina Cameron, until the girl is 21.

Her mother, an aged and sickly woman, was fined $500 in the United States District Court at San Francisco, last Saturday, having pleaded guilty to violating the narcotic law. Chong Wah got six months and Lo Cheung one year in jail and Edward Stetson, former Seattle immigration inspector, is yet to be tried.

W.C.T.U. MEETS TOMORROW

Los Angeles City Federation, W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow in the Chamber of Commerce Building. The morning session at 10:30 o'clock includes business and the latest reports of the "drive" from the generals of the various unions. Municipal Judge Wilson will speak. The afternoon session opens at 1:30 o'clock. There will be addresses by Municipal Judges Stafford, Sheldon, Bullock, Valentine and Bush, and Boyle Workman and C. D. Strickler.

BATH INSTEAD OF HOUSE RENT

Boys Cool Ardor of Irate Landlord Who Wanted His Money

NEWPORT BEACH, April 18. Fifty high-school and college boys from Riverside, Pasadena and Long Beach who spent a week on Balboa island rented a house from Herman Hilmer. The boys found themselves penniless Saturday night.

Hilmer, not to be deprived of a week's rent, gathered up the boys' clothing when they went swimming and held them as security. Not desirous of returning home naked the boys broke into Hilmer's home, retrieved their clothes and then to satisfy a grudge against the man threw him into the bay. The boys are home today, the owner was in bed at noon still trying to get warm.

EISTEDDFOD TO USHER IN MUSIC WEEK

Contests at Redlands to Include Work in Art, Drama and Dance

REDLANDS, April 18.—A week of music in Redlands will begin tomorrow when the San Gorgonio district Eisteddfod contest in art, drama, dance and music will be held. The district includes Redlands, Riverside, Colton, Beaumont and Banning.

The contest opens with the orchestra, band, dance and wood-wind instrument contests. These will be held at the Wyatt Theater tomorrow night, with orchestra coming first, elementary union high, senior high school and church orchestra, then the dance contests, then the high-school band contests and finally the wood-wind contests, clarinets, flute and "woods." Mrs. Rodney Cranmer and Miss Ollie Irwin will be in charge.

Wednesday morning the violin contests, continued in the afternoon, and choirs and pipe-organ contests at the Congregational Church Wednesday evening. The vocal contests will occupy all day Thursday, in charge of Prof. W. B. Olds. That evening the drama and glee-club contest will be held. Margaret Walsh and Col. Junius Pierce are in charge. The art exhibit will be held Friday, also the speaking contests and that evening the literature contests.

The piano contest will be held on Saturday with Annette Claridge and Grace Eaton in charge and the choral contests on Saturday evening with Walter McIntosh in charge.

Harold Harris of this city is general chairman, Mrs. Leo Daun, vice-chairman; Miss Geneva Mae Costello, secretary, and Jay C. Sexton, treasurer. Directors are Martha MacKenzie, San Bernardino; Mrs. M. B. Porter, Riverside; Mrs. J. E. Butler, Colton; Mrs. Margaret Hazen, Beaumont; Mrs. R. H. Coombes, Banning; J. J. Prendergast, Mrs. Rodney Cranmer, Mrs. H. O. Smith, Miss Ollie Thorn and Col. Junius Pierce.

Weber to Make Final Attempt at Mt. Whitney

BAKERSFIELD, April 18.—Hank Weber and his guide and dogs are making their final attempt to scale the peak of Mt. Whitney today. Early this morning they struck out from their base camp at Lone Pine Creek and headed toward the higher levels, struggling through fluffy and loosely packed snow left on the mountain by a storm that swirled about the peak Saturday.

Two times defeated, Weber declared before he left today that if he fails in this attempt he will pack up and go home. Hank says that he has suffered from the cold, and that Saturday night, preparing for the final dash, he suffered more than ever.

If he gets to the top Weber will be the first man ever to have reached the 14,501-foot summit in midwinter, and if he fails he will merely join the ranks of a score or more American and European mountain climbers who have failed.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF EL MONTE PIONEER

EL MONTE, April 18. — Mrs. Minerva B. Dodson, the one remaining pioneer living in this locality, will celebrate her eighty-seventh anniversary birthday Thursday, the 21st inst. She came to El Monte when a girl of 12, and has passed practically all her life in this locality. Mrs. Dodson's birthday anniversary is also the seventy-fifth anniversary of the arrival of the wagon train to the present site of El Monte and the driving of the first location stakes by the pioneers.

Last year Mrs. Dodson was serenaded by the High School Band and scores of El Monte citizens called during the day to pay her their respects. This year many have announced their intention of observing the day in a similar manner. Mrs. Dodson is recuperating from a recent severe illness.

VALLEY RANCHERS TO ATTEND DAM MEETING

EL CENTRO, April 18.—Arrangements are being made here for a large delegation of valley ranchers and business men to motor to Las Vegas on Friday to be present at the annual meeting of the Boulder Dam Association to be held near the site of the project.

According to plans announced at the offices of the Imperial Irrigation District, the Imperial Valley caravan is to join motorists from other parts of Southern California at San Bernardino, where a banquet will be held Friday night. On the following morning the entire delegation is to leave for the dam site.

IN FEBRUARY, 1864, A UNION ARMY UNDER ... BANKS, AND PORTER'S GUNBOAT FLEET STARTED ON A CAMPAIGN TO WREST TEXAS ... THE CONFEDERATES. THE JOINT EXPE... MOVED BY WAY OF THE RED RIVER WITH THE OBJECT OF SEIZING VAST STORES OF ... ALONG ITS BANKS, AND OF SEIZING ... PORT, LA., WHERE GEN. BANKS WAS TO ... JOINED BY A UNION ARMY FROM ARKANSAS.

IN MARCH, FEDERAL TROOPS TOOK FORT DE RUSSY AND OCCUPIED ALEXANDRIA. THE MOVEMENT TOWARD SHREVEPORT WAS THEN PUSHED WITH ALL SPEED AS THE RED RIVER IS NAVIGABLE AT THAT POINT FOR ONLY A FEW WEEKS IN THE SPRING.

ON APRIL 8TH, 1864, THE UNION ADVANCE WAS CHECKED AT SABINE CROSS ROADS BY A CONFEDERATE ARMY UNDER GEN. "DICK" TAYLOR. THE UNION ARMY RETREATED, AND THE FLEET TURNED BACK DOWN THE RIVER, LOSING SEVERAL VESSELS ON THE WAY. TAYLOR, JOINED BY KIRBY SMITH, PURSUED THE FEDERALS, BUT WAS REPULSED AT THE BATTLE OF PLEASANT HILL. BANKS, HOWEVER, ABANDONED THE CAMPAIGN AND CONTINUED TO RETREAT.

IN DESCENDING THE RIVER, PORTER'S ENTIRE FLEET NARROWLY ESCAPED DISASTER. REACHING THE FALLS ABOVE ALEXANDRIA, THEY FOUND THE RIVER HAD FALLEN SO LOW THAT THERE WAS NOT SUFFICIENT DEPTH OF WATER TO FLOAT THE BOATS OVER. TO MEET THIS EMERGENCY, COL. BAILEY, OF THE U. S. ENGINEERS, IN 3 DAYS BUILT A DAM WHICH BACKED UP ENOUGH WATER TO CARRY THE SHIPS OVER THE RAPIDS AND DOWN THE RIVER TO SAFETY.

ACTRESS IN COURT FIGHT WITH AGENT

Employment Set Forth in Suit Never Obtained for Her, Says Alma Rubens

A suit for $1166.66 against Alma Rubens, motion-picture actress, which has been in the Superior Court since April 27, 1925, was submitted to Judge Valentine yesterday following the motion of Miss Rubens's attorney, Alexander F. Sokolow, that a nonsuit be granted.

The suit was brought by F. Nigg, who averred that the $1166.66 claim had been assigned to him by the Edward Small Company, which had obtained employment for the actress in 1925.

In her answer Miss Rubens denied that the Edward Small Company had ever obtained employment for her or that she was indebted to them.

Nigg was represented by Attorney J. Allan Frankel.

Mrs. Walker on Stand in Charge Against Agent

Testimony against Carl Raentsch, Hollywood real-estate man, was given yesterday in Judge Hardy's court by Mrs. Winifred Walker, socially prominent Santa Barbara woman who accuses Raentsch of embezzling $50,000.

Mrs. Walker said she gave Raentsch power of attorney during her visit to Europe and charges that he increased loans on three pieces of property and appropriated the money, which was to have been used to pay taxes and assessments.

Charges against J. L. Olsen, named jointly with Raentsch in a second indictment, were dismissed several days ago. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Scheinman is prosecuting the case against Raentsch.

RITES SET FOR DIVINE

Rev. William Warren Curtis's Funeral to be Conducted Tomorrow

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. from the Eagle Rock Presbyterian Church for Rev. William Warren Curtis, 83 years of age, retired Presbyterian minister, who died Sunday morning at his home, 1834 Woodrow avenue, Eagle Rock, following a short illness. Rev. Benjamin M. Nyce, acting pastor of the church, will officiate.

Before moving to Los Angeles six years ago, Dr. Curtis was prominent in church affairs of Wichita, Kan. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Katherine E. Curtis. The remains will be shipped to Kansas for burial.

The 1927 British Industries Fair had more exhibitors than in several years.

MASONS TO SHOW FILM

The Masonic Club of Los Angeles will present a travelogue of the South Seas by Phillip C. Hall at its clubrooms, Thursday night, at 9 o'clock. There will be four reels of film, depicting life among the natives of Hawaii, Figi and other South Sea groups.

The Co-operative Wholesale Society of Great Britain now has nearly 4,000,000 members with nearly $400,000,000 net sales a year, while its banking department handles nearly $3,000,000,000 in business each twelve months.

Aged Slowly Since 1847

CONNOISSEURS of rare old wines know that slow ageing has much to do with the full mellow bouquet they prize so highly.

Makers of cheap extracts—they are not cheap in the long run—cannot wait for their products to age properly.

Slow ageing has much to do with the preference of the discriminating for Burnett's flavors.

"ARABESQ"

Armstrong's Newest Idea
an ultra-modern floor
at a surprisingly low cost

Openwork designs in which the colored linoleum base becomes part of the pattern. "Arabesque" decorations applied in low relief—a new surface texture.

IF there's a floor in your house that is old and worn; if your present floor covering is a trifle shabby—then this new idea of Armstrong's designers spells love at first sight.

Armstrong's Arabesq Linoleum is an entirely new kind of linoleum floor.

The base is Armstrong's Jaspé or Armstrong's Plain Linoleum in pleasing tones of gray, tan, blue, green. The decorations are cleverly applied with heavy oil colors so that the background peeps through as a regular part of the pattern.

Here is a new surface effect—an effect of actual low relief. A surface that sparkles with bright color, cheerful color; an easy-to-keep-clean surface—for dust and dirt rest lightly on it—ready to be whisked away under your dust mop.

Different in idea. Different in beauty. Different in its low price. Make it a point to see Armstrong's Arabesq and other new Armstrong patterns when you shop this week.

Inset Jaspé—Marble tiles. Also NEW notes

If you like Armstrong's Jaspé Linoleum with its two-toned ripple effect, you will like Armstrong's Inset Jaspé Linoleum.

Neat figures have been inserted at regular intervals in the open field, giving an appearance hitherto obtained only by a painstaking hand operation. The result is a floor that gives character to the largest of rooms without being at all obtrusive. Also ask to see Armstrong's Marbleized Tiles—a new graining effect in genuine inlaid linoleum.

Laid without bother for a lifetime of wear

Floors of Armstrong's Inlaid Linoleum require only proper laying—to be cemented, not tacked—and an occasional waxing, to make them good for a score of years. All inlaid patterns are double-pressed to insure a smooth surface, tiles neatly lined up, the whole floor waxed to a velvety finish—ready to be put down in your home.

Simple plans for home-decorating
by Hazel Dell Brown

"The Attractive Home—How to Plan Its Decoration" describes this noted decorator's suggestions for rooms of unusual beauty based on pattern floors of Armstrong's Linoleum. Colorplates of model interiors and photographs illustrate her interesting story. Many patterns are shown in full color. Sent upon receipt of ten cents.

JASPÉ RUGS

Something never made before

JASPÉ rugs—another exclusive Armstrong idea. Really they are a combination of new ideas.

The body is Armstrong's Jaspé Linoleum in two-toned grays, blues, greens, rose. To this interesting surface is applied an open border with varied corner decorations.

The good qualities of these rugs go further. Backed with heavy jute burlap, they lie flat without tacking. The easiest of all rugs to clean—a damp mop turns the trick. Each rug carefully waxed before shipping.

A range of sizes and colorings. Price tags marked low. We think you will like Armstrong's Jaspé Rugs as a new idea in smooth-surface rugs.

HAVE YOU

MOTION PICTURE PERSONALITY

Perhaps unknown to yourself you have this wonderful screen quality—few of those who have it suspect its presence—but screen tests can be taken. In our annual search for new faces, new personality and types this STUDIO is offering without cost or obligation a to all men, women and children over 5 yrs. of age during the week of April 19th to 26th, 1927.

If you are a woman and beautiful—or a man and handsome—so much the better. But if you have a degree of ambition, a willingness to work and can screen well, then the motion-picture world lies at your feet whether or not you are good looking. Remember that only a will show your possibilities and we are offering you free of charge and without obligation this opportunity for one week only, April 18 to 23 inclusive. Remember! No fees. Come E. Ince, President of John E. Ince Productions, will supervise all screen tests.

Fill in coupon and bring or mail to STUDIO, Lake Santa Monica car at Sunset Blvd. bus to 6069 Block.

FUNERAL OF SLAIN CLERK TO BE TODAY

Requiem High Mass Will be Said at Services for Woman Victim of Jealousy

Final rites for Marybelle Wallace, 29-year-old Los Angeles Senate journal clerk, who was slain in the State Capitol building at Sacramento on the 14th inst., by a jealous suitor twice her age, will be conducted at 9 a.m. today with requiem high mass from the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, 6657 Sunset Boulevard.

Miss Wallace was killed in the State House by Harry Hill, 61, a lobbyist from this city, who fired three shots into her body and then committed suicide.

The remains of Hill were sent from the capital yesterday for burial here, having been claimed by a brother, William Hill of Tillamook, Or.

Interment of Miss Wallace will be in Calvary Cemetery. Pierce Brothers, funeral directors, will be in charge.

Miss Wallace leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wallace of 219 North Rampart avenue; five sisters, Mrs. Leo McCreary, Mrs. Thomas R. Johnson, Joetha, Harriet and Kathleen, and three brothers, Angus, John and Thomas, Jr.

CORONER'S VERDICT RENDERED IN SHOOTING

SACRAMENTO, April 18. (AP)—Marybelle Wallace, 29 years of age, Senate journal clerk who was killed by Harry (Ronald J.) Hill, a rejected suitor in a shooting affray at the State Capitol last Thursday "died of gunshot wounds inflicted by Harry Hill," a Coroner's jury decided here tonight. In Hill's case the verdict was that he died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

The proceedings conducted by Coroner James T. Garlick were perfunctory throughout. The only new witness testifying was Miss J. D. Wilcox, a professional nurse who attended Hill for a week prior to the murder and suicide. She testified Hill appeared rational when talking on any subjects except those in which Miss Wallace was involved, but when questioned as to the nature of his remarkms in reference to her she said she could remember nothing he said. Miss Wilcox, however, did say she feared for her own safety and searched the room for a weapon which she failed to find.

The other witnesses included Harold J. Powers, Senate minute clerk; Senator Charles W. Lyon of Los Angeles, whom Hill had threatened to kill the day before he killed Miss Wallace and then ended his life; Mrs. Carrie A. Garrison, Senate file clerk; James O. Bishop, San Francisco, a friend of Hill, and Guy P. Johnson, Chief Deputy District Attorney, whom Miss Wallace had asked three hours before she was killed to issue a warrant for her admirer's arrest.

DOCTORS TO HEAR TALKS ON ETHICS

Laws of Hippocrates to be Discussed at Session of Medical Association

Principles of medical ethics as laid down by the American Medical Association, many of which date back to 400 years B.C., were assigned a prominent place in the program of the California Medical Association's fifty-sixth annual convention, which opens in the Biltmore next Monday for four days, according to an announcement yesterday by Dr. Harlan Shoemaker of the Bank of Italy, member of the committee on convention arrangements.

DR HARLAN SHOEMAKER

Many of the speakers in dwelling on the ethics of the medical profession, Dr. Shoemaker said, will bring up laws of procedure as laid down by Hippocrates, famed Greek moralist and physician, who is known as the father of medicine.

With 4000 California physicians due at the conference, it was pointed out that the moral side of the convention will have a far-reaching effect. Morals and medicine go hand in hand, Dr. Shoemaker declared.

As the California, as well as the Los Angeles county, medical associations are directly aligned with the American Medical Association, every member of the two smaller organizations, it was declared, is bound by the precepts of the national society.

CRYER ASKS CITY TO USE NEW BROOM

Clean-up and Paint-up Week Officially Starts in Los Angeles

If the program for Clean-up and Paint-up Week is carried out as planned, Los Angeles should be the best groomed city in the country by the end of the week.

Under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce the program of refurbishing and retouching was officially started yesterday with a proclamation by Mayor Cryer calling upon all citizens to give their support and active assistance to the campaign for administering general tidying-up to the city.

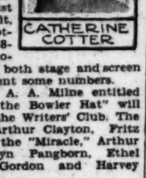
In the schools each pupil is given a scorecard on which are kept records of various forms of cleaning up that they may do in and around their homes.

Mrs. James B. Lorbeer, district president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, has sent word to all of the clubs in the district to give their co-operation to the campaign with the result that the members of seventy-eight clubs are undertaking personally conducted campaigns right in their own homes.

Boy Scouts are making it their work to scour the city to find places that have been overlooked and brighten them up.

Add New Stars to Program for Allied Artists

New numbers are being added to the program already arranged for "Allied Artists' Nite" to be held at the Philharmonic Auditorium on Tuesday evening, May 3, by the Hollywood Temple Beth-El, according to Harry Segal in charge of the affair.



CATHERINE COTTER

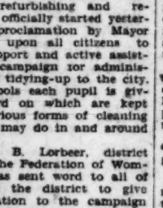
In addition to the list of celebrities who already have pledged themselves to assist in this benefit, Catherine Cotter, talented 8-year-old monologue artist of both stage and screen fame, will present some numbers.

A sketch by A. A. Milne entitled "The Man in the Bowler Hat" will be put on by the Writers' Club. The cast includes Arthur Clayton, Fritz Feld, lately of the "Miracle," Arthur Lubin, Franklyn Pangborn, Ethel Wales, Grace Gordon and Harvey Thew.

The services of James Young, director and actor, have been obtained for an act from one of Shakespeare's plays and Georgie Stone's "Rolling Stone" and Sammy Cohen will also give a number.

Spanish War Veterans Greet National Chief

Greeted by the same shrill noise of fife and drum that marked the days of '98, Dr. Rice W. Means of Denver, national commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, arrived in Los Angeles last night for a twenty-four hour inspection of the various Spanish War veteran's organization here.



DR RICE W. MEANS

Dr. Means will confer today with officials of Roosevelt Camp No. 9, U. S. V. R., and other Spanish War bodies and will be the honor guest at a banquet of the veterans' organization at the Alexandria tonight.

Several score members of the Spanish War bodies joined in the welcome to Dr. Means at the Southern Pacific station last night along with the Department of California fife and drum corps.

Among the veterans who met Dr. Means were Douglas E. Foster, past commander of Roosevelt Camp; Judge R. Morgan Galbreth, past State commander, and A. C. Munson.

Dr. Means was accompanied by his aide, Adjt.-Gen. A. McD. Brooks.

CARGO TRAFFIC GAIN FORECAST

Best Year for Intercoastal Trade Predicted

Agent of Munson-McCormick Optimist on Future

Says Movement of Lumber to East Unusually Heavy

The movement of lumber and general cargo from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic seaboard during 1927 will be the biggest in the history of intercoastal shipping, according to Capt. John Halvorsen, traveling superintendent of the Munson-McCormick Lines and Pacific Coast representative of the Munson Steamship Company, who yesterday arrived at the local port for a survey of the McCormick terminals. The present phenomenal increase on eastbound traffic will continue for the next six months, he predicted.

"The lumber movement to the Atlantic this year is so great that every mill in the Northwest is being taxed to its limit to meet the demand," said Capt. Halvorsen. "Offers for chartered bottoms, at the present high rate of $14 per 1000 feet, are going begging on account of the scarcity of ships."

Capt. Halvorsen pointed also to the steady growth of cargo traffic from California ports to the east coast. Yesterday, there were four McCormick steamers, the Wallingford, Indiana Harbor, Munrio and J. C. Kirkpatrick discharging and loading at the local terminals a total of 4000 tons of freight.

M. A. Richley, terminal superintendent of the Munson-McCormick organization, yesterday announced that a total of fifty-one steamers are now being operated out of Pacific ports by the company in coastwise and offshore traffic. A schedule is maintained whereby one to three McCormick ships sail from Los Angeles Harbor daily.

This immense fleet, totaling approximately 327,000 net tons, includes twenty coastwise ships, six steamers in the east coast of South America service, nine in intercoastal trade, five vessels in Gulf-Pacific service, and eleven steamers in coastwise trade out of San Francisco.

Capt. "Midnight" Olsson, who yesterday brought the McCormick steamer, Indiana Harbor, in from Portland with 1200 tons for this port, reported encountering a 100-mile northwest gale off Point Reyes.

CONTENDER FOR YACHT HONORS GIVEN TO WATER

Robert Dematties's new stay-sail rigged schooner, La Volpe, expected to be a sensation for speed in the forty-five-foot yacht races, was yesterday commissioned at the Wilmington Boat Works. She will have her first try-out on the afternoon of the 22nd inst., when she enters a match race with Smith and Angelmann's record-smashing schooner, Ocean Waif. The two boats will race over a triangular course off the port on the afternoon of the 23rd, and on the following day will stage a fifty-mile race to Avalon and return.

The Norwegian steamer Kalfarli, under charter to W. L. Coyne, arrived yesterday from Europe and took bunkers here. She is en route to Puget Sound, where she will load 2,000,000 feet of lumber and a grain cargo for three Japanese ports.

The craze for motion pictures of the sea will bring the production of four or more pictures to the local harbor during the next month, employing a veritable fleet of old-time windjammers.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is at work on "The Trail of '98," dealing with the Alaskan gold rush, using the bark Narwhal and the old steamer Waimea. The F.B.O. studios will soon begin work on a new whaling production, and for this picture two of the old forty-foot sailing sealing launches, used in the Bering Sea thirty years ago, arrived yesterday on the liner Humboldt.

Today the old sealing schooner Alice is due from Seattle, to be used in the filming of "Twelve Miles Out," while on May 15 Hobart Bosworth will begin work on "The Blood Ship" for Columbia Productions.

George Reed, famous globe-trotter, arrived at the port yesterday aboard the Norwegian motorship Brandanger, after having circumnavigated South America aboard the ship. He was accompanied by Mrs. Reed. The Brandanger brought in from Buenos Aires and Santos 1200 tons of cargo for local consignees, including 5000 bags of coffee.

W. G. Holliday, Shanghai manager of the Dollar Steamship Line, was at the harbor yesterday on a survey of the port as part of the inspection he is making of all Pacific Coast ports while on furlough from his post in the Orient.

Mr. Holliday said that oriental shipping men believe that the trouble in South China and along the Yangtze has reached its crisis and that no further hindrance to foreign shipping will be felt. He was shown about the port yesterday by Edgar Wilson, general agent for the Dollar Line in Southern California.

The Point Montara, recently purchased from the United States Shipping Board by Swayne & Hoyt for Gulf-Pacific service, will be brought here from the east coast by Capt. Harry Krog. It was announced yesterday. Capt. Krog, a San Pedro resident, is now master of the American-Australia-Orient liner West Nivaria from Melbourne March 19 for Los Angeles. He will go east immediately upon arrival, it was said.

Charles Houghton, local marine insurance underwriter, received advices yesterday that the motorship Huntress, bringing the crew of the wrecked fisheries tender Westerner here from San Jose del Cabo, has been delayed by the continued northwest gales off the west coast. The Huntress was due yesterday but will not arrive until tomorrow, partly on account of the heavy weather and because she stopped at Santa Margarita Island for a survey of the wrecked tender.
